

DRIVE TO END STRIKE MOUNTS

In The Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS

FOR about a third of our nation's 140 million people, "daylight saving" time will begin at 2 o'clock tomorrow morning. The other two-thirds will wiggle along somehow on a solar system time.

THERE will be minor annoyances. The four big radio networks will change to daylight "saving" 80, in standard time areas, people will have to accustom themselves to listening to their favorite programs an hour earlier. If that conflicts with other habits or duties, they are supposed to shrug their shoulders and murmur "c'est la guerre."

The railroads are sticking to standard (solar) time — for their through trains, that is. In the commuting areas using "daylight saving" time, they will of course have to change the time of their suburban trains.

If you have to ride an hour to get to work at a certain time, it is obvious that your train must start soon enough to get you there.

THE airlines are sticking to solar time.

So, if you live in a daylight "saving" area and want to use the planes, you'll have to look at the clock, discount it an hour, and plan to be at the airport at the right time by SOMEBODY ELSE'S clock. And so on.

THE daylight saving area is concentrated largely in the north-eastern part of our country, which is older and whose cities are larger. In the South, the West and the Midwest, whose people are more generally on the realistic side, the clocks will remain more or less unchanged.

Which means that Southerners, Westerners and Midwesterners who want to talk business by telephone with people in New York, Philadelphia, Boston, etc., must remember that time is an hour earlier there, and so must discount their clocks or the man they want to talk to may have gone home by the time the call gets through.

Thus we are reminded again that it takes all kinds of people to make a world.

STATE Secretary Marshall's plane, which left Moscow yesterday, arrives in Washington this morning. It is met by President Truman, who greets Marshall and says for the benefit of the newsreel cameramen (who are there in force):

"I am most happy to receive you back with us."

"I am very well pleased with what you have been doing. I know when you make the report to the country the people will also be pleased."

That takes care of the amenities.

THE Secretary barely pauses in Washington, then leaves by plane for Pinehurst, North Carolina, to greet Mrs. Marshall. He will return to Washington some time Sunday, and on Sunday night he will meet at the White House with President Truman and congressional leaders.

At this meeting, this morning's dispatches inform us, he will give a first-hand account of the Big Four foreign ministers' council and PER-HAPS a report on what he and Premier Stalin discussed in PRI-

Veterans Get Land Grants

YAKIMA, Wash., April 26 (AP)—The luck the draw gave rich homestead areas on the Yakima River irrigation project to 28 war veterans whose names were pulled out of a large fishbowl in an outdoor ceremony here yesterday afternoon.

A 6-year-old girl, Patty Worrell, drew the names at the Yakima ball park. A total of 1252 veterans, from 35 states, had qualified for the drawing, and the first name to come out of the bowl was that of Francis J. Meek, army vet from Salt Lake City.

Oregonians whose names were called among the first 28 were:

No. 16—Carson Haefner, Cove.

No. 17—Calvin Leiman, Beaver-ton.

No. 20—Sam A. Hubbard, Tillamook.

No. 24—E. K. Keesacker, Salem.

Roads Scored For Oregon Killer

Chief Gives High Praise To Marshall

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP)—President Truman told Secretary of State Marshall upon his return from the Moscow conference today that he was very well pleased with what the secretary had been doing.

Interrupting a week-end cruise on the Potomac to greet Marshall at National airport, Mr. Truman said he knows that when the secretary makes his report to the country the people will feel pleased also.

Broadcast Stated

Marshall is to make a half hour broadcast over three of the four major networks at 5:30 p. m. PST Monday night on the work of the foreign ministers at Moscow.

Marshall told Mr. Truman that he considered the personal welcome by the president a great honor to himself and members of the American delegation.

The secretary said he and his associates tried to do their best, not only for the United States, but for the world.

Mr. Truman and Marshall spoke briefly for newsreels after Marshall and a group of five advisors stepped from the plane which brought them from Moscow. They left Moscow yesterday morning.

Speaking into the microphone for the newsreels, President Truman said:

"I am most happy to receive you back with us."

