

Hostess At Dinner Party

Mrs. Marshall E. Cornett, director of Tau chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, entertained members at a dinner party in her home, 2043 Lacey, on Tuesday evening. Buffet dinner was served from a beautifully appointed table, centered with clusters of red carnations in lacy frills, forming a large Valentine, and guests were seated at quarter tables.

Following the dinner, court whist was enjoyed, with prizes going to Mrs. Don Miller, Jean Ostendorf and Frances Balin.

Present at the delightful affair were: Mrs. John Feedback, Mrs. George Wright, Mrs. Loyal Heath, Mrs. Patricia Fairchild, Mrs. Steven Sabo Jr., Mrs. Jules Napier, Lois Rumer, Doris McCord, Jean Ostendorf, Mrs. Warren Poole, Mrs. Don Miller, Mrs. Lloyd Smith, Frances Balin, Mrs. George Wardell, Mrs. Gail Webb, Mrs. Don Smith, Mrs. William Tavenner and Mrs. Cornett. Guests of the chapter were Eva Rae Jacobson and Mrs. Robert Puckett.

The next regular meeting will be held in the home of Jean Ostendorf, 519 Pacific Terrace, on Tuesday, February 24, at 8 p. m.

Two Plays

Violets—because they're our favorite flowers—to the cast of "He," which has performed over and over again one of the best plays we've seen in a long time. Players in the Eugene O'Neill one-act play are members of Mrs. B. B. Blomquist's advanced group at Klamath Union high school and they turned in a bang-up job at the performance we saw Tuesday night in the Little Theatre off Monclair.

Even sitting in the front row, and the dramatic effect is so much better 'way back, the cast was more than convincing, and we felt that each player deserved a special bit of praise from the muttering mutineers to the leads.

Last Tuesday night's play was the eleventh performance for the group and it was fresh enough to be the first and yet sparked of mature interpretation. Bud Selby was the captain, Stan Smith the first mate, Lee Goode, the steward, and Dick Griffiths, the cabin boy. The only female role, that of the captain's wife, was played by Marilyn O'Neill, and members of the crew were, Lewis Ankeny, Alfred Braun, John Baker, Bill Harper and John Baker. Mel Stoecklin was the announcer.

High tribute goes to Mrs. Blomquist and the cast, each and every one.

"He" was followed by an excellent one-act play, "I Know George Washington," presented by the drama group of AAUW, and bouquets to these players, as well. Mrs. Blomquist also directed this play, the setting of which was laid during the Revolutionary war, and proved 30 minutes of splendid entertainment. Those who have seen the AAUW drama section's plays in the past are always on hand to see the work of this group and never yet has it been a disappointment. Instead, they always reward with delightful playing. Members of the cast included Julia Zumwalt, Irma Wauchope, Nye Patterson, Margaret Larkin, Emma Jane Bannister, Helen O'Neill and Pat Erlandson.

CADET BETTE J. NEIPP, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Neipp of 2725 Gettle street, was graduated Friday, February 14, from Sacred Heart hospital at Eugene. Graduation exercises were held at St. Mary's church in the valley city.

Students Attend Press Conference

Queen Visits

An affair of great interest here is the visitation of the Daughters of the Nile Supreme Queen Grace Cost of Sacramento. Mrs. Cost will pay a visit to the Klamath Falls club on Friday, February 28, and the Daughters of the Nile are making plans for an elaborate affair in her honor.

On that afternoon a tea will be arranged for Mrs. Cost's pleasure in the Pelican party room, hours from 2 to 4 o'clock. Mrs. George Adler is chairman of the affair. Mrs. Osborn is in charge of decorations, and Mrs. Phillip Cole and Mrs. Leo N. Huls the tea refreshments. There will be more about it later.

Shower

Mrs. Arthur Moore and Mrs. Eugene Bailey were hostesses at a prettily appointed shower given Wednesday at the Moore home, 935 Newcastle, in honor of Mrs. Alfred Carlson.

An arrangement of pink angel hair with miniature lambs and arrangements of sweet peas decorated the mantle in the living room.

Games were enjoyed with refreshments served later to Mrs. Carlson, Mrs. Fred Royer, Mrs. Carrol Colvin, Mrs. Harry Goeller Jr., Mrs. Oscar Anderson, Mrs. Jean Houston, Olive Mason, Mrs. Lawrence Clocksin, Mrs. Norman Fraley, Mrs. Harold Uglum, Mrs. Howard Pennell, Mrs. Fred Goeller, Mrs. Sol Wirth, Mrs. Don Divens and Mrs. Innis Roberts.

Roosevelt PTA will observe Founders Day Tuesday with a program and tea at 2:30 o'clock. All mothers are invited.

Guild Meets

Members of the Guild of St. Paul's Episcopal church met Tuesday evening of this week in the parish hall and discussed the program of the coming months.

At the next meeting, Tuesday, February 25, the program chairman, Miss Olive Wilson, will outline the meetings to come.

Birthday

Ulyssa Balentine, whose sixth birthday occurs Sunday, February 16, was honored Friday afternoon with a St. Valentine's Day party as well as anniversary celebration when her mother, Mrs. U. S. Balentine, entertained at their home on Eldorado.

Valentine decorations were used on the refreshment table and mothers who called for their small fry were served coffee at half past four o'clock. Guests honoring Ulyssa included Sarah, Susan and Jimmy Porter, George and Adele Goehring, David Major, Tommy Shaw, Becky Whytal and Susan Rhinehart.

Potluck Supper

Parents, friends, Cub Scouts and Boy Scouts gathered for a bountiful potluck supper in Roosevelt school Tuesday night when troop 3 and the dens were honored. Dale Throckmorton, Scout leader, conducted the meeting which followed supper in the cafeteria.

Mrs. Kenneth G. Klahn was chairman of supper plans.

Members of the social club of Prosperity Rebekah lodge met in the IOOF hall Wednesday for a no-hostess potluck luncheon, attended by 17. Nettie Good, vice president, was in charge of the business meeting in the absence of Lora Evans, president, and there was a general discussion as to buying a clock for the lodge hall. The next meeting, February 26, will be a dessert luncheon and the hostesses will be Ada Wilits and Arlon Andrus.
