Scoutmaster

Jim Hubbard, scoutmaster of Boy Scout Troop 1, heads the oldest troop in Klamath Falls.

Hubbard Heads Oldest Troop

Outstanding in Scouting circles is Jim Hubbard, who as scoutmaster of Troop 1, is rendering beneficial service to the youth of Klamath county.

Troop 1, the oldest troop in the city, has been operating, not only as part of the Modoc Area council, but was Troop 3 under the old Medford council. Hubbard was a Boy Scout for five years in Medford. He works now as a shipping clerk with Swift and company, and resides with his wife, Dorothy, at 1334 Sargent.

Hubbard received the Presidential Citation, the Silver Star and European Theater ribbon with three battle stars while serving with the 87th infantry division during World War 2. He was in active combat overseas for nine months.

Patrol leaders of this troop are Ronald Juniper, Verne Fleet, Ned Livingston and Bill Tolley under Senior Patrol Leader Jack Ayres. The troop has 34 active members plus Brent Hedberg, now visiting in Sweden, who writes regularly. There have been 15 Eagle Scouts in the troop, one for each year of its existence.

Hubbard has been active in the scoutmaster training course and attended summer camp with his troop last year as a volunteer. He urges men who are concerned with the rise of juvenile trouble to devote some hours each week with a group of Scouts.

Shed Cleared From Roadway

Workers today were tearing down a large woodshed on the former Frankford property at the junction of U. S. 97 and the new north entrance, just north of the city limits.

The woodshed is on the right-of-way of the new route into town, and is understood to be the last building to be removed from the north leg of the route, extending from the present highway to Esplanade street.

Interested bidders should get in touch with the postmaster at Klamath Falls or the superintendent of Crater Lake national park for further information and bid forms. Bids open May 1.

The mail service between Chemult, Ore., and Diamond Lake, Ore., is also being advertised at the same time. Interested bidders should contact the postmaster at Chemult or Diamond Lake.

New Soft Drink Plant Will Start Operations In 1948

Probably the new Coca-Cola bottling plant under construction at Main and Spring will not be in operation until 1948, Ray Lamb, president of the stockholders, advised today.

The building, started in March, 1946, is completed with the exception of work which cannot be done until the machinery is installed, Lamb stated. The machinery, which will come from Chicago, probably won't be available until the fall of 1947 at the earliest.

Production at Chicago has been delayed since the war, due to strikes and other reasons, Lamb said. In the meantime, work is progressing at the plant, finishing all the details that can be completed before the machinery arrives.

When bottling operations are started at the Klamath plant, it will be capable of filling 1600 cases of 24 bottles each, per day, Lamb said. The syrup will come from Portland as it does now, ready for bottling. There are three Coca-Cola syrup manufacturers on the West coast, the one in Portland, one in San Francisco and one in Los Angeles.

Bottling plants are independently owned just as car agencies. A group of stockholders, headed by Lamb, purchased the presently operated concern at 865 Spring, from the Klamath Ice and Storage company in 1939, and has been supplying Coca-Cola for Klamath basin residents from this location continuously since that date.

1944—James Forrestal sworn in as 49th secretary of navy on May 19. May 19-23 three U. S. carriers, Essex, Yorktown and Independence, reversed the marines on Wake as they wallowed Wake and Marcus islands.
