

Jap Navy To Be Distributed

WASHINGTON, April 14 (AP)—Nearly 20 months after V-J Day the remnants of Japan's shattered navy are ready for equal division among four allied war victors.

The United States has informed Britain, Russia and China that 239 destroyers and smaller ships are in sound enough condition to warrant distribution, the state department announced today.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported that 140 are ready for immediate delivery. They will be distributed by lot at a drawing to be held in Tokyo at some future date, and delivered to designated Pacific ports by Japanese crews. The other craft are being used for the time being at various occupation tasks. Those of Japan's battleships, cruisers and other larger craft which remained seaworthy after their wartime pounding already have been scrapped or are in the process of destruction.
