

Gerene Tipton Is Virginia Bride

A wedding of interest here took place December 6 in the old Methodist church in Williamsburg, Virginia, when Thelma Gerene Tipton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Y. Tipton of London, Kentucky, formerly of this city, became the bride of Sidney Weston Ellingson, son of Mrs. Leonard Ellingson of Hillsboro, Oregon.

The new Mrs. Ellingson, recently discharged from the WAC, spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Klamath Falls as guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Epperson of 1004 First street and was complimented with a number of affairs during her brief stay. She left Wednesday night to rejoin her husband in Hillsboro and they plan to stop here in mid-March on their way to Los Angeles where they will make their home.

Mrs. Ellingson is a graduate of Klamath Union high school and Oregon State college and shortly after graduation took a position with the state motor vehicle accident commission in Salem. She was extremely active there in various clubs and in the civilian defense program in the early years of the war, and in April, 1943, enlisted in the WAC. She took her training at Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia, and later was stationed at Fort Eustis, Va., McGuire General hospital at Richmond, Va., and also at Fort Meade, Maryland. During the time she was in the army, she was detailed to secretarial work. Mr. and Mrs. Ellingson met following his return from overseas duty and he was also stationed in Virginia with the rank of sergeant. At that time Gerene held the rank of technical sergeant. Following their wedding they spent their honeymoon in old Williamsburg and also had a 10-day stay at the Statler in Washington, D. C. He was discharged in December and she in January. Before coming west, Mr. and Mrs. Ellingson visited Mr. and Mrs. Tipton, well known here, who have now retired to live in Kentucky, their former home. Mr. Ellingson is a commercial artist and will have his offices in Los Angeles.

Soroptimist

The Klamath Falls Soroptimist club met for a Valentine party Thursday noon at the Pelican party room. The tables were gayly decorated with fluffly Valentine dolls, and the interesting program was under the direction of Anne Rickle. A reading by Mary Brown, "White Walls," had a very particular appeal.

Ruth Howard of the Lakeview Soroptimist club was a guest at the meeting, and several members of the local Venture club were present with their sponsors.

Eight Years Old

The number eight figured largely in the life of Nolan Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Nelson, 1635 Main street, last Saturday. He was eight years old on February 8, and there were eight boys at the party given by his parents to celebrate the occasion.

Mrs. Nelson baked the three-layer birthday cake which was decorated with blue and white icing, eight blue candles and little candy ducks.

Nolan received many gifts and after the refreshments were served, took his friends to the theatre. His guests were Charles Carlson, Stanley Garvin, Allan Hahn, Lyle and Lynn Schaeffer, Richard Norland and James Swanson.

NICE LITTLE smile lights up the face of Carol, five-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Gunderson, 720 S. Riverside. Carol is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lichtenster of this city.

AAUW Meets

The Little Theatre off Mon Claire street played host on Saturday, February 8, to the Klamath Falls branch of AAUW and its guests with the presentation of two one-act plays, "He" by Eugene O'Neill, and "I Know George Washington" by Pauline Phelps.

"He," a presentation of Mrs. B. B. Blomquist's drama, is the story of a whaling vessel, named for a two-year period in the ice of the Bering Sea. The play reveals the emotional reactions of a mutinous crew, a stern, determined captain, and a devoted, sensitive wife—all hungering for home.

"I Know George Washington," presented by the drama section of AAUW, is a little known play, chosen for its appropriateness to the season and the opportunity it afforded the players for interpretation.

Tea was served in the Little Theatre by the Tea Tilters and their advisor, Louise Kelsey, following the presentation of the plays. The table was effective with its lace cloth, simulated cherry tree, figures of George and Martha Washington, and cherry-trimmed tea cakes.

The drama section presented its play on February 6, to the KLUH students on Monday, February 10, to the Klamath Falls Woman's Library club, and on Tuesday, to the public.

Jayceettes
Jayceettes gathered Wednesday evening at the chamber of commerce for a potluck supper followed by a brief business meeting, conducted by the president, Mrs. Bev Driggs, and a card party. Honors in bridge, pinocle and Tripoli went to Mrs. Cliff Sanders, Mrs. Wesley Guderian, Mrs. Martin Brauner, Mrs. Eldred Putnam and Mrs. Elton Smith.

Four new members joined the group, including Mrs. Eugene Williams, Mrs. James V. Kaler, Mrs. Frank Galbreath and Mrs. William Jeffercoat.

It was announced that the annual Founders Day banquet and dance will be held March 7.

Alpha Chapter

Initiation ceremony of the Alpha chapter of the Delta Kappa Gamma was held Saturday evening, February 8, at the home of Mrs. Bernice Elliott, 2234 Garden. The new members are Mrs. Fern Beck, KUHS instructor; Mrs. Beulah Elliott, instructor in the Merrill schools, and Mrs. Elida Fletcher of Mills school.

Borghild Mehlen gave a book review on Louise Baker's latest book, "Out on a Limb."

Refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Bernice Elliott, Mrs. Geraldine Owsley and Irma Wauchope.

Expected Home

From Coos Bay
Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harry S. Wood, pioneers of this city and residents of 1963 Auburn, are interested to learn that they are expected home the latter part of the week from Coos Bay where they have been with their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Schultz, formerly of Klamath Falls and Algoma. Mr. Schultz is assistant superintendent of the Coos Bay Lumber company and has just recently returned from a business trip which took him by plane to Alaska. Mr. and Mrs. Wood celebrated their 61st wedding anniversary at Christmas and left for Coos Bay on December 28.

Kindergarten

Members of the kindergarten group of Eve Benson's studio honored their mothers Friday morning with a Valentine party. They presented Valentines which they had made to the visitors and performed with the rhythm band, sang songs and recited poetry. Table work was also exhibited during the morning.

A beautifully decorated Valentine box was arranged to hold the sweet messages dedicated to the mammas.

Fremont Party

Girl Scouts of Troop 10 entertained friends with a dancing party Saturday last week, completing their dance badge, when they were hostesses in the Fremont school music room. The girls attend Fremont junior high and guests were their classmates. Both boys and girls wore sweaters and the sweater theme was used in decorations.

Refreshments were served later in the evening and two of the members, Ida Tenness and Catherine Pence, sang two numbers.

Miss Edna Bowman is troop leader and Mrs. Lowell Kaup is assistant leader. Miss Bowman, Mr. and Mrs. Kaup, Mrs. Patricia Hunt and Steve Peters were chaperones for the evening.

Father-Sons

The Elks have set Thursday night, February 27, as the annual Fathers and Sons night according to chairman of the committee, Vern Moore. There will be fun after the 7:45 business meeting and the young boys will take over where the old boys leave off. The program includes a Mickey Mouse picture and other films, ice cream and cake and a program.

Miriam Circle

Meets February 11
The Miriam circle of the Klamath Lutheran church met at the home of Mrs. Paul Anderson on February 11. Luncheon was served by the hostesses after which a short business meeting was held with Mrs. S. M. Toppness presiding. The program was presented by Mrs. O. K. Warcup.

Eugene Rites

A wedding of interest here took place January 18 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon when Maxine Clair McDonald, daughter of Mrs. Lucille A. McDonald of Eugene, exchanged vows with Allen R. Ackerman, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Marti, also of that city. The ceremony was read in the First Congregational church at Eugene with the Rev. Wesley Goodson Nicholson officiating.

Given in marriage by her brother, Justin A. McDonald of Klamath Falls, the bride wore a gold suit with black accessories. Her flowers were orchids. Mrs. Justin A. McDonald was her matron of honor and wore a grey suit. Her flowers were violets and rosebuds.

Donald H. Ackerman, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. An informal reception was held at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Delbert Feller of Portland, cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Donald A. Ackerman presided at the refreshment table. Following a wedding trip the young couple will be at home in the valley city.

Button Talk

Mrs. Pat Ivory gave a most interesting and instructive talk upon her collection of buttons before the business meeting of Catholic Daughters of America held in the parish hall Monday evening, February 10. Some of the buttons were exceptionally beautiful, and many had a very interesting history.

A regular business meeting followed, after which refreshments were served by Luana Smith, chairman, assisted by Winifred Quinn, Nancy and Nellie Murphy, and Mary McNeal. There was also a Valentine exchange among the members.

MARTHA
Shops and Shops

of teakwood carvings... made in and imported from French Indo-China... are attracting lots of attention at RICKY'S... and, being imports, Martha considers they're amazingly moderate in price.

Designed of a plastic material resembling lustrous, dark wood, these genuine reproductions of familiar carvings add distinction to a living room. Most charming of all, I think, is the head of a Balinese maiden... most exotic, the expressionless facial masks for wall hanging... and most familiar, the picturesque, big-beaked pelicans.

The Balinese display... in the downstairs store of RICKY'S JEWELERS... 700 Main... contains book-ends of all types... animal and bird figurines in pairs or singles, including five graduated sizes in elephants... and prices vary from $1.75 for the littlest elephant... up to $10.95.

New Lines

have been added to the already enticing array of giftables at FULLER'S GIFTS... a comparatively recent addition to South Sixth's expanding business center... and located in the Tower Theatre building.

The shop now has lovely costume jewelry... Chateaus sparkling with stones, brilliant pins and earrings, one, two or three-strand pearl necklaces... and those cleverly designed Karne and Unique compacts in both gold and silver.

Collectors of demi tasse sets... which haven't been exactly plentiful... will want to see Fuller's new arrivals in bone china cups and saucers.

FULLER'S GIFTS... 2635 South Sixth... which remains open evenings till 8 o'clock for your convenience... has also received a shipment of that outstanding Lustre Ware in figurines, vases and other items... decorated in beautiful, hand-painted florals.

