Marshall Asks Korea Hearing

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall sent a new note today to Russia on the proposal to reopen direct Soviet-American negotiations May 20 on a provisional government for Korea.

A state department announcement of the action was accompanied by a hint that preparations for the meeting might be held up until a reply is received from Soviet Foreign Minister Molotov.

The text was not made public but officials said it might be given out tomorrow.

Press Officer Reginald Mitchell told reporters that the note, fifth in an exchange between Marshall and Molotov on the Korean issue, was telegraphed to the embassy at Moscow for delivery.

Mitchell declined to say whether a note received Friday from Molotov was satisfactory, or whether instructions have been held up for Lt. Gen. John R. Hodge, American occupation commander, to make preparations for resumption of negotiations.

Please don't get the idea that we wish anybody such bad luck as the gentleman above is having. Most of us in the Southern Pacific have cars and we don't like flat tires any more than you do.

However, we believe an occasional vacation from the steering wheel is good for the nerves. It's fun to relax and take it easy while the engineer does the driving.

"You'll be a king without a throne ... unless you get that stalled motor started — pronto"

GATEMAN: Better get this caboose on a siding, your majesty; the Limited's comin' through in three minutes. And take a tip from me: next time fuel this tea kettle with Chevron Supreme Gasoline. It's "climate-tailored" for this end of the line, balanced to give you sure starts and zippy pick-up in our climate.

HOT DOG KING: (later) Thanks for the tip on Chevron Supreme. The old wagon's got more pep now than a hot-shot freight barreling down-grade, and I haven't heard a ping since high-octane Chevron Supreme went in the tank. What'll you have, old timer, pickle or mustard? Your hot dogs are on the house from now on.

It's good going on
