Enlistee

James Gordon Reed, Henley high school teacher, is the first non-veteran to be enlisted in the inactive naval reserve through the local recruiting office. He was sent to Portland January 31 for physical examination and was sworn in by the officer in charge February 1.

Truck Control System Used

Through what they call a "continuing control system of truck management" the West-Hitchcock corporation, with the White Motor company, has developed a detailed system enabling all users of motor trucks to increase their distribution of efficiency.

The plan is based, according to S. J. Anderson of the firm, on the control of three factors basic to the efficient use of trucks. These are, he said, correct application of the truck to the work it is to do, improved maintenance designed for each vehicle and better selection and training of drivers. Complete instructions for the control of each of the three factors have been prepared and are available at the company's offices, Anderson added.

Wildcatter To Start Drilling

OREGON CITY, Feb. 18 (AP)—Plans of a Mississippi wildcatter, Ivar Halstad, to drill for oil in Clackamas county were disclosed today.

Several farmers in the Oak Lawn and Yoder sections said Halstad had signed leases for prospecting rights. Halstad said confirmation of the land convinced him there were two oil and gas fields in the area. He did not say when drilling would begin.

Flashes Of Life

SATISFIED

TRURO, Mass., Feb. 18 (AP)—A deflationary note in an Inflationary world at last. Ernest Small, Truro auditor, yesterday rejected a raise offered by town officials. His salary of $40 a year was enough, he said.

STRANGE CREATION

CHICAGO, Feb. 18 (AP)—A two-toed sloth, which Director R. Marti Perkins of the Lincoln park zoo calls one of nature's strangest creations, was born at the zoo yesterday.

Perkins said the baby sloth was nine inches long, weighed 14 ounces and was born with eyes wide open, teeth intact, well developed claws and could move about under its own power.

Its mother showed no interest, Perkins said, and it was taken from her and placed in a special cage in the monkey house.
