

New Pine Creek

Barring deprivations made in the ranks of the main characters by the current flu epidemic, the "Tom Thru" wedding to be celebrated at the grand program hour this Saturday night promises to be a center of attraction and to lure the most reluctant of the grange membership and their invited guests out of their cozy, comfortable easy chairs at home.

The affair will be put on entirely by the juvenile grange, and its matron, Mrs. Fannie Fisher and her assistants, Mrs. Thelma Butler, Mrs. Earl Sanford, Mrs. Fairy Hammersley, Mrs. Gladys Cooper and Mrs. Georgia Vincent have given much of their time and energy to make this playlet a big success. There will be a charge of 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children to see "what goes on here" at the Grange hall this Saturday night.

The weather man tried hard all day Tuesday, April 1, to fool the unsuspecting populace, but it was not until it awoke on Wednesday morning that an inch or more of snow greeted the inhabitants who were pleasantly surprised for the most part. Moisture at this time of year is such an important factor to the economic health of the valley that most everyone is not particular in what form it reaches up over the Sierras and down upon the Goose lake surroundings to lend a rich green to the fields and foothill slopes.

George Converse had a painful experience last Saturday evening that will keep him from work for quite a while. He started after an errand hog that had just broken out of his confines. As George threw his long legs over a wooden fence, somewhat provoked at the unruly "pork chops" clanking his ears, he clung to a piece of board hanging loosely from the fence, which he attempted to hurl cursedly at the animal. The maneuver might have been successful if it had not been for a bent over nail in the end of the board that gouged deeply into the middle of George's left hand and rattled to a flash clear to the bone and out to the end of his longest finger, necessitating 27 stitches at the hospital about 45 minutes later. The severing of veins made the mishap extremely bloody and George said he looked more like he had stuck the hog rather than rip open his hand for he was all over blood.

The wound caused him considerable pain that night. Rev. Eugene Barrows hopes to have the church basement and auditorium all completed for next Sunday's Easter program, with the exception of painting the woodwork. The fact George Converse hurt his hand might interfere with these plans since for he has been working with the minister all through the ambitious program of remodeling the church. The church now has a full basement with ample classrooms in it, a lowered ceiling in the auditorium which also has an attractive new celotex covering, a revamped vestibule and a new outside brick flue. The building has been moved westward about 50 feet from where it originally stood.

The Happy Hour club met with hostess Mrs. Allie Hammersley last Tuesday afternoon with nine members and two children present. The afternoon was spent in sewing and visiting. The next hostess is Mrs. Alma Lalin. Refreshments were sunshine cake, sliced pineapple on pineapple jello with whipped cream and coffee.

Karl Schroeder arrived on Tuesday to take care of the disposal of his mother's estate up the canyon. He has a buyer for the property he said in a brief visit at the post office Tuesday. Babe Blurton is being hospitalized down at San Francisco with a growth on his right forearm which he is having removed surgically. The lump formed is believed to have been caused by a twisted nerve.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Ristey left Wednesday for Red Bluff, Calif., to visit with Mrs. Ristey's parents. Her father is quite ill which fact prompted the trip at this time.

Clifford Partin is assisting Winfred Gooch at the garage with the welding and other mechanical work. Don Partin has also been doing some part-time work there when he was not logging.

Clifford Ross and family left for Redding, Calif., last Sunday. If he can locate a place to live they may remain there it is understood.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Fogel have moved to the Carmen Fleming ranch where Mr. Fogel will be employed. Pat Patterson has leased the Green Garden building from Babe Burton and will open the place up for business after it has been remodeled and everything in readiness. Mrs. Shirley Jay is in charge of the restaurant part of the business, and is now serving lunches there.

