PALACE NEWS

by "Butch"

At the kind invitation of The Rickys, our good customers, we just returned from a sojourn at their dazzling display of jewels. We say so because, brother, you need dark glasses to keep their brilliance from putting your peepers out at a distance. No kidding, they are really gorgeous. And after viewing them it is no wonder to a lowly butcher that dames like Cleopatra had such outstanding success. With jewels like that Old Mother McCree would knock Clark Gable for a loop.

Those Rickys really know how to merchandise their stuff. They had the prettiest glamour gals in town explaining the history of each piece to us goggle-eyed pedestrians while a couple of cops stood by the door to keep the handis out.

We left their place with two wishes in mind. First, that they would move their beautiful store to our block. And second, that the Boss would make a deal with Mr. Ricky to sell the platinum hoofs of some of the cattle the farmers charge him for. With that recovery we could cut our prices on meat lower than they are now, in accordance with Mr. Truman's suggestion. Anyways, congratulations, Rickys, for putting over a neat scoop and enabling our town to see the kind of stuff they used to trade kindoms for.

I just happened to think (and probably you did, too) what does all this have to do with selling meat and groceries? Well, here's a connection. Some of those gems were priced at $350,000 each. We admit that the cost of living is atrocious, but some of our stuff is slightly cheaper than that. For instance, Eddie, in the meat department has some cube steaks at 15¢ each. That's why they say — It pays to SHOP PALACE. The Palace Market, 524 Main, Fancy Meats and Groceries.

Wreck Injuries Prove Fatal

YREKA, April 28—Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon from Girtner's funeral chapel for Earl A. Olson, 42, distributor for Signal Oil products here, who was fatally injured last week-end when a pickup in which he was riding crashed head-on into a sedan operated by George Stack, co-owner of the Yreka Inn.

The accident happened near Gazelle about 18 miles south of Yreka on highway 99 shortly before midnight Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Stack, occupants of the sedan, and Val Robinson, owner and driver of the pickup, all suffered only slight injuries.

Olson who was pinned beneath the pickup when it overturned, sustained a broken collar bone, fractured pelvis and severe internal injuries. He died early Monday morning at Siskiyou County General hospital.

A resident of Yreka for the past two years, Olson came here from Oregon. He was a native of Astoria, Ore., where he was born January 24, 1905.

Juvenile Held In Theft Case

YREKA, April 28—A 14-year-old Tulelake boy has been referred to the California youth authority after allegedly being involved in two car thefts and the burglary of a service station.

The boy, with a Merrill youth, was picked up in Bly last week by Oregon state police and held in the juvenile detention home at Klamath Falls until he was returned to Siskiyou county.

The boy reportedly first stole a car in Tulelake, where with his parents he had been living for the past several months. He then picked up the Merrill teen-ager and the pair drove to Bly, where they burglarized a service station and stole another car.

The Tulelake boy has been in previous trouble, having served an 18-month term in the Pricot Ranch school for boys, 12 months being the original sentence with an additional six months added for escape.

News 4 - Notes

Baby Beef Club

The East Main Champion Baby Beef club, under the direction of Gerald West, met April 13th, at the home of Eddie McAlliff.

At the meeting West discussed the San Francisco livestock show, which he recently attended. He suggested that if any of the 4-H club members would like to get a calf for that show, which is to be held in March next year, now is a good time to get it.

At the meeting we talked about the weights and gains of our calves, over a 49-day period. Their weights and gains are as follows: James Marshall Cornett's calf, Wildfire, weighed 686, gained 123; this was the biggest gain in the Main club; Barbara Cornett's calf, Thunder, weighed 697, gained 74; Beverly Scott's calf, Tiny, weighed 538, gained 112; Jerry Macken's calf, Dope, weighed 819, gained 119; Marvin Macken's calf, lightning, weighed 697, gained 116 pounds; and Eddie McAlliff's calf weighed 535 pounds.

If we mix our own feed, he told us how to do it and what kinds of feeds to use.

Members present were Eddie McAlliff, Jerry and Marvin Macken, Barbara and James Marshall Cornett and Beverly Scott.

Visitors were Mrs. Cornett and Kenneth Heralvick.

The next meeting was decided to be May 18 at the home of Beverly Scott, where we plan to wash her calf.

After the meeting refreshments were served by Ellen and Mrs. McAlliff.

Henley Sheep Club Meets
The Henley Sheep club under the direction of I. W. White met at the home of Eleanor Jackson, April 13.

There were two reports given, one on "Raising Orphan Lambs" by Burt Mack, and one on "Judging Sheep" by Richard Hill.

