Elderly Vegetarian Is Hollywood's Party King

By HAL BOYLE

HOLLYWOOD, June 14 (AP)—An elderly vegetarian who doesn't tipple is the king of West coast party throwers.

And no one has more fun at his parties than does Multi-Millionaire Atwater Kent, 73-year-old retired inventor and radio manufacturer.

Searching for operatic talent, helping charities and giving parties are his hobbies.

"I like people and I like to see them have a good time," he said. "I have no work to do now since I retired. So consequently I can put all my time into my pleasures—and people are my chief pleasure."

His home is a fabulous red-roofed white villa atop a mountain in Bel Air, an exclusive district where tired people rest from making much money and even the moths are reported to have gold-plated wings. The estate, one of the real showplaces of America, has a series of terraced gardens reminiscent of an old Italian castle.

Kent—his friends insist on calling him "Attie" but "I really prefer to be called Atwater" — lives alone on the estate with 17 house servants and seven gardeners.

Diplomats, financiers, movie stars, notables in many fields and ordinary people he just met and liked are invited to his parties. They all come. His parties are divided into two kinds—civic and private. The civic affairs may bring up to 500 guests—such as the party he once threw for the children of the movie colony. He hired a circus for the day—gossips said it cost $3000 and he enjoyed it so much he brought the circus back for four other parties. Total casualties: one camel fell off a truck; one lady writer fell off an elephant.

I went to one of his smaller private parties, the kind he likes best to give. He greeted us at the door—as he does every guest individually—a slim, small upright man with keen and friendly blue eyes and an old-world politeness. He wore a gray suit, black shoes, and a large red and gray bow tie.

He is what the ladies hereabouts describe as "one of the last of the real gentlemen."

Scores of gaily colored balloons with long strings floated from the rooms. I asked him his recipe for a good party—aside from the good drinks, good food, and good music he always provides—and he said:

Hold To 125

"For a friends' party like this I like to have about 125 people. Over that it gets unwieldy, and I can't mingle with them all and be as friendly or as hospitable as I like.

"I think that at least half the people should know each other. If there are too many strangers they don't mix well. The first hour is the critical period of a party—it is always quiet. By the second hour they've eaten and had a little to drink, and are feeling better. By the third hour they know each other, and everything is going strong."

A film figure present estimated that it cost "$15 to $20 a head—that's the way we figure them in Hollywood—by the head"—for entertainment of the kind Kent likes to provide.

"That would make $2500 or under for this little gathering," he said.

But to Kent now "giving parties is my biggest pleasure in life." It's worth it to him if the guests have fun. And where do you think Hollywood's leading party thrower was born?

Vermont! Yes, VERMONT.

Grain Shows Slight Gain

CHICAGO, June 14 (AP)—Feed grains developed strength on the board of trade today, bouncing back from the preceding session's break, but once again wheat slipped into lower territory.

Floods in Iowa caused some buying in corn and oats and the yellow grain was also aided by a good demand in the spot market. Number two yellow corn sold at premiums ranging to as much as 27 cents a bushel over the July future, an unusually wide gap.

Persistent selling of wheat reflected a continuation of moderate hedging pressure. Lack of investment support results from doubts concerning the country's ability to absorb the record-breaking wheat crop at recent price levels.

Wheat closed ½-1¾ lower, July $2.11¼-2.11, corn was 1⅜ to 4 cents higher, July $1.89-1.89⅜, and oats were ¾-1⅜ higher, July 92⅞-93.

LIVESTOCK

CHICAGO, June 14 (AP-USDA)—Salable hogs 300 (estimated); total 3300; compared week ago: barrows and gilts 25-75 higher, most advance on weights below 250 lbs.; lightweight sows steady to 50 higher; others steady to 50 lower.

Bug Warfare Test Slated

BERKELEY, Calif., June 14 (AP)—Bacterial warfare against insects, based on the fact that crop-destroying bugs are subject to disease epidemics which can be started by man, is about to get a major tryout in California.

Earmarked for the initial attacks are the red scale, one of the worst pests of citrus trees; the yellow striped army worm and the alfalfa butterfly, which destroy alfalfa, and the oak moth, an enemy of oak trees.

Biological control specialists headed by Dr. Edward A. Steinhaus, University of California insect disease expert, will direct the operations.

Fundamentally the idea is not new but it is described as the first project of its kind in this country to embrace such plans for battle against insect pests in general. It has been tried in a restricted way in at least two other places—in New Jersey against the Japanese beetle and in Canada against some forest pests.

Alaska Pilots Found Today

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, June 14 (AP) The Alaska air command reported today that pilots of two army P-51's missing since Thursday morning had been found by a searching float plane on the northwest side of Knik arm, at the head of Cook inlet. The two had suffered minor injuries when they bailed out for some unexplained reason.

50 Feared Dead In Tragedy

Va., and found the airliner by following its normal course.

The big ship was a four-engine plane of the type known to commercial fliers as a DC-4. Like two other planes which crashed with heavy loss of life in the last 17 days, it was a former army plane—a military C-54 converted to civilian use.

Forty-two persons died May 29 in the fiery crack-up of a similar plane taking off from La Guardia field, N. Y. The next day another plane of the same type crashed near Port Deposit, Md., killing 53.

Investigations

Investigations of both those crashes still are under way. Some indications developed that a structural failure in the tail assembly caused the Port Deposit disaster and the army and navy ordered their C-54s temporarily grounded pending inspection of this assembly.

Aboard the Capital Airlines ship were 47 passengers—one a 10-month-old infant—and a crew of three, pilot, co-pilot and hostess.

Carson Named To Law Position

SALEM, June 14 (AP)—State Sen. Alan G. Carson was elected president of the Willamette University College of Law Alumni association at a meeting of the group here Friday night.

He succeeds J. B. Bedingfield of Coos Bay who was elected president at the group's formation last November.

John Ebinger of Klamath Falls was elected vice president and Joseph B. Felton was named secretary-treasurer.

Klamath Churches Get Buildings

Seven chapels at Camp White, Medford, have been awarded by the Portland regional office of the war assets administration to churches in Oregon. Among them are two to Klamath Falls churches, the Peace Memorial Presbyterian church, and the Immanuel Baptist church.

The other five went to Valley View Seventh Day Adventist church, Medford; Federated church, Central Point; Church of the Foursquare Gospel, Medford; Bethany Presbyterian church, Grants Pass, and the United Church of the Upper Hood River Valley, Parkdale.

Diner Steward Sues Railroad

CINCINNATI, June 14 (AP)—Dining car waiter, Eston Hoard, asks a $25,000 judgment against the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad on grounds the C & O is using a photograph of him without his consent to advertise its "no tipping" service.

Hoard contended that tips are a substantial part of his income and use of his photograph has damaged his reputation among fellow waiters.

SON BORN

SEATTLE, June 14 (AP) — A 63-year-old marine engineer, Harry P. Koeger, and his 18-year-old bride of a year were proud parents today. A five-pound baby boy was born to Mrs. Koeger Thursday night. Their romance drew wide attention last July because the bride had been a "girl friend" of the elderly engineer's son.

VITAL STATISTICS

MAXWELL—Born at Klamath Valley hospital, Klamath Falls, Ore., June 13, 1947, to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard C. Maxwell, route 3 box 524, city, a boy. Weight, 8 pounds 11 ounces.

PATRICK—Born at Klamath Valley hospital, Klamath Falls, Ore., June 14, 1947, to Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Patrick, Tulelake, Calif., a girl. Weight, 7 pounds 6½ ounces.