"I am very well pleased with what you have been doing. I know when you make the report to the country the people will also be pleased."

That takes care of the amenities.

Car Wreck Fatal To Two

KENNEWICK, Wash., April 26 (AP)—One woman was killed and two others injured when an automobile state police said was driven by Frank J. Radosevich, Renton, overturned yesterday afternoon on the Vista road 14 miles west of Kennewick.

Police identified the dead woman as Mrs. Delores Margaret Hale, 35, stepdaughter of Chief of Detectives Emilie Vallet of Seattle. John M. McDonald, Richland, and Tressa Elizabeth Palmer, Kennewick, were taken to Pasco hospital for observation. Radosevich escaped injury.

The cause of the accident, which was not learned immediately, is being investigated by State Patrolmen W. P. Lever, Del Flint and L. M. Geer. Kennewick Chief of Police M. H. Kershaw and Sheriff Harry Cochran of Prosser.

Truck Tie-up End Talk Set Monday

PORTLAND, Ore., April 26 (AP)—The federal conciliation service will attempt next Monday to settle the week-long tie-up of freight movements in this city.

Conciliators called warehouse and drayage operators and AFL teamsters to the conference. They have been in dispute since last Saturday on wage increases asked by the union.

The tie-up has affected 66 warehouse and drayage firms.

This wirephoto shot, rushed by telephone to The Herald and News from Washington, shows President Truman as he greeted Secretary of State Marshall on his return from the foreign ministers' confab in Moscow. Truman told the secretary he was pleased with his work.

Plunge Off Road Fatal

SEATTLE, April 26 (AP)—An Edmonds and a Seattle youth were killed when their automobile swerved off a road north of here about 10:30 p. m. last night, plunged down an embankment and overturned.

The state patrol reported the two were: Melvin Nelson, 20, Edmonds, and Jack Dennis Holloway, 19. The third passenger, Donald Nelson, Edmonds, was taken to the Everett General hospital.

The accident happened half a mile west of the Seattle-Everett highway on North 245th street, in Snohomish county. Holloway, who was driving, was thrown through the roof of the car but was crushed when it rolled over him, the state patrol said.

Terrorist Victim Dies Of Wounds

JERUSALEM, April 26 (AP)—A. E. Conquest, head of the criminal investigation department in the city of Haifa, died of wounds he received today when two young Jews fired upon him in downtown Haifa, it was announced officially.

First reports said Conquest was shot by two men riding in a taxicab. The cab, these reports said, traveled only a few hundred yards after the shooting and then crashed into a traffic island.

Two men dressed in khaki shorts leaped from the cab and escaped, informants said.

Conquest was shot twice in the abdomen.

Four Indicted By Grand Jury Fail To Appear Today

Four persons indicted by the last grand jury and all out on bail failed to show up in circuit court this morning for arraignment, causing Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg to threaten to forfeit their bonds and possibly hold non-appearing lawyers in contempt of court.

The judge threatened to forfeit $1500 cash bail put up by Mrs. Basic Ericks, mother of Gene Edwin Ericks, and also a $1500 property bond put up for Richard Carl Shuter, if they do not show up in court Tuesday at 10 o'clock.

Ericks was indicted for larceny in a dwelling and Shuter for malicious destruction of property. Neither was in court this morning, and A. C. Yaden, Shuter's attorney, likewise does not yet have an attorney.

Robert Jay Townsend and Willie Townsend, brothers indicted for robbery, not armed, were not in court either. They are out on $2500 bail and are in New Mexico, but their attorney, E. E. Driscoll, read a telegram from the Townsends saying that they were coming back to Klamath Falls. Judge Vandenberg put their arraignment off until Tuesday morning.

Jesus Santillano, 46-year-old white-haired Mexican accused of attempting to rape a white woman, was present in court but his arraignment was postponed until Tuesday. He is represented by D. E. Van Vactor, who was absent but had made prior arrangements for the postponement.

Also set for Tuesday morning was the time for Charles Samuels and John William Samuels, brothers, to enter a plea to an indictment for larceny. Clayton J. Burrell was appointed attorney for Charles Samuels, while the elder brother was told to hire a lawyer. He has property in Grants Pass.

