Orchids By Air Mail . . . Starry-eyed was Mrs. Emil Albrecht when she showed us the lei of little orchids air mailed from daughter Merlon in Honolulu for Mother's Day. The lei is quite beyond description and came in fine condition, air mailed late Friday out of Hawaii, coming by Clipper over the Pacific, and arriving here Sunday. Shades of Capt. Cook! The box in which the lei was packed, deep in dampened batting, was rich crimson lettered in gold. Merlon is on vacation in the islands from her interesting job with Otis McAllister, importers and exporters, in San Francisco.