I. W. White assigned two more reports, one on "Judging Hogs" to Henry Williams and one on "Judging Beef" to Betty Brandesky. These reports are to be given at the next meeting.

The club members and I. W. White, leader, discussed that the sheep should not be sold always at last at the show.

The next meeting will be at the home of Henry Williams, April 27. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Jackson.

Betty Brandesky, News Reporter.

"Just So"
The "Just So" 4-H Clothing club of Fairhaven had two visitors, Betty Lou Freer and Audrey Kime, at its last meeting. All the members are ready for their sewing to be exhibited at the county spring fair. Class 1A has finished its last piece of sewing, the table mat. Class 1B has finished its last piece, the laundry bag. April 18 is the last meeting that the "Just So" club will have.

Suzanne Burcham, News Reporter.

Olene, Fort Klamath, West Main Clubs
The Sticky Dough Cooking 4-H club of Fort Klamath led by Mrs. H. S. Looney met Friday, March 21, at the home of Barbara Rindt, Barbara and assistant, Patricia Hecock, demonstrated the making of deviled eggs.

Before preparing the eggs, the members discussed the 4-H spring fair and sang songs. All present helped with the demonstration.

The next meeting will be at the home of Wayne Hedegrove, Jo Ann Sizemore, News Reporter.

Olene Buckaroo and the Olene Dairy Club
The Olene Dairy club was held at the home of Gerry and Virginia Masten, Sunday, April 13. There were six members present.

Jean Tucker and Virginia Masten have dropped from the Beef club. The Olene Buckaroos and the Olene Dairy club will present a program for the leaders meeting, May 10, 1947.

The next meeting will be held May 4, at the home of Jack Marshall.

Joy Ross, News Reporter.

For the eighth meeting, the West Main Champions met on April 13th, at the home of Patti Smith, Jerry Smalley presided. Members answered roll call by telling about their calves.

The club decided to buy 4-H club hats and were given until the next meeting to decide what kind they want. The club members decided to dress as much alike as possible at the livestock fair. They also decided to have a swimming party and picnic this summer.

Louise Kandra was at present and he gave the club tips on beef cattle. Ilys Smalley gave an interesting report on the types of beef animals. The next meeting will be at Jerry and Ilys Smalley's home on May 4th.

Kathleen Wilson, News Reporter.

All through the month of April the office of the Klamath county club agent, Francis Skinner, has been busy with plans and schedules for 4-H spring fair activities. At 9 a.m. Thursday, April 24, the activity will be transferred to the county fairgrounds exhibit building where 4-H exhibits of all home economics and craft projects will be received and arranged by appointed committees. All exhibits must be presented at the exhibit building by 6 p.m. Thursday.

Exhibits will be arranged in five groups of cooking, clothing, forestry, handicraft and leathercraft. Each of these groups will be subdivided and exhibited according to projects classification, such as cookery 1-B, vanilla drop cookies; cookery 1-B, icebox cookies, etc.

Fair activities planned for Thursday will begin with Nadine Swisher from Henley who will start the dollar dinner contest. Each contestant is allowed 3 1/2 hours in which to prepare, serve and clean up a dinner for four people. The demonstration will begin at 1 o'clock Thursday afternoon with a Henley school team composed of Larry Snyder and Edwin Keady presenting the first.

Other demonstrations will follow at 30-minute intervals. Friday morning the judging of exhibits will begin, judging to take place in the following order: cookery, camp cookery, clothing, homemaking and knitting. Demonstrations will continue on Friday. The remainder of the Friday program includes forestry project, judging at 10 a.m., then wood-working and leathercraft. From 10 to 12 noon the drop cookie baking contest for cookery 1 members will take place. In the afternoon from 1 to 3 o'clock the bread baking contest for cookery III club members will be held. At 3 in the afternoon the biscuit making contest for camp cookery members will be held.

On Saturday at 9:30 a.m. the sponge and angel food baking contest for cooking II club members will take place. Also at 9:30 in the morning the darning and patching contests for clothing II and III club members will be held.

At 10 a.m. in the exhibit building all home economics club members will participate in the home economics judging contest at 1:30 in the afternoon the style revue will be presented, all clothing II, III, IV and V members modeling dresses made, and costumes assembled, by themselves. This is the outstanding event for the older 4-H club members.

Helen Cowgill, assistant state 4-H club leader, and Mrs. Geraldine Danzel, assistant county club agent at large, will judge home economics exhibits and the home economics contests, assisted by the local leaders of the clubs.

Week-end Trip—E. A. Atterbury, principal of Roosevelt school, is leaving early Saturday morning to drive to Walla Walla, Wash., on business. He expects to return Sunday night.
