

Craig Urges Defense For Alaska Area

JUNEAU, Alaska, May 1 (AP)—A program of United States preparedness against attack in the far north was urged today by Maj. Gen. Howard A. Craig, commanding general of the Alaskan command, in a speech before the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

"Next time we are target number one," the general remarked. "Next time the blow will come suddenly and unannounced in the form of powerful air attacks seeking to destroy or paralyze our defensive air and ground forces."

"Some of you will say who is this aggressor? Who are we going to fight? I don't know—but you know as well as I do that if we fight we will fight with people."

"Look to the north. There on the other side of the polar basin is the European Asiatic land with three-quarters of the world's population."

"There is where an attack will come from if we are ever forced into another conflict, and invading aircraft in flying the shortest route to our industrial areas will fly over the polar basin," the general concluded.

Contract Dispute Shuts Down Camps

COOS BAY, Ore., May 1 (AP)—Three logging camps were shut down here today in a dispute between the CIO International Woodworkers of America and the Coos River Boom company.

Marvin Berge, union agent, said the 125 loggers walked off the job Monday at the Irwin and Lyette camps over the delay in settlement of five grievances the union charges are violations of the contract.

Berge said the loggers would remain idle until the issues were settled.

April Proves One Of Worst In History

By The Associated Press

Taking more than 150 lives, April's weather this year leaves one of its worst scars in history.

In one tragic night, April 9, one of the most devastating tornadoes of record struck Woodward, Okla., and Higgins and Glazier, Tex., killing more than 150 persons, injuring hundreds of others and causing property damage counted in millions of dollars.

And as the month ended, two Arkansas communities, and the small town of Worth, Mo., were reeling from the fury of twisters which claimed at least 20 lives.

High Temperature

California reported a deficiency in rainfalls and above normal temperatures throughout the state.

The Washington weather bureau reported frost as far south as western North Carolina on April 28, but damage was slight.

In the Chicago area, April was recorded as the wettest in the 76 years since the Chicago fire.

In Montana, snow, frost and rain in the first half killed some fruit.

In the southwest the weather was unusually cool and damp.

In the Pacific Northwest, temperatures were well above normal. California reported April was deficient in rainfall.

SALEM, May 1 (AP)—The ban on smoking on buses operating in Oregon will remain in effect as a permanent measure, A. F. Harvey, head of the motor transportation division of the public utilities commissioner's office, said Wednesday.

The "No Smoking" rule was adopted during the war when buses were crowded.

"We're going to keep it in effect," Harvey said.

"We've had lots of commendation about it. Many people object to smoking and it makes them get sick. Every bus is required to make a rest stop at least every two hours, and that's often enough for anyone to smoke."

Smoking is permitted on buses operating in Washington and California.
