

Many Vacationers Return From Trips

During all the nice weather we had—was it years ago or only a couple of weeks—cards with colored pictures on the front came drifting up from lucky Klamath folks who were sunning themselves in the south. Now most of them are back and muffled to the ears in fur as northwinds howl and snow weights down the brave daffodils.

Back from a delightful 60 days in Arizona are Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Rogers. They were accompanied south by their son, James, who flew home after his parents were settled at Mesa which is near Phoenix, Chandler and Tempe, names well known to Arizona-going Klamath folks this winter. The Rogers spent a great deal of their time at Friendly Acres, a resort in the Mesa area and near an interesting and huge planting of commercially grown flowers, rich in their prime. So were the citrus groves and gardens, report the Rogers who returned this week.

While south, the Klamath folks saw Mr. and Mrs. William Hagelstein and son Bill, now back here from a trip to Old Mexico, but probably meeting former residents and telling them all the news of the high lights of their stay. The Rogers visited Mr. and Mrs. W. Paul Johnson, well-known here, at their trailer house at Sunshine camp on the Apache trail. Mr. Johnson, just out of the hospital following a critical illness, sent greetings home to his old friends. Mr. Rogers attended a Rotary luncheon to make up his attendance and was given a rousing welcome by Major Norman Bowyer, former head of the Salvation Army here and now doing Army work as head of a boys camp out of Tempe.

Word from Barbara Johnson Nelson and Stuart advise they are nicely settled in Banana River, Florida, Barbara assuring that the place is far nicer than the name which is always mentioned with an apologetic titter. Stuart received his wings at Pensacola in late March and the Nelsons and little Genevieve share living quarters in a very nice, roomy house on the beach with another navy couple—the girl one of the bridesmaids at Barbara's wedding at Annapolis.

Exchange Notes—Pictured in the Sunday society section of The Oregonian, Mrs. Samuel P. Miller, former Klamathite and now of Portland, member of a Catholic Women's Council doing active work in the northern city. The Millers made their first trip back to Klamath Falls since before the war when they spent two weeks at Lake o' the Woods last summer and advised friends recently they were planning a repeat holiday.

As pretty a confection as we've seen in many a day was the real flower decked three-tiered wedding cake served at the reception which followed last Saturday's ceremony when Sharon Lee Willis and Tommy Hopkins exchanged vows. The cake was placed on a wreath of fern and tiny pink roses and topped with a cluster of silver bells. Each layer was outlined with the roses and it looked almost too good to eat. The first slice disclosed a delectable solid fruit cake which was baked by the groom's mother, Mrs. Ralph S. Hopkins, and Mrs. Paul W. Sharp. Not only a most luscious confection but being of a sentimental mind where brides are concerned, we thought it a perfectly wonderful idea!

More about Sharon and Tommy's wedding. The bridal gown, veil and mitts, the maid of honor's ensemble as well as those worn by the pretty little bridesmaids—even their hats, were made by Sharon's mother, Mrs. Lewis H. Craver. One mother, who had just completed such a task of fine needlework, confided in us one day—"I know why mothers cry at weddings—it's from sheer exhaustion."

Mary Robertson Gets Science Award Medal

TULELAKE—Mary Robertson, 16-year-old high school senior, has received the Bausch and Lomb honorary science award for achieving the highest scholastic record in science subjects during her high school course. Miss Robertson, who has made her home here for several years with a cousin, Mrs. George Fischer, also claims several other high honors. She is majoring in science.

The Bausch and Lomb award makes it possible for the winner to compete for one of five Bausch and Lomb science scholarships at the University of Rochester. These scholarships, valued at $1500 each, were established in 1944. Winners will be announced early in June and Miss Robertson plans to enter the contest.

In addition to the science award she is the only member of the senior class this year to receive the California Scholarship Federation award pin. She has been on the high school honor roll each period during her high school years and will be valedictorian of this year's graduating class.

Miss Robertson recently took entrance examinations at Eugene for Stanford university and was placed in group one, a classification difficult to obtain. Her most recent honor came during her attendance at the grand assembly of the state of California, Order of the Rainbow for Girls at Santa Cruz, last week-end where she was appointed grand representative to the state of Oregon. She will attend Oregon's grand assembly in Eugene this summer. She is past worthy advisor of the Tulelake assembly, an officer of the Tulelake high school student body and active in extracurricular activities.