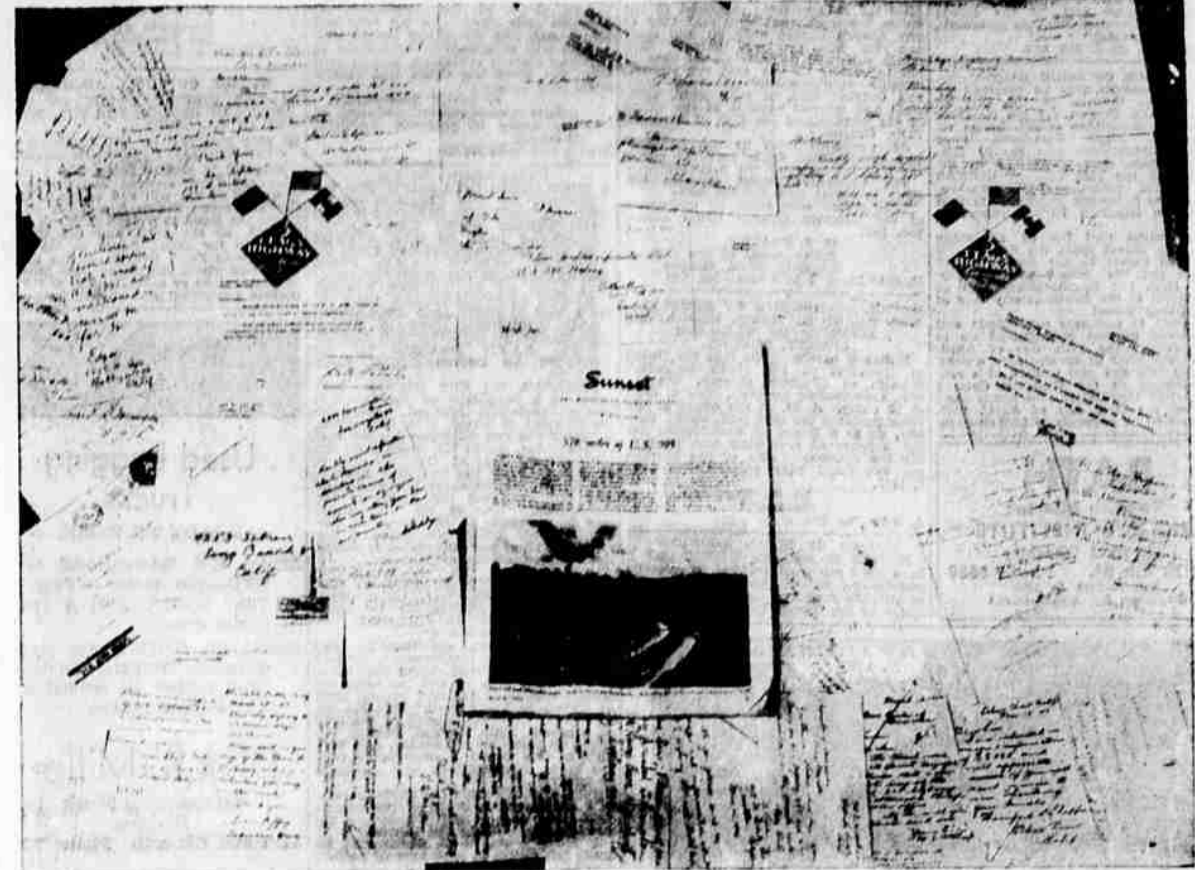

The latest word from the incubated Robnett twins is that they are progressing nicely, and the mother is anxious to get home. The Youth club held its regular meeting last Tuesday evening. President Johnny Richardson was away on a trip and therefore absent. The group voted to change its meeting from Tuesday evening to Friday evening so that it would not interfere with school work so much. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served after the members practiced songs and danced some. The club is getting ready to work on a series of plays which it plans to put on during the year.

"We need, in our mechanical age, an assembly line for producing men of good will. It is within our power to have a wonderful world or a catastrophe—one or the other within the next generation. Adherence to spiritual and moral ideals must be our defense against communism in this country." Thus spoke Phil Hitchcock of Klamath Falls in an address at the local high school assembly last Friday evening in a meeting sponsored by the Republican Women's club of the Wood River district. Elida DeBortoli, accompanied by Mrs. A. C. Gienger at the piano, sang the "Carmena Waltz Song" by Wilson, "Because," by D'Hardelle, and a request number, "Il Bacio," just before Mrs. Arthur Blockinger introduced the speaker of the evening.

Mrs. Loyal Heath last week attended a dessert given at the Winema hotel for the Beta Sigma Phi sorority. Three local women, Mrs. John Lett, Mrs. Kermit Keyser, and Mrs. Harley Zeller, attended the all-day conference in Klamath Falls of the Women's Society for Christian Service of the Rogue zone, Cascade district. Women from as far west as Coquille and as far north as Cottage Grove were also in attendance.

