Members of the fellowship degree of the Loyal Order of Moose of Merrill and Klamath Falls, held a breakfast meeting at the Klamath Falls lodge banquet room on Easter Sunday, beginning at 8:30. After the meeting members attended church of their choice. Fellows attending from Merrill were, Ivan Icenbice, Max Hartlerode, Elmont Kenyon, Ray Van Meter, Wilbur Nine and Hilary Winebarger.

The quarterly audit was read and the report of standing committees was heard by the chapter. The ritualistic committee reported $16 made on the supper dance which was served at the Broadway hall in Malin on March 25. Members of the friendship degree will be entertained at a 1 o'clock luncheon at the home of Olevia Hobbs on Friday, April 11.

The meeting was adjourned and members of the chapter and Loyal Order of Moose were served refreshments in the Odd Fellows hall by the following members, Olevia Hobbs, Bertha Woodward, Leona Strack, and Doris Icenbice.

An "Ambition Party" for which guests will consume in ambitious style is planned by the junior class of the high school for all high school students Friday night. The affair will be held in the high school gymnasium.

Mrs. Marie Hansen, third grade teacher, has been ill at home and Mrs. Warren Fruits is substituting.

Chiloquin

Mrs. Nestor Esqueda and three of her children, Isabel, Jesus and Ardelia, returned last Saturday from a five months' visit in Mexico, staying with relatives in Guadalupe, San Pedro, Coloma, Jalapa and in the capital, Mexico City. In San Pedro was Mrs. Esqueda's grandmother, an old woman who has seen 103 years. The travelers were enthusiastically greeted, especially when the gifts were handed out to those of the family who had remained in Chiloquin. There were lovely embroidered jackets, colorful serapes, tiny leather shoes for the baby daughter and tiny grandson, pottery, music, and all of those things which typify Mexican handicrafts.

Sgt. and Mrs. A. R. Nemeth of Fort Lewis, Wash., are spending his army leave with her sister and family, the Anton Zadinans. They brought with them young Clark Zadina, who had been visiting his aunt and uncle for the previous six weeks.

Transitman J. S. Sawyer, working locally on highway construction, flew to New York the first of the week, called there by the passing of his father. The elder Mr. Sawyer was a guest here last November during the Thanksgiving holidays and was formerly with Oregon state highway department.

Twenty-four days, 7758 miles and 18 states later, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gienger are home again. Following route 39 eastward they were joined in Evanston, Ill., by their daughter, Norma Lee, who was beginning her spring vacation. In their loop south to New Orleans and back the trio stopped to see Frances Bradley Winston in Sheridan, Ark., ate French food in New Orleans, suffered from sultry heat in Montgomery, Ala., and saw the strongholds of such notables as ex-Huey Long, Senator Bilbo and Gene Talmadge. The two rival unique experiences of the trip were using an inclined railway out of Chattanooga, Tenn., which was much steeper than the old one at Algoma here in Klamath county, and riding in a boat on Echo river 360 feet underground. That was at the Mammoth caves in Kentucky.

Arriving in Evanston the parents visited a few classes with their daughter, who is beginning the term which, when completed, will make her "one-fourth a doctor." (two years of the required eight). Traveling a more northerly route home, the Giengers reached Chiloquin late Monday afternoon.

Local people have been very much concerned for over a year about the overpass bridge on the Agency - Chiloquin highway, wondering how cars would get up to that height in order to use the bridge. No more speculation. This past week giant bulldozers got busy and have built up the
