

Ager Heads Siskiyou Charter Bill

TULELAKE, April 12—Earl Ager has been elected as chairman of the good government committee for Siskiyou county. In company with Charles K. Wiese and Douglas Thomas, Ager attended the meeting Thursday night at Weed where the county good government committee convened. Also serving on the committee are Clark G. Fenster of Tulelake and W. G. Hagelstein and Ray Grace of Dorris, representing Butte valley.

The purpose of the committee is to get representatives from all over the county to secure the best government possible through enactment of the proposed new charter.

Speakers will be provided by the committee to explain the charter and may be secured through Ager at Tulelake or the committee office in the Warren building, Yreka.

Opposition to the charter is invited for debate or a forum meeting, to be held prior to the date of special election, May 27. At this time voters will decide on a proposed form of charter government.

Registration for election closes April 17.

It is imperative that residents of Siskiyou and Butte counties register and vote, Ager said, because if the counties are re-districted they will get better representation than in the past.

National Potato Letter Early Spud Crops Suffer From Cold, Wet Weather

Supply Lots of trade gossip is out regarding potato stocks remaining in important late crop sections. Plenty, probably too many are still held in Maine but with the export deal still booming and with much seed demand held back by bad planting weather and car shortages, stocks will soon dwindle rapidly. Red River valley still has potatoes but not really too many. An estimated 2500 to 2700 cars, six weeks (38 working days) would mean an average of only 66 to 71 cars daily. Nebraska, Colorado and Colorado are practically through, and will not be a factor again this season. Idaho still has potatoes but will have no trouble with good and large stock. Idaho frequently has late season difficulty with accumulations of two's. The Far West is in good shape with fair stocks and will be able to take care of itself with just a little help on the low grades.

Except in Texas and California the early crop has suffered considerably from cold, wet weather. North Florida will be light and late. Alabama will be later than usual, but probably escaped much damage to yields. All around the Gulf, the weather was cold enough to retard germination and delay maturity. Tennessee could not plant much before April 1, probably will not harvest much before July 1. South Carolina has fair stands in spite of the weather, but is two or three weeks late. North Carolina has had the same trouble, with sprouting just beginning. Virginia missed sprouting trouble, but planting was considerably delayed. California, on the contrary, has had almost ideal growing weather and almost surely will begin shipping by about the 20th. About these crop delays due to bad weather—remember that spuds seem to know that they're late and hurry to catch up. Many a time crops have been held back two weeks or more but have matured about on time. Good growing weather from now on may make it happen again.