This is the third consecutive year that a Tulelake girl has been honored with a grand assembly appointment. Last year Harriett Coulson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Coulson was grand representative to the state of Washington and in 1945 Joyce Turnbaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Turnbaugh was grand color-bearer.

Theatre Party
A theatre party for a group of friends was given Wednesday night by Mrs. Rufus Quillan of the Early hotel.

Those enjoying the evening were Gertrude Tolle, Annis Struthers, Joy Ralph, Della Stark and Eleanor Weatherford.

After the picture the group enjoyed refreshments.

RECENTLY WED were Jean Thompson and Edward Ryan. Vows were exchanged at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Thompson of Henley. The young couple will return this week-end from a California wedding trip to make their home here.

Church Vows

Elizabeth Luke of Salem exchanged vows with Marvin F. Fredericks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira J. Fitts of Salem, in a ceremony read at the First Presbyterian church Saturday afternoon, March 29, at 2 o'clock. The Rev. David F. Barnett read the rites.

For the ceremony the bride wore a suit of light beige shade. Pinned at the lapel was a corsage of spring flowers. Dr. and Mrs. Harry Fredericks of this city, brother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom, attended the couple.

After spending the week-end here, they returned to Salem where they will make their home.

Marjorie Schultz, formerly of Klamath Falls and well-known here, was a house guest of Nannette Schubert at her home last week. Marjorie, a student at San Jose State college was on spring vacation from her studies. She is the daughter of Mrs. Bert Schultz, formerly of this city.

DAR Meeting

Mrs. Charles Joseph Martin, 228 N. 7th street, will be hostess to Eulalona chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, Monday evening, April 7, at 8 o'clock, at her home.

During the program hour Mrs. Don Smith will talk about Alaska where she has lived for the past few years. The nominating committee for officers for the coming chapter year will be selected. Mrs. Roland E. Wright, chapter regent, is completing plans for attendance of Eulalona delegates to the annual state conference of Oregon Daughters to be held in Medford, April 9-11.

Delegates elected to represent Eulalona chapter are Mrs. Ronald E. Wright, Mrs. Hugh T. Mitchellmore, Mrs. Wilbur A. Jones, Mrs. H. A. Nitschlem, and Mrs. J. W. Danforth. Alternates, Mrs. D. V. Kuykendall, Mrs. C. E. McClellan, Mrs. Charles Joseph Martin, Mrs. Bert C. Thomas, Mrs. Don Smith.

Concert Goers Set Aside April Date

Most Klamath Falls folks who belong to the membership which makes up the Klamath Community Concert association, have not forgotten to ring with a red pencil the date of Thursday, April 10, at 8 o'clock in the evening when Marina Svetlova, prima ballerina, is presented at the Polcan theatre.

With the ballerina comes Robert Roland, leading male dancer, and Elena Imax, international dance favorite, with Claude Jean Chianon, concert pianist.

The program will be one of the most outstanding of the year and promises to be one of the favorites as ballets in the past have always brought a round of approval from concert goers here.

Born in Paris, of Russian parents, Svetlova began dancing at the age of nine, studying with such famous teachers as Preobrajnska and others. Serge Lifar, the ballet master of the Grand Opera of Paris, held her in esteem as a "baby ballerina" and by winning the International Championship of the Dance for three successive years she finally received parental approval of her dancing as a career.

In the early days of the war Svetlova was a member of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo and toured Australia and America under the auspices of Colonel de Basil. In 1943, Svetlova shattered a tradition of 10 years standing when she was appointed prima ballerina of the Metropolitan Opera association. Currently she divides her time between the Metropolitan and her own touring company.

Admission to the ballet is by presentation of membership ticket only and there will be no seats sold at the door. There are no reserved seats and the ballet is scheduled for prompt 8 o'clock performance.

Vows Exchanged On Saturday Evening

Serving the pretty wedding cake after the bride and groom cut the traditional first slice was Florence Boyrie. Presiding at the coffee service were Helen Lankow and Jeannie Dodson.

