

Marshall, Aides Work Out Policy Program To Unite Western Europe

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Diplomatic Reporter

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall and his top advisers have now worked out an approach to what they consider the twin threats of chaos and communism in Europe.

Their program will either unite much of that continent by this year's end or divide it worse than ever before—depending on a Russian reaction.

Diplomatic officials say that if Russia holds to her refusal to cooperate it almost certainly will force the organization of western Europe along into a sort of economic federation. That would mean Russia and her eastern bloc of states would be cut off from any substantial American help.

Marshall is reported to hope this will not happen. That Russia will go along or at least permit some of the dominated countries to go along with the American proposal for some kind of economic federation of Europe. His policy apparently is one of an "open door" to Russian cooperation, if the door is to be closed, Russia will have to close it.

However, the probability that she will do is considered here to be very great. Undersecretary of State Dean Acheson said at noon in a speech at Middletown, Conn., last night. He told a Wesleyan university commencement audience:

"The minority communist regimes of eastern Europe have acted to cut the people off economically from the community of Europe, curtail their productivity, and to bind them to exclusive economic relations with the Soviet Union."

While President Truman did not comment directly on the problems involved, he also took occasion over the week-end to denounce three of the regimes in eastern Europe, those of Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria. He said they "not only have disregarded the will of the majority of the people but have resorted to measures of oppression against them."

At the same time Mr. Truman praised the efforts of the Italians who, he said, "are rebuilding with their own labors a new democracy and restoring their lost freedom. He promised continued American help to Italy."

The occasion for his comments, making a sharp distinction between eastern and western Europe, was his signing of the formal ratification of the peace treaties with the four countries.

When the treaties come into force with Soviet ratification the occupation of the former satellite countries will end, and Russian troops must be withdrawn from the Balkans except for communications forces in Romania and Bulgaria. Acheson suggested in his speech that this might be the beginning of a new political period in the Balkans. He said it is a question how long present communist regimes can survive after "the withdrawal of foreign bayonets."

Both the president's and Acheson's words indicated that however wide the east-west split becomes the United States does not intend to abandon its policy of trying to unite all Europe even though Russia does not cooperate.

Portland Crash Kills Two Men
PORTLAND, June 16 (AP)—A traffic crash killed two Portland men and injured five other persons yesterday.

The dead are Carl Bert Borg, 40, and Howard Forsyth, 38. Their deaths brought Portland's 1947 traffic toll to 30.

Borg's wife, Gladys, and his two children—Patricia, 6, and Jimmie, 4—were riding with him, and were taken to a hospital with injuries. George Albertson, driver of the car in which the other victim was riding, suffered a broken ankle and cuts, and Esther Albertson received compound thigh fractures.

James Marion Snodgrass (above) of Cincinnati, O., 39-year-old biologist, said he aided British and New Zealand scientists in the development of a secret weapon he said was "as awesome in its effects as the atomic bomb."

SOC Names Professors

ASHLAND, Ore., June 16—With the approval by the Oregon state board of higher education at its June meeting of rank advancement for SOC staff members, the college obtained a position comparable to the best of the colleges in the Northwest. The advancements to full professors of Dr. W. Wells, Dr. Arthur Taylor and Roy McNeal from associate professor status recognizes three men who have served Southern Oregon college for 20 years. Professor McNeal began in 1927 as coach at the college. He started the Southern Oregon college basketball tournament, and is now devoting full time to teaching physical science and geography. McNeal is a popular speaker, a fine teacher, and an active citizen and Mason. Professor Taylor is one of the original staff having come to the college in 1926. He teaches social sciences and is well known as an extension man. Professor Wells is also a 1926 staff member. He teaches biological science, advises several student activities and is popular with the students.

Three of the staff members who were new on the staff last year received rank advances to assistant professors from instructor ratings. These men are Elliott MacCrack-

UPSET STOMACHS YIELD INCHES OF GAS AND BLOAT

"I was so full of gas I was afraid I'd burst. Sour, bitter substance rose up in my throat from my upset stomach after meals. I got INNER-AID, and it worked inches of gas and bloat from me. Waistline is way down now. Meals are a pleasure. I praise Inner-Aid to the sky."—This is an actual testimonial and we can verify it.

INNER-AID is the new formula containing medicinal juices from 12 Great Herbs; these herbs cleanse bowels, clear gas from stomach, act on sluggish liver and kidneys. Miserable people soon feel different all over. So don't go on suffering—Get Inner-Aid. Sold by all drug stores. Payless Drug, 808 Main. Adv.

Snell Names July Fifth As Holiday

SALEM, June 16 (AP)—July 5 will be a legal holiday in Oregon by proclamation of Governor Earl Snell, the governor announced today.

July 5 falls on a Saturday, so the effect of the proclamation is to provide a three-day holiday on the July 5 week-end.

The proclamation means that banks, courts and public offices must be closed July 5, but other businesses may stay open.

The proclamation will have little effect on state offices, because most of them close Saturdays, and the rest operate with skeleton crews.

The governor said there had been widespread demand to make July 5 a holiday.

In order that the Fourth of July may be fully observed, and celebrated this year, and because of a week-end vacation convenience for thousands of Oregonians, I shall declare Saturday, July 5th, a legal holiday in this state," the governor wrote in a press statement.

Many businesses are expected to close July 5 as a result of the proclamation.

Man Held On Driving Count

Robert H. Nickelson, 28, of 134 N. 3rd, posted $250 bail for release from the county jail last night on a charge of failing to drive on the right side of the highway. He was involved in an accident early Sunday morning on the Dorris highway near the Klamath river bridge. Nickelson's truck sideswiped a car driven by Billy Howard Clevenger of Dorris, then ran off the road and overturned in the ditch. Neither was injured but both cars were damaged. State police investigated and said that Nickelson, coming north on the highway, crossed the center line into Clevenger's traffic lane.

en who teaches physics and mathematics, Arthur K. Giesman instructing in English and literature, and Dr. Russell Elliott, who teaches social sciences, principally history. Marion Ady, Angus Bowmer, Otto Wilda, Loren Messenger, Marshall Woodell, Edith Bork, Jeanette Smith, Ollie Dewey were raised from assistant professors to associate professors. Violet Stockham and Neva West were given assistant professor rankings.

Court Refuses Review Of Case

WASHINGTON, June 16 (AP)—The supreme court today refused for the second time to review the mail fraud conviction of Mayor James M. Curley of Boston.

The refusal apparently cleared the way for a renewal of justice department efforts to put the 72-year-old mayor in jail to begin serving his sentence of six to eighteen months.

Curley, however, was reported ill in a Scituate, Mass., hospital. He was taken there last Friday suffering from what his physician described as hypertension induced by arterio-sclerosis.

FAMILY TREE
LOS ANGELES, June 16 (AP)—Since the birth of five-day-old Robin Lee Kauning there are five generations living and present in her family.

There are the baby's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robin C. Kauning; her grandmother, Mrs. Rudy Reynolds; great-grandmother, Mrs. Maybelle Esheby, and great-great-grandmother, Mrs. Roseda Esheby, 87, of San Diego.

The latter said: "I've held all of them at one time or another."

UNPREPARED
HASTINGS, Neb., June 16 (AP)—The new automobile ordered three years ago by the Jim Carpenter family finally has arrived. But now the dealer must wait on the Carpenters to accept delivery.

Carpenter and his two sons, long without a car, had allowed their driver licenses to lapse and they can't be renewed until state patrolmen visit here again to give driver tests. The family does not know when that will be.