Harry Lyle Gedney, ex-convict from California, was represented by R. F. McLaren this morning. He indicated that he was going to plead not guilty to a charge of assault, armed with a dangerous weapon. Gedney has been in jail for four months, since he was arrested for allegedly slugging a filling station operator in a robbery attempt.

Wayne Wymore, indicted for grand larceny, did not have an attorney and Fred O. Small was appointed to represent him in court next Tuesday morning.

Bank Cashier Dies Suddenly

Dewey Raymond Grace, 48, since November, 1941, cashier at the Butte Valley State bank of Dorris, died suddenly at his home in Dorris at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday. Death was attributed to a cerebral hemorrhage. Mr. Grace had been in good health but at noon yesterday complained of feeling ill and left the bank for his home. He had lunch but a short time later was found unconscious and death occurred within one hour.

Mr. Grace was a native of Missouri but came west as a young child. He entered the employ of the bank over five years ago, coming from the Long-Bell Lumber company at Weed, Calif. Prior to that time he had been with the First National bank of Weed.

At the time of his passing, Mr. Grace was president of the Dorris Lions club and had recently been appointed to the city council. He took an active interest in community affairs. Survivors include his wife, Amy, and a 2-year-old son, James. Final rites will be announced by the Gardner funeral home in Yreka pending arrival of a sister who is flying here from Oklahoma.

Five Dead In Bus Wreck

MADISON, Ga., April 26 (AP)—Five persons were killed and seven injured last night when a Southern Stages bus and a truck sideswiped at the bridge over Little river near here.

Trooper C. W. Fuller of the state highway patrol said all five dead and injured were bus passengers. The bus was en route from Macon to Athens, Ga.

Four of the dead were identified by a funeral home as Joe Ellis Mundy Jr., about 22, son of the U. S. district attorney in Atlanta; James Allen Dowling, about 25, of Hoboken, Ga.; Miss Zena Baker of Madison, Ga.; and Miss Doris Ruffin of Macon.

A negro woman was unidentified.

Three of the injured were in a serious condition.

Fuller said after the accident the bus careened into guard rails on the bridge approach and then back onto the highway. It did not overturn. The bus carried 13 persons, including the driver.

Mrs. H. P. Bosworth Named No. 1 Woman Of Year Here

Mrs. Harlan P. Bosworth Jr., in the past 18 years a resident of Klamath Falls, was given the non- or of Woman of the Year by the Soroptimist club at the annual award dinner Friday night at the Pelican party room.

Mrs. Bosworth was chosen for her long, untiring and successful work among the young people of the community as well as among the women's groups of the city. She is the mother of four children, one in college, one in high school, one in junior high and one in the grades, and has found time in addition to rearing her family to spend countless hours in public-spirited work. She was presented with the award by Mrs. Robert A. Thompson, past president of Soroptimist, on the basis of her outstanding contribution to the economic welfare of women and youth of the community.

A few of Mrs. Bosworth's accomplishments, mentioned by Mrs. Thompson, included teaching at St. Paul's Sunday school for 12 years, president of Riverside PTA, 1936-37; president of the League of Women Voters, 1943-44; chairman of the steering committee of peace and postwar planning forums, League of Women Voters, chairman of organizing committee of the child care health and welfare committee, a coordinating council for the extension of youth services, 1946-47; member of the juvenile court committee, 1946-47.

Chairman of the May Festival for Riverside PTA, 1946-47; Riverside PTA representative to the family living conference and leaders' training course, 1940-42; set up study programs and conducted these programs for two years; in general assisted the program of Camp Fire Girls, arranging use and development of the Camp Fire House. Helped with Girl Scout drives and acted as advisor to the Girl's Friendly Society of St. Paul's.

Mrs. Bosworth is a member of the County Health association and headed the League of Women Voters, "Know Your Schools Survey." In addition to a Woman of the Year gold pin, Mrs. Bosworth was presented with a corsage. She leaves as soon as school closes to make her home in Medford where her husband, H. P. Bosworth Jr., was recently named assistant to the general manager of the California Oregon Power company.

