$64 Question

WHERE FROM HERE?—Where do we go from here? This life on earth is not all and what must we do to go on to glory? So the lawyer wanted to know and Jesus sent him back to the law. It said to love God with your whole heart, soul and strength and mind your neighbor as yourself. Quite right, said Jesus. This do and you earn eternal life.

NONE EVER DID—Only Christ ever so loved God and man. Only Christ ever so loved God and neighbor as to earn eternal life. He was tempted to kill, to steal, to curse, to hate and to carouse. Christ was tempted at every point like as we, yet He sinned not. Sinless He took over your sins and died for you. Make Him your Saviour and God writes your sins off and His sinless days on.

CLEAN PAGE—Again the $64 Question—Where do we go from here? With all the sins written off your page and Christ's holy life written in, you are set for glory on Resurrection Morn. His people who have died will then be raised up into bodies of glory and His then alive on the earth also changed and clothed in glory. What for you Resurrection Morn?

Rec Program Sign-Up Set

Klamath Falls youngsters will register Monday for the city's summer recreation program, largest play project in many years, under the direction of Samuel H. Smith, recreation director.

Registration for playground activities will be at the individual schools where recreation centers are set up, Fremont, Mills, Pelican, Roosevelt and Klamath Union high school. Those interested in working and swimming will register at KUHS, with the exception of youngsters in the Pelican district, who will sign up at Pelican school.

Instructors and staff members met with Smith this morning for a complete outline of the project and schedules. Smith stresses that youngsters may sign up or withdraw at any time since the entire plan is to furnish occupation for leisure hours.

Complete schedules at all the schools and for the swimming program were published in the June 12 issue of The Herald and News. The recreation set-up will run from Monday to August 22.

Swimming instruction will be given for a 10-cent per hour charge to students at the KUHS pool, and on weekday evenings and Saturdays and Sundays, the pool will be open for public swimming. Thursday evening will be reserved for private group swimming provided the recreation office receives requests by noon, Tuesday.

New Brick And Tile Plant Goes Into Production Here

By VAN HEMERT
A new enterprise in the Klamath basin was getting into production today, and its owners Herbert and Howard Graham and Harvey Borgman, are making plans for a full scale effort. The new plant is located just off Biehn street on the old Shippington road. The plant will be called the Harvey Tile Co. and will produce tile building blocks. Production will be concentrated on two sizes, a regular tile and a smaller veneer tile. The daily capacity of the new plant will be approximately 3500 units of the regular tile, or 7200 units of the veneer tile. According to Harvey Borgman, it is not only the plant that is new.

The tile blocks to be produced there are made by a wholly new process. In the past the mixture of cement, waterproofing, coloring and either sand or pumice has been poured into the forming die, subjected to a vibrating action applied at the base of the die and pressed into shape. The tile being produced at the Harvey Tile company will have two separate "fades" in their center. The section of the block between them adds necessary strength. In the process of moulding these blocks that portion of the new-type die which forms the hole is vibrated instead of the base as in the old process. The resulting product, Borgman firmly believes, is superior to that produced by the old method.

Also on the new side of the ledger is the basic material to be used. Instead of a light pumice material or plain sand, the product will utilize volcanic sand. It is not as heavy as sand nor as light as pumice, sort of in between you might say, and is very strong.

Engaged in actually making the new blocks are machine operator Leslie Dunn, who controls the actual forming process; mix-master Johnny Campbell, who controls the mixture and sees to it that the ratio of cement, coloring, waterproofing and volcanic sand remains constant; take-off and curing man Herbert Graham, who racks the blocks, keeps them wet during the seven-day curing process.

Having ironed out original production difficulties, Borgman believes the new plant will soon be producing material sufficient for more than a house a day.

Searchers Hunt Missing Girl

BROOKINGS, Ore., June 14 (AP)—Seventy-five men tramped through a brushy wilderness along the north fork of southwest Oregon's Chetco river today in search of 16-year-old Darlene Hogan, who vanished from her ranch home 12 miles north of here Thursday.

Bob Hogan, her blind, goat rancher father, said the girl left the ranch house at 7 a. m. Thursday to shepherd a flock of goats to a mountain meadow 500 yards distant. Sheriff's officers from Gold Beach, Curry county seat, directed loggers, sawmill hands and townspeople in the search. The area is a few miles north of the California-Oregon border near the Pacific coast.

Frost During Week Hurts Tender Vegetable Crops

Frost Tuesday night was extremely spotty throughout the county, affecting maybe an acre fairly heavily and missing an adjacent field entirely, reports coming into the county agent's office indicate.

Tender vegetable crops such as beans, tomatoes, corn and cucumbers were pretty generally seriously damaged. In addition a good many sections of spuds were nipped, where some of the plants were just coming up and others several inches high. Leaves were pretty well blackened by the frost in some instances, but in no case has complete damage to crops been reported. Unless the central stalk has been frozen, plants can recover and with the soil in its present favorable condition and the current mild, bright weather assisting, no loss is expected in this area. Early spring rye and fall rye and wheat were probably damaged some. C. A. Henderson, county agent estimated, but no reports on these have been received.

The area probably the hardest hit by frost was the south end of the county, but here damage was spotty as elsewhere. The agricultural experiment station reported the temperature on Tuesday night at 33 while just across the road the weather station's report had it at 34 degrees and at other points it was evidently lower.