Frank Savage, retiring from the service of the Southern Pacific company, was given a surprise farewell party by his fellow employees on Saturday evening at the Southern Pacific depot. Those in attendance enjoying the games, refreshments, and the gift giving were, Mr. and Mrs. George Brautlauch, Miss Billie Wade, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Collins, Miss Irma Johnson, Van Wyckoff, Mr. and Mrs.

LAKEVIEW, April 5—From every nook and cranny of the Pacific coast area have come requests running into the hundreds for information about U. S. highway 395, the Three Flags highway. These are in response to an article "579 Miles of U. S. 395," appearing in the March Sunset magazine. The route travels from Lower California in Mexico to Banif and Lake Louise in Canada. Klamath has direct connections with No. 395 at Lakeview and Alturas.

Elmer Heglund, Charles Longguth, H.A. McGiecer, and Mr. and Mrs. Werner Klasterman.

Mrs. Ruth Duke returned to her home in Portland last Wednesday after spending several days at the home of her mother, Mrs. Nels Nicholson.

Generally only large schools rate a different athletic coach for each major sport but Chiloquin high school is in that category this year. Hubert Goolsby accomplished the difficult task of getting football on its feet after inactivity during the war years. Joe "Sandy" Miller brought fame during the basketball season, and now Woody Joe is getting a track team into shape and finding time on the side to coach the younger boys in the art of self-defense. All three young men have been hard task masters and have won the support of students and community alike.

Illness has swept the community effectively. Influenza is the chief offender but by no means the only one. Students, teachers, businessmen, housewives, all were ill. Mrs. Marshall Ferguson was taken to a Klamath Falls hospital on Thursday morning suffering with the flu. Mrs. Rachel Owens, an employe of the AB bakery, checked in at Hillside hospital on Friday evening. Guy Steiger entered Good Samaritan in Portland on Monday to undergo a Tuesday morning operation. Donald Lyle Potter, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Potter, is recovering from a recent operation at the Shriners hospital in Portland. Superintendent of Schools Don Miller, Mrs. Les Hoback, and Mrs. Sam Rife all had substitutes in their school rooms. Janitor Marshall Ferguson was unable to be on the job. Farmers reported that they were doing chores for neighbors who were "down and out."

Steve Peters of Klamath Falls played host to a group of relatives and friends at Crater lake on Sunday, March 30. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Hoback and family, and Clyde Dummermuth made up the party. Dummermuth returned to Klamath Falls that evening to leave for his home in Missouri. Dick Gard was honored on his birthday, Sunday, March 18, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Gard. Those attending the party were David Lundeen, Juanita Oates, Elaine Mangum, Colleen Ray, Marlene Johnson, Helen Michel, Paul Coleman, Ray Lewis Jr., Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Helen Michel, Mrs. Nora Barney, Mrs. Ray Lewis, Betty and Ruth Johnson, Helen, Cecil, Peter and Joy Gard. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Butler of Exeter, Mo., are visiting at the home of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Folk Haddock. With them are the three young Butlers, and Billy Joe Snook, who will stay in Chiloquin for several months. Mrs. Melvin Lange and infant daughter, Marlene Colleen, returned from the Klamath Valley hospital this past week. Mrs. Harold Wright and children are currently staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Poitras of Klamath Agency.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Kellison, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Parker and three young sons planned to take Mrs. Parker's mother, Mrs. Ella Bryant, to her home in Myrtle Creek. Tony Unive was also heading for Myrtle Creek to visit his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. James F. Wilson are Wilson's sister, Mrs. Carlyle Briggs, and her 13-month-old son from Chico, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Hoback and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Reed were dinner guests on Sunday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warren.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Jackson, their two daughters and young grandson, from Baker, Ore., were week-end guests at the home of Mrs. Jackson's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Stone. When they left they took with them Mrs. Stone's mother, Mrs. Daisy Olson, also of Baker, who has been here for three weeks getting a first visit with the wee Miss Lange.

Mrs. Dora Gienger received word this week of the passing of her brother, Ed Harlow, in a Los Angeles hospital on March 28. He had been ill only a short time before his passing and Mrs. Gienger had been unable to make the long trip to be by his bedside.