Once A Year

the users of Tussy cosmetics and toiletries are given a grand opportunity at CURRIN'S to replenish their Cleansing Cream supply at a saving... either in the pink or emulsified types... and the opportunity is now here for the best selection in a long time of ready-made curtains and drapes.

RAYON panels... 21 and 23 yards in length... retail for $2.39 and $2.55 apiece... and the wide, ruffled panels, especially neat for bedrooms, are available in two good qualities, at $6.95 and $10.95 a pair. New shipments of Quaker lace panels included three types... the cobweb, border pattern and plain net... but if you'd rather make your own, there's nylon curtain yardage... 44 inches wide for $1.39... at MILLER'S.

Better Flavor

and a higher degree of safety have been added to LOST RIVER DAIRY milk by "flash pasteurization" so if you've been grumbling over the taste of pasteurized milk as compared to the nice, fresh, germ-laden stuff you drank on the farm... try quaffing this improved Lost River product and see if you agree with Martha that the flavor's more advanced.

This most advanced method... flash pasteurization... cuts processing time from 30 minutes to 16 seconds. Milk is heated to a temperature of 163 degrees, then cooled and bottled without any exposure to the air... the entire process being completely automatic, wherein lies the factor of greater safety.

LOST RIVER DAIRY... 1500 Esplanade... for several months now has been distributing in this area for those tasty Flavor-Pac frozen foods... all processed and grown in Oregon... which you'll find in numerous varieties in your grocer's freezing compartment.

of deep-tone denim... western styles for gals... with bright stitching and rivets... some having wide, turned-up cuffs favored by bronc riders... as well as just plain blue jeans are available again at WHYTAL'S... in the Medical-Dental building, Main at Ninth. They're all sanforized... and sizes range from 10 through 20.

Velling Keynotes

this Spring's headwear Martha definitely decided after another shopping tour in La-POINTE'S millinery department... transforming plain straw hats into extravaganza... adding seduction to simple felts.

From Designer Leslie James comes a rich, glossy brown off-the-face breton dripping with fish-net veiling and sleek ribbon... from Howard Hodges an unsway-side model on which fish-net forms the crown... and a Mexican sombrero style of beige China straw hides under swaths of chenille-dotted fish-net.

Also depicting the Mexican trend is a Fred A. Block original... a high-side sombrero of shining black straw, edged in red.

The first Bali Buntli hats to arrive at La-Pointe's since before the war include an open crown, off-the-face number with variegated green moline intricately folded around the brim... simple, but oh, so smart... and a quaint style... in black... patterned after the old padre hats.

Startlingly lovely are the pastel Knox felts... new and de-bonair shapes in the tailors'... others flaunting elaborate lace veils... and of interest, too, is the arrival at La-POINTE'S millinery department... 507 Main... of flower-trimmed hats in high styles for youthful matrons.

You Should Worry about the kitchen floor getting tracked now that PINE STREET MARKET is well stocked with Franklin's Rubber Gloss Wax... an anti-slip, high gloss, water resistant coating... easily applied and needs no polishing.

It's the Franklin Research Co. of Philadelphia that adds "Life" to fabrics by putting out this widely advertised shining product especially recommended for children's clothes... and, in addition to the Rubber Gloss Wax, produces other cleaning aids... Rubber Gloss Cleaner for floors that leaves a light protective film for the wax coat... and Franklin's Wax Polish for furniture which gives a glistening finish without hard rubbing... lasts 30 times longer. All are highly praised by those who've tried them... and all are available at the Market.

On the shelves again are Star Brand Imported Olive Oil in quart and pint... and that delicious, golden Trupak Pure Honey in one and two-pound tins... at PINE STREET MARKET... corner of Seventh and Pine.

Plaid Blouses

carrying the Tailor Made label... very different and clever as can be... are new at LONG'S! Fashioned of fine crepe soft as a pussywillow... these have small, narrow collars, card sleeves and button down the back. You have a choice of four unusual combinations in the diagonal plaids... cordial, lime and yellow, perfect for wearing with brown or gold suits... blue, cordial and April green to live on navy or green suits... fuchsia, maize and green or blue, beige and gray to contrast with hi-shades or gray.

New white blouse arrivals at LONG'S APPAREL... 719 Main... have an Easter look about them... lovely sheer batistes with intriguing lace insets between rows and rows of pin-tucking... tailored crepes with demure Peter Pan collars... and party mood silks with curlicues of gleaming braid down the front.

Nylon Anklets

in white and gray pastels with the fluffiness of angora... are new at WHYTAL'S... and they'll be greeted with a whoop by the Bobby Soxers. Boxes and boxes of those widely advertised, long-wearing Bonnie Doon anklets arrived, too... in practically every shade... including all-wools made in England... and those Kuschy sock the teen-agers have been waiting for from Germany. You'll find the anklets of all-nylon and the Bonnie Doon in the sportswear section at WHYTAL'S... in the Medical-Dental building.