Mrs. Bosworth gave as the underlying motif in her long program of youth interest, "Every good parent wants for every child what she wants for her own children."

Mrs. Gertrude Moore, president of Soroptimist, introduced Mrs. Wilford E. Lamn, toastmistress of the evening. Speaker was Mrs. Victor O'Neill who chose as her topic, "Heroines of Fiction." To report Mrs. O'Neill's after dinner talk would be like describing the tail of a comet streaking across the sky, so scintillating and sparkling was it that Mrs. O'Neill sold herself as a permanent speaker. She was winner of last year's Woman of the Year.

Tables were beautifully decked with brandy bowls holding arrangements of roses, and alternating with pale green candles. Husband of Soroptimists, heads of service clubs and their wives, and a number of guests enjoyed the evening.

State Police Officer Dies In Gun Fray

HOOD RIVER, Ore., April 26 (AP)—Police of two states today sought as the killer of an Oregon state patrolman, a motorist whose speeding stolen coupe broke through a road block at The Dalles in a blaze of gunfire.

Delman E. Rondeau, 22, died on the sidewalk late last night as he staggered toward the police station here after exchanging shots with an unidentified man scarcely 150 feet from the station.

Arrest Ordered

Police Chief Howard Hollenbeck said an arrest for questioning order had been issued for Omar Pinson, alias John Omar Pinson, 28, Pasco, Wash., owner of a truck across which the shots were fired. The truck, parked down the street from the police station, contained two shotguns and three rifles, Hollenbeck said. He said Pinson had served a term for burglary at the Washington state penitentiary and one for robbery in the Missouri state prison.

Two men heard six shots fired, Hollenbeck said, and saw Rondeau stagger away from the truck, mortally wounded. Five shots had been fired from Rondeau's revolver. The witnesses were unable to see the shooting, Hollenbeck said, but bullet marks indicated the killer was crouched behind the hood of the truck. He said it was believed Rondeau was suspicious of the truck and had stopped to investigate although it was possible he had surprised a robbery attempt at a service station across the street. Rondeau had walked through the police station a few minutes before, asking for a policeman. Only Freeman Joseph Smith was on duty at the time and Rondeau did not tell him what he wanted.

Police immediately ordered roads blocked and a short time later a car, stolen here, sped past state, county and city police at The Dalles. It overtook as the officers sent a fusillade of shots toward it, but the driver escaped in the darkness.

Airlines Row Over Routes

PORTLAND, April 26 (AP)—Rival claims of airlines for a proposed Pacific Northwest-Hawaii air route before a civil aeronautics board yesterday were pressed again today in what was expected to be the final day of the hearing.

Pan-American Airlines said yesterday its ocean routes would open up "the whole Pacific basin and half the world" to the Northwest.

Northwest Airlines contended its continental routes made it the logical choice since it could develop business from the east and northern states and carry it through the Northwest to Hawaii.

Matson Navigation company viewed the air route as a necessary complement to the steamship service it now provides.

Transocean Airlines took no part in the proceedings yesterday.

China To Get Navy Vessels

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP)—President Truman today authorized the navy to give China an unspecified number of naval vessels and floating drydocks.

His order also authorized the navy detail not more than 100 officers and 200 enlisted men to assist China in naval matters.

Material deemed necessary to operate and maintain the vessels also is authorized but China would be expected to make cash reimbursement for any such material.

The president said he was acting under a 1946 law authorizing the transfer of up to 271 surplus vessels to assist in relieving United States forces of duty in China and to put China in better position to "protect or improve the safety of navigation in its waters."

While the president's order did not specify the type or number of vessels to be transferred, the act limits them to vessels and craft "which are in excess of the naval needs of the United States."

Mrs. Stephens Heads Health Association

LAKEVIEW, April 26—Mrs. Mitchell Stephens was elected president of the Lake County Health association, Friday, April 18, for the year 1947-48, succeeding Mrs. Jo Elliott.