Spring vacation for the local schools began last Friday at the time when the college students were heading back for their studies. Sally Blockinger was still here from her Tacoma school to help the local students enjoy their time off. Many local people are taking advantage of this week to add a few miles to the speedometers of their cars or else are trying the thrill of flying. Mrs. Charles Burton, Hilda Olsen, and the Lowell Johnston family headed for San Francisco by bus, train, and automobile, respectively. Others in the city of the Golden Gate are Edward Priaulx, who is receiving medical attention, and

Mrs. Charles Burton, Hilda Olsen, and the Lowell Johnston family headed for San Francisco by bus, train, and automobile, respectively. Others in the city of the Golden Gate are Edward Priaulx, who is receiving medical attention, and mained in town to spend spring vacation with Jayne Flury. Mary Belle McBride, a former Chiloquin student, is visiting with Alice Marie and Elene Pohl from her present home in Dunsmuir. Irma Johnson leaves this week for her vacation from work at the Southern Pacific depot. She, her mother, and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Johnson, of Rome, Italy, will spend several days in La Grande visiting another brother. The young couple from Rome are newlyweds and are on a honeymoon vacation. Mr. Johnson was employed by the American consulate but will return to a job with an American import-export firm. His wife is an attractive young Hungarian woman who will remain here long enough for her citizenship papers to be completed.

The Sam Minato family is very proud of its new car. Last Saturday night thieves broke into the garage and made a complete getaway, not of the car, not its tires or even the gasoline, but of all things—a headlight. What price crime? Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Vandal were week-end guests at the Klamath Agency and in Chiloquin. Mrs. Vandal is teaching this year at Silverton while her husband is enrolled at Oregon State college. Both the young daughters were here also, to see their friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Fzanello of Klamath Falls were visiting in Chiloquin on Monday. Mrs. Sue Heller and Mrs. O. M. Hayes of Williamson River are two new operators for the West Coast Telephone company. It was announced this week by Mrs. Ursula Bond, chief operator. The two women have done switchboard work previously in Merrill and in Woodland, Calif.

A capacity attendance on Monday afternoon and evening marked a successful district fellowship meeting at the Post-ecostal Assembly of God. Services were conducted by the Reverend C. O. Ross of Klamath Falls, Reverend Ayers of Tulelake, and the resident pastor, Reverend L. W. Coor. Many out of town church members attended both sessions. The dining hall was in use between the afternoon and evening meetings for serving a delicious dinner and for a mid-night supper after the evening session. Attending was the Reverend John J. Mitchell, evangelist, who had completed a successful series of revival meetings at the local church on Saturday evening.

Dairy

Mr. and Mrs. John Liskey of Merrill spent Sunday evening with Albert Burgdorf and son Eldon.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Hankins on the birth of a son last week. Mrs. Hankins and son were able to return home on Wednesday, March 19. Mrs. Olaf Nelson of Dairy entered a Klamath hospital on Monday evening where she will have a major operation in the next few days.

Many local families have been confined home with serious cases of flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rasmussen of Crescent City are receiving congratulations on the birth of their daughter Christine Beryl the first of the month. Mrs. Rasmussen is the former Beryl Turner, sister of Mrs. Keith Smith.

Cushman Scooters get 100 miles per gallon, Schubert's.

EASTER

By EARL WHITLOCK
 Now, let us rejoice! Life—everlasting Life, triumphs over Death! And on Easter we solemnize that fact. The Holy Day and all Nature at this season, typify a new beginning—a fresh outlook.

And I wonder if we cannot take unto ourselves something of the inspiration of the season, for use in our daily lives, and begin again, here and now. A great many of us handicap ourselves by too little attention to that "here" and that "now." We are introspective, looking within, or we are retrospective, looking back. We waste untellable tonnage of energy going over and over the mistakes of yesterday and we cloud our futures with worry.

Can't we begin, right at this instant of the re-birth which Easter signifies, to build up our own lives anew, founding our existence on the firmest of all bases, Faith—Faith to know that righteousness and justice shall forever rule supreme?

Next Monday Mr. Whitlock of the Earl Whitlock Funeral Home will comment on "Prophecies of Doom."