Attending the wedding from Klamath Falls were Mr. and Mrs. Tony Molatore Sr., parents of the groom, Mrs. Philip Quisenberry, sister of the groom, Jean Merrill and June Michaelson, and from Eugene were Mr. and Mrs. Tony Molatore Jr., brother and sister-in-law of the groom.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Molatore chose points on the Oregon coast and other cities in the state for their wedding trip, visiting briefly in Klamath Falls early this week.

They will make their home in Eugene where Mr. Molatore is studying business administration at the University of Oregon.

Young Friends

Lillian Mahan entertained a group of young friends at her home on Newcastle street this afternoon at 2 o'clock on the occasion of her 11th birthday.

Church Wedding Is Event Of Saturday

Harold Campbell and the best man was William Tomison Jr., of Portland, the groom's brother-in-law.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception was arranged in the church where the bride and groom cut their cake which centered a prettily appointed table. After the first slice cut by the new Mr. and Mrs. Hopkins, Mrs. Tomison served the confection. Mrs. Docia Norris of San Francisco, aunt of the bride, presided at one coffee urn and Mrs. Paul W. Sharp at the other. Mrs. Alfred Stroud served the punch. Mrs. Paul Jones had the guest book and Mrs. A. G. Wiggins passed the "dream cake." The bride's attendants and Mrs. Earl Snyder assisted about the rooms during the reception hours.

Receiving with the young couple were their parents, Mrs. Craver, mother of the bride, wore a navy blue afternoon gown with pink accessories and a pink flower decked hat with a corsage of violets centered with roses at the shoulder. Mrs. Hopkins, mother of the groom, wore an aqua blue afternoon frock with pink trim and a matching hat. Her corsage was of pale pink roses and carnations.

The bride and groom are well-known members of the younger group and have made their homes here all their lives. Sharon is from a pioneer family, the great-granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Nate Otterbein, the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi McDonald of Klamath Falls, and the great-niece of Mrs. Levi F. Willis of this city. Sharon finished school here and attended the University of Oregon for one year. She was affiliated with Delta Zeta sorority. Tommy also attended school here and at Henley and served in the United States army medical corps for 18 months, seeing service in the Pacific theater. The young couple will be at home in the Linda Vista apartments on their return here.

Out-of-town guests, in addition to those in the wedding party, included Mrs. Willis, Mrs. Norris, and Mr. Craver's sister, Miss Ethel Craver of San Francisco.

AN EVENT OF THURSDAY EVENING, March 29, was the wedding of Eva Belle Johnson of Lindsay, Okla., and Robert Penrod of this city. Rites were solemnized at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Penrod, on Lincoln street. —Kennell-Ellis.

Convention

Medford took honors in the district convention of the ladies auxiliary of the Fraternal Order of Eagles in the ritualistic competition held last Sunday at the KC hall, Klamath Falls has won the trophy twice and this was Medford's second time.

Meetings for the women began at 10 a. m. Sunday, with competitive ritual drills done by Medford, Klamath Falls and Lakeview. Between 150 and 200 women were present. The next district convention will be in Lakeview in May.

Delegates attended a banquet at the FOE hall Sunday evening. Stella Persell, state musician, of Klamath Falls, was the only state officer present.

The Klamath Falls auxiliary will hold a regular meeting at 8 p. m., Tuesday in the lower FOE hall, with initiation of candidates.

Hostesses

Mrs. Will Wood, Mrs. O. R. Holloway, Mrs. Charles Gilbert, and Mrs. H. F. Murdoch were hostesses Friday when members of Aloha Past Matron club met at the Masonic temple, Klamath avenue, for their monthly o'clock luncheon, and afternoon of bridge. Awards were made to Mrs. Oscar Peton and Mrs. H. G. Wortley.

Mrs. Grace Cole, past matron of Cascade Crest chapter, OES of Chiloquin, now a resident of Klamath Falls, was welcomed to the membership roll. Mrs. Lawrence W. Mehaffey, member of Ariel chapter, OES, Antioch, Calif., was a special guest. Mrs. Mehaffey is the daughter of Mrs. Wilbur A. Jones, club member.

Mrs. Fred Coker, club president, made the following appointments for the hostess committee for April: Mrs. Leland Willis, Mrs. Ida Moretz, Mrs. W. P. McMillan, and May Phinney.