The luncheon meeting featured an educational organization talk given by Ethel Newley of Portland, health education consultant for the Oregon Tuberculosis association.

Other new officers elected were Mrs. Phillip Neas, vice president; Mrs. LeVere Hewitt, secretary, and Mrs. Ann Sprague, treasurer. Mrs. Stephens announced as chairmen of her committees Mrs. Rollin McDonald, St. nursing; Mrs. Jo Harber, publicity; Mrs. Merle S. Lowden, education; Mrs. James Stewart, Christmas seal sale, and Mrs. Beryl Maxwell, finance.

5 Talks Aimed At 20-Day-Old Phone Tie-Up

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP)—Secretary of Labor Schwelmbach, taking an active hand in negotiations, called in key union leaders today in the midst of no less than five separate conferences aimed at settling the 20-day-old telephone strike.

In shirt sleeves, Schwelmbach met the union officials in his office as top government conciliators pressed for a compromise wage offer to end the dispute.

There was no immediate information on what Schwelmbach and the union were talking about.

No Wage Offer

As he went into the conference, President Joseph A. Beirne of the National Federation of Telephone Workers told reporters the union has received no wage offer as yet from the Bell System.

This was at least the fifth meeting of the day in a series of government efforts to end the walk-out. Besides a union policy committee conference, union, company and government conciliators engaged off and on in separate negotiations affecting three key units of the telephone system.

Union leaders said they had nothing to say concerning their talks as the policy group recessed in early afternoon subject to call.

Rejection by an important telephone system unit of a union proposal to go back to work for a $6 weekly increase — instead of the previously demanded $12 — brought this comment from John J. Moran, vice president of the National Federation of Telephone Workers:

"It seems to me the company is more interested in continuing the strike than in getting a settlement. They told us last night they were not going to make a wage offer."

"They admit they have the ability to pay. They admit there is a general wage movement in the country. They had told us that after steel, General Motors, and those other companies settled, they would definitely move, too."

"Now the rest have moved. But the telephone company won't budge a cent."

There was no further from company officials.

Beauticians Convention Opens Here

By Joy Evans Rolph

Close to 300 beauticians, including national and state officers, 60 delegates and numerous out-of-state operators from Northern California and Washington, are converging on Klamath Falls this week-end to participate in the annual state convention of the Oregon Association of Beauty Shop Owners and Operators, the first convalescence of this type ever held here with the Klamath union acting as host.

The fame of Ricardo Martin, outstanding Pacific Coast hair stylist, is the prime interest of many of the visiting beauticians, who are enrolling in special classes to be conducted by Ricardo on the latest trends in hair arranging. Ricardo arrived here Saturday morning from Hollywood and will also take part in other meeting activities, presiding as master of ceremonies at Monday evening's dinner at the Willard, the only event open to the public.

Hazel Schumacker, vice president of the National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists with which the Oregon association is affiliated, is arriving by plane Saturday evening from Modesto, Calif., and Mrs. Margaret Sanger, representative of the American Hairdressers magazine, reached here Friday to cover the entire convention for her trade journal.

State officers in attendance will include Lucille Kelly of Portland. (Continued on Page 4, Column 2)

Fishermen Road To

Trout fishing in the Klamath country opened today with a forecast of a high 60's at noon. When many persons who had to spend the morning at work were thinking about hitting the road, the mercury registered 56.

The general early spring is expected to have put most fishing streams several weeks ahead of the time of year, and fishing was expected to be better than normal for the opening week-end.

The cloudless sky will also beckon myriads of non-fishermen out on the highways for week-end motor trips, but the weatherman has tossed a minor monkey-wrench into the works by forecasting "partly cloudy tonight" for the Klamath area.

Up at the high school about 150 young athletes will be keeping an eye on the skies while running off the annual Southern Oregon-Northern California invitational track meet. The night meet, first here in many years, will start at 7:30 on Modoc field.

Also among the sporting events looking forward to good, warm week-end weather is the Elks-Reamers golf tourney at the country club tomorrow, and the Klamath Sons baseball game with the Medford Craters at Recreation field Sunday afternoon.
