

US May Ask Permanent Boundary Commission In UN To Watch Trouble Spots

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., March 13 (AP)—Authoritative sources said today that the United States may propose the establishment of a permanent United Nations boundary commission to watch over the trouble spots in the Balkans.

These sources said U. S. officials felt it may be advisable for such a commission to watch the borders of Greece, Yugoslavia, Albania, and Bulgaria for some time.

Such a step appeared to be tied in closely with President Truman's declaration on America's new foreign policy aimed at halting the world march of communism, especially in the Balkans.

There was no indication just how far the American delegation to the United Nations has gone toward drawing up a plan for a permanent UN boundary commission. But authoritative sources said it was under consideration.

An American delegation spokesman said the president's proposals to aid Greece would not conflict in any way with the efforts of the UN security council's Balkan inquiry commission now studying frontier conditions in Greece, Albania, Bulgaria and Yugoslavia.

The spokesman said the presence of the security council's commission would have a "stabilizing influence" in the border regions and would tend to thwart propaganda against members of American missions who would be sent to Greece under the president's plan.

Meanwhile, top UN authorities considered President Truman's appeal to congress for American aid to Greece and Turkey "too hot" for comment. It was met by what one informed source described as "apprehensive silence."

Delegates, however, did not consider the president's reference to the UN's inability to extend material and financial help to these two countries as any implication of America's lack of confidence in the United Nations.

Dinner Honors Political Scribe

SALEM, March 13 (AP)—Legislators, lobbyists and his fellow newspapermen honored Ralph Watson, veteran political writer for the Oregon Journal, at a testimonial dinner last night.

At the end of the current legislature, Watson will end his newspaper career which began when he joined the Journal staff in 1906. Watson worked for the Journal ever since, except for a term as private secretary to former Gov. Oswald West, and a term as the state's first corporation commissioner.

West, in the principal address last night, said Watson had "punctured the bubbles of many a fatuous politician." He was given a gold watch after the banquet.

Coast Oil Land Hearing Slated

WASHINGTON, March 13 (AP)—The supreme court hears arguments today on the government's long-disputed claim to submerged coastal oil lands worth billions.

Attorney General Tom C. Clark has asked the high tribunal to declare that the United States holds title to lands extending three miles seaward from the low-water mark along the California coast. The outcome of the case will determine ownership of this land belt off all the nation's coastline.

In addition to being the subject for years of conflicting claims by federal and state officials, the dispute touched off a public flareup in President Truman's cabinet last year which ended in Harold L. Ickes resignation as secretary of the interior.

Ickes testified before the senate naval committee that Edwin Pauley, California oilman, told him in 1944 that he could raise $300,000 in democratic campaign contributions if the government did not push its suit to gain possession of the submerged lands.

Hoof and Mouth Control Aid Asked

SALEM, March 13 (AP)—A memorial asking congress to pass legislation authorizing the United States to cooperate with Mexico in checking spread of hoof and mouth disease was introduced in the legislature today by the senate livestock committee.

Methodists Eye Site

SEATTLE, March 13 (AP)—Six prominent Methodists were en route home today after surveying Seattle's possibilities as the site for the Methodist World conference opening April 28, 1948. They and six other members of the selection board are scheduled to confer in Chicago on the Wednesday after Easter and decide on the relative merits of Boston or Seattle as the conference city.

Those inspecting Seattle facilities were Leslie J. Lyons, Kansas City, Mo.; E. C. Watson, Richmond, Va.; The Rev. Dr. Aubrey S. Moore, Chicago; The Rev. Dr. F. B. Newell, New York City; the Rev. R. G. Morris, Cincinnati, and Wesley Hole, Los Angeles.
