

Chiloquin

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Muskrat were Chiloquin guests for several days last week before leaving on an eastern vacation. They plan to return the last of June to their home in Stewart, Nev.

Mrs. J. D. Linder of Springfield visited last week with her daughter and family, the G. D. McKella. Mrs. McKella left on Sunday with her mother for a three-day visit in the Willamette valley.

Mr. and Mrs. William Priebe were Tuesday, May 19, guests in Westfir, Ore.

If one wants to know the time these days, ask a senior girl. Nearly all of them have dainty, accurate gift watches for graduation.

The Rev. E. W. Johnson announced upon his recent return from Washington that he and his family will move to a suburb of Everett, Wash., about the middle of June. This week they are in Eugene attending the annual conference for the Bible Standard church.

A transfer of 87 acres adjoining the Willamson river just west of the bridge on highway 97 took place last week when Mr. McQuiston of Fort Klamath purchased the partially cleared holding of Henry G. Wolf. The acreage contains a rustic cabin on the bank of the river. The purchase price was undisclosed.

Some way we passed an interesting item last week. Frank Parker, head of U. S. Irrigation, gave us the facts. A week ago Friday the irrigation canal which leads from the government dam to the farming areas near Modoc, Point and Willamson river districts, broke. The break occurred in a concrete check used for emergency outlet, and was part of the original canal installation of 1914. Before it was stopped 150 feet of adjoining ditch had broken out. Crews went to work at once and by the following Tuesday afternoon water was turned back into the project. The several days were not too hard on farmers as the chief irrigation does not begin for another month.

The Bible Standard church had on Wednesday night four guest ministers. Mrs. Ann Bogart, "The Whistling Evangelist," had been here for several days but she was joined by three other "B's"—the Misses Naomi Bacon, Ethel Brunhaven and Nora Brooks, women on their way to a missionary post in Liberia, Africa. The foursome visited Crater lake on Thursday.

Bonnie Glenger and Mrs. Gerry Wolf spent three days the first of the week visiting friends in Eugene, Coburg, Corvallis and Monmouth. While at the University of Oregon they attended a student opera, "The Marriage of Figaro."

A large crowd attended the final function of the school year, the commencement dance held in the high school gym on Saturday night, May 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Quince Buell are visiting with Mrs. Marit Tellevik during the absence of her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Lott, who are on a short vacation to Alaska.

Graduation exercises this past Thursday night drew many people from out of town. Some we noticed were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Greear and Margaret Lee, Mr. and Mrs. George Fry, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Fry, and Mrs. E. E. Evans all from the Rogue river valley; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Corson of Sweet Home, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Muskrat of Stewart, Nev., Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kranenburg, Mrs. Dick Kranenburg, Mrs. David Totton, Pat Buell, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Glenger and children, Mrs. Grace Green, Mary Grace and Bill, Harley Olson, Mrs. Quince Buell, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dooley, all of Klamath Falls.

An Altamont couple were Mr. and Mrs. Dale Welch. Mrs. Welch, the former Ruth Gysbers, began her teaching career by instructing Chiloquin second graders, five of whom were graduated last night after spending all 12 years in the Chiloquin schools.

Dr. L. S. Cressman of the University of Oregon at Eugene, Mrs. J. D. Linder of Springfield, Elmore Nicholson and Kenneth Luderman, students at Southern Oregon College of Education, Mrs. Pete Hamlan and Patricia of Lakeview, and many people from outlying communities were in attendance.

Hilda Olsen, commercial instructor for the past several years, left on Saturday. She planned a short visit in Portland and Silverton, a month in Minnesota, and then a move into her own home in Silverton.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Elliott returned on Friday from a short trip to Portland.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Schueck left on Saturday morning to move to Auburn, Calif.

Word was received last week-end that Mr. DeFord, father of Mrs. Lester Vaughn, formerly of here but now of Prineville, suffered a stroke while in Lakeview last week. No further word of his condition has reached here.

Mr. and Mrs. Lou Kellison spent last week-end in San Francisco, returning on Monday.

The Altar society of Mt. Carmel Catholic church met for a social evening on Monday, May 19, at the Klamath Agency home of Mrs. B. G. Courtright, the final meeting until fall. Each guest brought a gift given to bingo players of the evening. Refreshments were served by the hostesses to the many women in attendance.

WARNING!
Don't go to the Yukon Tavern
in Tulelake

which is run by Charles and Jo Card, even though they do serve the finest wines, cordials and liquors in their cocktails, highballs and Martinis, that are expertly made by neat and courteous bartenders and served in clean dishes, and even though they serve the finest baked ham sandwiches, which only Charley knows how to bake and prepare.

I repeat:
Don't go to the Yukon Tavern

unless you can stand the shock of their low prices, or unless you are prepared to spend a most enjoyable evening while eating, dancing, drinking and meeting your old friends and making new friends who also are enjoying themselves.

Dancing starts at 9:00 p.m. Open 8:00 a.m. to midnight, 7 days a week.

The whole community has known these people for the past 15 years and everyone knows that they will rob you of your peace of mind until you have come to visit their beautiful tavern and they are just mean enough to steal away all your resistance with their tempting supreme baked ham sandwiches.

The grand opening of the new and modern tavern will be on Saturday, May 31. So, if you don't heed the warning to stay away, come early in order to get your seat in one of their comfortable booths where the maid will serve you with the best that money can buy.

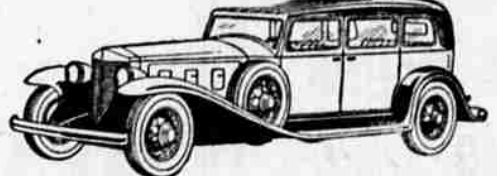

The business is now open for your convenience.

Maybe you can name these 3 old-timers...

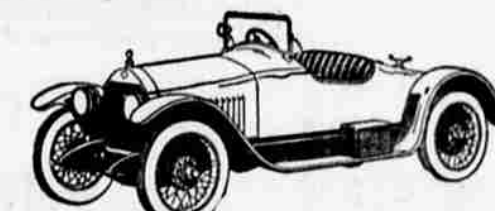

but can you name three ways that "RPM" would keep them young today?

1. Those bull-frog lights make this one easy to guess. More of these cars might be around today if RPM Motor Oil had been invented sooner. Your modern car is luckier, for "RPM" is compounded to rust-proof engines. Since internal rust causes 80% of engine wear, rust-busting "RPM" makes cars last lots longer.

2. This limousine's long hood hid sixteen cylinders—and all sixteen of 'em took a terrible beating from "creeping" oil. RPM Motor Oil would have kept this M... young because it's compounded to cling to hot spots and guard sizzling upper cylinder walls that "creeping" oils leave bare, exposed to wear.

3. They called this speedster a Bearcat, but carbon caused by old-fashioned oil could make it weak as a kitten. Too bad it didn't have the "RPM" that ends carbon trouble in modern cars. For premium-quality "RPM" contains added compounds that prevent carbon, and all the other motor ills ordinary oil can't stop.
