

Street Named As Delegate

TULELAKE, May 5—H. T. Street, treasurer of the Tulelake Rotary club, has been elected delegate to Rotary International convening in San Francisco June 8-13. The announcement followed a meeting of the board of directors of the club which was in session after Wednesday's luncheon meeting at the Sportman's hotel.

The club will present an honorary membership each year to the president of the high school student body, this student to be eligible to attend all meetings. Herbert Kirby is president this year and will attend his first meeting next week.

High school students, George Yost Jr., chairman, Janell Boyd, Malcolm Crawford, Mary Robertson, Robert Laird and Rosalie Wilkinson conducted a forum on what the youth expect of their community and what the community expects of youth. Vern Hemstreet, agriculture instructor, was chairman of the day.

Present for the meeting also were Carl Metzger, secretary of the YMCA, Shasta district, Alfred L. Perry, Berkeley, Otto Schultz, Santa Ana, E. J. Bishop, Redding, Harold Ferguson, Berkeley, Wesley McKay and M. L. Crawford, Tulelake, and the visiting Rotarians, Ed Goeckner, Merle West, Bob Newell, Gene Groves and A. H. Patterson, all of Klamath Falls.

Spud Shipment Tops Last Year

Potato shipments for this season are still ahead of shipments during the 1945-6 season, but only by seven carloads, according to USDA figures. To date, there have been 10,644 carloads of tubers shipped from the basin in the 1946-7 season, as compared with 10,637 for last season.

Spud Inspector Ross Aubrey said today that it looks like a nip and tuck race whether shipments this season will continue to top last season's shipments at the end of the shipping year. There are still 72 carloads listed as going out last year between May 5 and June 3. Aubrey said that there are about 150 carloads of spuds left in the basin, but he doubted that any large percentage would be shipped due to their poor quality.

Suburban Fire Vote Tuesday

Residents of the south suburban area will go to the polls Tuesday to vote for five directors of the newly-formed fire district covering that section. Polls, at the Ned Smith home, 5512 S. 8th, will be open from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m.

Nine candidates are in the running for the board positions. C. R. Bird, Leon E. Judd, William S. Mettler, Clyde H. Williams, Frank F. Steele, George Williams, Cecil L. Prather, L. Alva Lewis and R. Griffith.

The election, held once before, is being re-held, because the first voting took place too near the time of the fire zone hearing. The law provides that 30 days must elapse between the two.

On the election board are Mrs. Ned Smith, chairman; Anna McCormack and Ada Barleen, judges; Alice Hoover, Susan E. Williams and Dacie Hoover, clerks.

Merrill House Damaged by Fire

MERRILL, May 5—A two-story frame house on Lost river, one of the landmarks of Merrill, was partially destroyed by fire early this morning.

The residence was occupied by Frank and Bill Miller, brothers, who work as carpenter-contractors in Merrill. All their furniture was saved and they said that the building was about a 50 per cent loss. There was some insurance coverage.

The Merrill fire department fought the blaze for two hours after it was discovered at 6:30 a. m.

Order of Rainbow To Meet Wednesday

TULELAKE, May 5—The Tulelake assembly Order of the Rainbow for Girls will meet Wednesday evening, May 7, in the annex of the Presbyterian Community church for initiation, election and the official visit of the grand deputy, Mrs. Alma Coulson. The affair will be formal.

Recreation Meet Slated

TULELAKE, May 5—Representatives of 10 or more civic and social organizations here will meet tonight, Monday, to lay concrete plans for Tulelake's proposed recreational program for both youth and adults. A preliminary meeting held last week brought out hopes of various age groups for inclusion in the plans of a number of pet entertainment plans.

The high school group put in a bid for a swimming pool, the volunteer fire department drew attention to the work being accomplished on the baseball diamond and consideration was taken of the needs of the pre-school age group.

Carl Metzger, secretary of the YMCA, Shasta district, offered suggestions for organizing efforts of the community toward the project.

addressing the need for a small beginning from which a more extensive program can be developed.

A. V. Kollenbaur, secretary of the Klamath Falls YMCA, also was present with an encouraging comment.

Ross Raglund, manager of the Tulelake Cold Storage company, was named general chairman who is calling the meeting for tonight.
