

Harry K. Thaw's Turbulent Life Reaches Peaceful End

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 24 (AP)—The body of Harry K. Thaw, 76-year-old multi-millionaire whose turbulent life came to a peaceful close here Saturday night, started today to Pittsburgh for funeral rites and burial.

Thaw died of coronary thrombosis in the rented home where he had been living since last November 1.

Thaw first gained prominence when he inherited a fortune estimated at $40,000,000 from his father, a railroad magnate, and reaped notoriety through his marriage to Show-girl Evelyn Nesbit and his subsequent shooting of Stanford White on June 25, 1906.

White, one of the nation's leading architects, was shot on the roof garden of the old Madison Square Garden, as a result of alleged relations between White and Miss Nesbit prior to her marriage to Thaw.

Two trials followed the slaying, and Thaw was declared insane. After spending some time in an asylum, he gained his freedom and remained in the news through breach of promise and damage suits, night club escapades and expensive parties.

He tried producing motion pictures and sponsoring would-be feminine stars, but finally gave up when his efforts were not successful.

His story romance with Miss Nesbit, his only wife, was so buried in the past that she was not even listed as a survivor. Neither was Russell K. Thaw, Miss Nesbit's son whose parentage he contested.

HARRY K. THAW

Sidney Werner, Thaw's attorney, gave only two names as close survivors. They were Mrs. G. G. Whitney, a sister of Milton, Mass., and Lawrence Thaw, a nephew, of Connecticut.

At Atlantic City, where Miss Nesbit, now 61, resides, she was quoted as saying she had long since "forgotten and forgiven all unpleasantness, but would not attend his funeral."

BOYS DROWN

ST. HELENS, Feb. 24 (AP)—Bodies of Lloyd Emery Scott, 9, and his brother, Wesley Wayne, 5, were recovered from the Columbia river Saturday near the moorage where they tumbled into the water Friday while playing.

Chemurgy Group Meets Tuesday

A meeting of the Northwest Chemurgy cooperative stockholders is scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Merrill high school. Four directors will be chosen from among the stockholders. Two directors will be elected from Tulelake and two from Klamath county. Two of the four will be chosen to serve on the overall board for Northwest Chemurgy cooperative, which governs the operation of plants in Wenatchee, Wash., Ellensburg, Wash., and The Dalles, Ore., as well as operations here.

Finances of the local plant will be considered at the Tuesday meeting. Stockholders and others interested are urged to attend.

Farmers Pay Debts To US

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24 (AP)—Farmers in Oregon who have received farm ownership, water facility and farm operating loans since 1935 have shown themselves to be good risks. Some have repaid the loans before they became due.

Rep. Stockman (R-Ore.) was advised by Walter A. Duffy, state director of the farmers home administration of the agriculture department, that since the inauguration of the program 418 farm ownership loans have been made in Oregon totaling $2,486,398. He said principal payments amounting to $1,016,203 had been made, 139 farmers having repaid their loans completely and in less than ten years and many making the payments in advance of maturity.

Duffy told Stockman that in his congressional district 37 per cent of the applications for operating loans are coming from World War II veterans who have been unable to finance their projects from any other source. The state's initial fund for operating loans for the current fiscal year ending next July 1 are exhausted because of the veteran demands, Duffy said.

HOUSE PROWL
The residence of Hollis Wright, 720 Lowell, was entered some time Friday afternoon, according to state police. Listed as stolen are a .22-cal. rifle, a carton of .22 ammunition and about $12 in change.

Anglo-American Raids End Nazi Plot Against Russia

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
BERLIN, Feb. 24 (AP)—American and British authorities arrested more Germans during the night in squelching a reported nationwide Nazi plot to restore German armed might to "lead the nations of Europe against Russia."

The Nazi captives, including fugitive storm trooper officers, claimed to have a secret bacteriological weapon. A British announcement said the clean-up was "progressing smoothly," although snow and ice on roads handicapped raiding squads.

American and British intelligence agents were questioning the hundreds arrested, seeking information that would lead to minor plotters in a group overlooked or unknown before the swift raids of Saturday and Sunday broke the organization dedicated to a new totalitarian Germany.

American officials said headquarters of the subversive group apparently was in the British zone.

"There was very close liaison between the leaders in the British zone and the 30 high Nazis seized in American territory," one U. S. officer commented.

Those seized in the American zone, arrested at their homes, were found to possess false documents. Some used false names. The American officer said "we will have to break them down fully before we can think of trying them. All are liable to the death penalty as plotters."

Lakeview City Engineer Resigns

LAKEVIEW, Feb. 24—Walter E. Sandquist, who last week resigned his position as city engineer, will enter private practice as a civil engineer and surveyor when his resignation becomes effective March 10.

Tendered to the city council at its meeting February 11, the resignation was accepted for March 10 effect.

Sandquist said this week that he will continue his duties as county surveyor. In order to enter the private work, he had to give up the more confining position with the city.

County surveyor for the past seven years, Sandquist has held both the county and city posts for the past five years, becoming city engineer in 1942.
