

Four Industries Seen As Potential Trouble Spots

WASHINGTON, May 12 (AP) — Four industries still are potential trouble spots on the labor-management front:

- 1. Coal.
- 2. Maritime.
- 3. Railroads.
- 4. Construction.

CIO factory workers have won wage increases without striking. The telephone strike is about ended. These developments were good news for America. But there may be some news around a couple of corners.

The situation in each of the possible trouble spots is this: Coal—A strike is feared for July 1. That's when the government must restore the bituminous coal mines to private operators. And John L. Lewis and the operators haven't even started bargaining on the terms of a contract.

They have held meetings, but to date have talked only about the issue of industry-wide bargaining. The next session is scheduled Thursday.

Southern coal operators, who have been urging congress to outlaw industry-wide bargaining, are unwilling to sit down with northern operators and Lewis to write a single contract. At least, many of them are unwilling. By Thursday, more will be known as to how many are agreeable to acting on an industry-wide basis—as Lewis insists.

The action of the senate last week in defeating 44-43, a proposal to limit industry-wide bargaining may influence some of the southerners.

Maritime—The contracts of five CIO maritime unions will expire June 14. The biggest unions involved are Joe Curran's National Maritime Union, on the east coast, and Harry Bridges' longshoremen, on the west coast.

Negotiations haven't started yet. The unions' demands haven't emerged. On the west coast, the waterfront employers have shown aggressiveness and already have made one demand, that the expiration date of their contracts with the longshoremen be changed from June 15 to September 30, when AFL women's contracts expire.

The CIO unions are making efforts to work together but they are not so closely knit as a year ago, when they formed the committee for maritime unity. That organization fell apart in an atmosphere of bitterness after Curran resigned as co-chairman.

Another change since the stormy maritime disputes of 1946 is that the government is not so intimately involved. Only a small percentage of the ships are still operated for the government. And there is no wage stabilization board nor wage control.

Railroads—The rail unions have made demands, but no crisis is likely to develop before fall.

Seventeen non-operating unions (telegraphers, clerks, railroad shop workers, and the like) have banded together and demanded a wage increase of 20 cents an hour.

Construction—Local wage disputes in the building trades are cropping up here and there, with more to come. This is the season when contracts in the industry generally expire.

War Damage Claim Funds Very Low

TOKYO, May 12 (AP)—The allies may have to settle their war-damage penalties on the dollar, one well-informed, authoritative allied source indicated today.

Japanese assets, here and abroad, won't begin to match the claims, which probably will be hundreds of billions of dollars, he asserted.

The allies also seem certain to get back only a portion of the property, ships and industry which Japan seized during the war.

Some looted property already has been returned to owners, but allied governments still have claims for far more loot than their representatives found on their 6000-mile tour, just concluded.

Search Abandoned For Four Missing From Tug

SEATTLE, May 12 (AP)—Four seamen still are missing from the eight-man crew of the war surplus tug W. H. McFadden which sank late Friday in the Strait of Juan de Fuca. The coast guard said all are believed to have perished.

The coast guard announced this forenoon that search efforts were being abandoned after exhaustive efforts had failed to locate the sunken craft or any evidence that any of the men survived.

Coroner A. C. Grady said at Port Townsend examination of the bodies led him to believe the boat might have caught fire and the men had time only to don lifejackets before an explosion sent it down.

Exact cause of the sinking remains a mystery, although shipping men and coast guard authorities expressed belief the craft either foundered in a treacherous rip tide or caught fire and exploded.

The McFadden, a 93-foot 400-horsepower steel-decked tug, was en route to New Orleans, La. It was purchased recently from the war surplus administration by the Liquidated Fuel and Transportation company, Fort Worth, Tex.

Guard Rails Asked For Highway

LOSTINE, May 12 (AP)—Students of Lostine high school have asked the Oregon state highway commission to place guard rails on three miles of Minam hill immediately as a public safety measure.

A CHALLENGE TO THE CLASS OF '47

Your country needs you now. The future of a free America may rest on your decision.

There is no Draft today to put you in the Army. Yours is the first class since 1940 that faces a free choice. But with that freedom, as with every freedom, goes responsibility.

The nation has put the maintenance of a strong, alert, defensive force squarely up to you. This is the only country in the world that dares to raise and maintain a million-man Army by voluntary enlistment, in the American tradition. The duty of keeping our Army ready for emergencies is shared by every citizen—for never before, in peacetime, has the need for it been greater.

Our freedom, our ideals, the safety of our homes and families, depend on a world peace backed by firmness and justice. It's your Army now—yours to keep strong.

Joining the Army as a volunteer may mean some sacrifice to you. On the other hand, you have much to gain from the experience. Sound physical condition, training in leadership, world travel and adventure, the comradeship of a fine group of young men, a job with a real future at better pay than you can get in most civilian work—all these make the Army an excellent career for young men who can measure up to its high standards. And in addition you will be entitled to educational benefits under the GI Bill of Rights, if you enlist before Congress officially terminates the war.

Before making your decision, get the full story of this career opportunity at your nearest U. S. Army Recruiting Station.

What Makes Telephone Jobs Good Jobs?

We believe telephone jobs are good jobs. But we'd like to tell you something about working conditions in the telephone company so you may decide for yourself. Good jobs are made up of a number of things... For example...

- IS THE WORK STEADY?
Telephone pay checks come regularly—month in and month out. That's mighty important to wage earners who can plan ahead and have reasonable assurance of steady telephone work all through the year, and year after year.
- ARE EXTRA PAYMENTS MADE FOR SUNDAYS WORKED?
Yes. Time and a half is paid for Sunday work.
- ARE EXTRA PAYMENTS MADE FOR HOLIDAYS WORKED?
Yes. Double time is paid for specified holidays worked. Full pay (with a few exceptions) is received by those who do not work these holidays. The holidays are New Year's Day, Washington's Birthday, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Thanksgiving and Christmas.
- ARE THERE PAID VACATIONS?
Certainly. After a year's service, employees get one week with pay... two weeks after two years on the job... three weeks after fifteen years.
- ARE THERE SICKNESS BENEFITS, DEATH BENEFITS AND PENSIONS?
Yes, since 1913 and provided at no cost to the employee.
SICKNESS BENEFITS range from four weeks at full pay plus nine weeks at half pay for an employee with two years' service on up to a year at full pay for those with 25 years' service. The spectre of illness doesn't worry the telephone family quite as much as it would without this plan.
DEATH BENEFITS to dependents range from four months' pay for an employee with two years' service on up to a full year's pay for an employee of ten years or more.
PENSIONS—A funded plan paid for wholly by the company. Money accumulated over the past twenty years is held by the Bankers Trust company as trustee. This money can be used for employees' pensions only. Each employee's pension is based on his rate of pay and length of service.
- ARE CAFETERIAS PROVIDED?
Employee cafeterias, in larger offices, serving quality food at low prices... attractive lounge rooms... good surroundings... are just a few of the things that make telephone work pleasant.

More than 16,000 people here on the coast have liked their telephone jobs well enough to spend more than 15 years with the company.

These things coupled with a policy of paying wages that compare with those paid for jobs requiring similar skill and training in this territory have made it possible to attract good people to these good jobs.
