

Everything Comes To Those Who Wait, Almost Anyway

By HAL BOYLE
 NEW YORK, April 15 (AP)—I want to tell you the story of a man who got what he wanted.
 I illustrate those "everything comes to those who wait" type stories with a real life twist, too true to make good fiction.
 Enough preamble. Here's the story.
 I have a friend I have known for many years. He's a big, bluff man, hearty, friendly, well-educated.
 We roomed together when we first came to New York more than ten years ago. It was a wonderful life for a time. A thin pocketbook didn't make so much difference then to two young men new to Manhattan. We had more fun just being here than the old men who owned the place.
 But my friend met a girl who convinced him there were things more romantic than breakfast on peanuts and drugstore coffee.
 They married. After a while when I visited them, I had to learn how to keep the kids from falling into my highball.
Missed Draft
 My friend was fixed by the draft board during the war because of a heart that sometimes went "phooch phooch" instead of "thump thump." It made him restless to know many jobs were overseas while he was still working at the same old desk. But he had plenty to do. The family was growing and the prices were rising.
 Sometime ago he changed jobs. It didn't turn out well. Every day was a torture. He was depressed and blue. He couldn't seem to shake his unhappiness off. His wife wanted him to quit, but he didn't want to take a chance on being unemployed.
 A few weeks ago he got tips that two jobs of a kind he liked were open. He applied with both courage and was interviewed by them.
 Early this week, while awaiting the outcome, he came to my home. He was distraught with worry but still hopeful of his chances. We talked for a long time of the old days, when we had sat up all night drinking beer and reading Menckel and Keats and Shakespeare—all good beer companions.
 "Those were the happiest days I ever knew," he said. He felt better when he left.
 Three days later I went with his wife to keep an appointment with my friend.
Wonderful News
 "I have wonderful news for him," she said and waved two letters. The room was crowded when we arrived.
 "Oh, I have such good news for you," his wife said, running up and showing him the letters. "They came today. You can have either job. One is offering $8000 and the other $10,000."

She was crying a little now.
 "Read me the letters," he said. At last he had what he had wanted and worried himself sick to get.
 The reason she had to read him the letters was that we were in the psychiatric ward of a hospital and my friend was sitting on a bed with both arms in a strait jacket. A nurse standing by held a cigaret to his lips.
 Down the corridor of the kind of room my friend will have to stay in for many, many weeks ran a pajama-clad little gray-haired man with a gray stubble beard crying.
 "Hey, boy, I've just saved the world. Now everybody be happy."

Bulletin Out On Driveways

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, April 15 (Special)—An increasing number of requests for service driveways in city business areas is making it necessary for a number of Oregon cities to consider adoption of standard regulation for curb and driveway control, according to the University of Oregon bureau of municipal research and service.
 Curb parking space, already limited, is being greatly reduced by installation of service driveways, the report from the bureau states. Safety-conscious cities are also concerned with the hazards to pedestrians resulting from driveways which cross sidewalks.
 In answer to numerous requests for information on the subject, the bureau has re-issued its information bulletin on municipal regulations of curb cuts and service driveways. The bulletin includes sample city ordinances, a tabulation of administrative provisions for curb cut regulation in Oregon cities, diagrams of specification requirements, and other information to assist cities to solve the problem.

Visits Camp Fire

The regional representative of Camp Fire Girls incorporated, Elvira Hess, has just completed a visit to Klamath Falls in the interests of Camp Fire work.

Biscuit Company Searching Site

NEW YORK, April 15 (AP)—A National Biscuit company official said today a site in Portland, Ore., for the firm's new $5,000,000 bakery plant will be decided upon "definitely within six weeks."
 R. M. Shultz, vice president in charge of operations, said the new plant is due to begin operations sometime in 1949.
 "The preliminary work is going on. We know about where the site will be but it isn't definitely settled. We'll know in a month or six weeks," he reported.

DECEIVING APPEARANCES

WEST LOS ANGELES, April 15 (AP)—"The world is gold." That is what a burglar wrote, in German, on a mirror in the home of Prof. Max S. Dunn, after pocketing some jewelry.
 Now the thief can add to his repertoire the saying "all that glitters is not gold." The professor told police the loss was entirely in costume jewelry.

Camp Fire News

Miss Elvira Hess, regional representative of Camp Fire Girls, Inc., has been visiting the Klamath Falls council of Camp Fire Girls for the past few days. Miss Hess, who covers Camp Fire's region VI, composed of Idaho, Montana, Oregon and Washington, has been meeting with the council and leaders associations, officers of both organizations, and the executive director, Mrs. J. W. Leonard.
 The greater part of Miss Hess' visit in Klamath Falls has been spent in training the council, leaders association, and the executive in the administrative and organizational work of the area. On Thursday the council held a luncheon at the Winema, where Miss Hess spoke to the assembly. Friday evening the leaders association and the sponsors of each group met at the First Presbyterian church to hold a regular business meeting and to honor Miss Hess. The Horizon club girls were present at a luncheon on Saturday at the Pelican, where they learned of the part of the older girls in the Camp Fire organization. Other meetings with committee chairmen completed Miss Hess' schedule in Klamath Falls.
 This area, region six in Camp Fire, comprises the largest membership in Camp Fire throughout the nation. There are thirty-five councils in the four states which Miss Hess visits: Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana.

Camp Fire

The Pawea group, under the leadership of Mrs. Austin McMahon, has given their report on the success of the theatre party held at the Pelican during Camp Fire Birthday Week. The group reports having a profit of $108.18, which amount will be used to send each girl and Mrs. McMahon to camp this summer. Congratulations to the Pawea group! In addition, these girls have recently announced election of officers: president, Lydia Segoviano; vice president and hospitality chairman, Coralie Bickenauff; secretary, Yvonne Bickenauff; and treasurer, Dorothy McMahon.

Horizon Clubs

The Horizon club of the sophomore class of KUHS held a slumber party at the Camp Fire house during spring vacation with their leader, Mrs. Leonard. The girls brought sleeping bags and spent the evening popping corn, singing, and planning further activities. A potluck breakfast the next morning topped off a most enjoyable evening.

MINER DIES

EXETER, Pa., April 15 (AP)—The death of James Jackson, Wyoming, Pa., anthracite miner, has brought to 10 the toll of the explosion at the Knox Coal company last week. Nine others were dead when they were brought to the surface.
