

City Council Launches Clean-Up Drive, Calls On Citizens For Help

The city council Monday night called for the cooperation of every citizen in a city-wide clean-up campaign. Commenting on the disreputable condition of many streets and alleys, Acting Mayor Paul Landry requested that the council go on record asking people of the city to help put over a clean-up drive.

To further this action, Acting Mayor Landry made known the fact an office will be set up by Recreation Director Samuel Smith that will function as a clearing house for information on the campaign, as well as a registration office for boys of this city who want to earn money by working at cleaning up the city.

Stressing the fact the budget will not permit a campaign financed by the city, Council Member A. E. Coudrey urged citizens to take advantage of the service the city will offer and give the younger set a chance to earn some extra money this summer.

The council considered recommendations of the traffic safety committee. These were: that the south side of Alameda street between Esplanade and Herbert be made a no-parking zone, that Main street from 11th to 4th be painted with yellow lines so as to make four lanes of traffic; that suitable crosswalks be painted on S. 6th street; that luminous markers be placed at many of the city's busier intersections. These recommendations were referred to the police committee for study.

James W. Hawkins, county sanitary inspector, was unanimously approved by the council for the post of city sanitary inspector as well.

The council passed a resolution appointing a committee to study fire insurance rates, both business and private, in Klamath Falls. Committee members are, Walter H. Beane, E. H. Balsiger, J. W. Kerns, Elbert S. Veatch, and A. D. Collier.

Fee Studied
Lynn Roycroft and the executive committee of the American Legion appealed to the council to set aside a fee ordinarily levied against carnivals coming to town in order that the Legion might bring in a carnival. Purpose of the proposal, according to Roycroft, was to enable the Legion to finance its many civic activities for the remainder of this year.

The council, however, voted to appoint a committee from the council to meet with the Legion committee to consider the possibility that the fee ordinarily charged, $1500, be assessed the carnival operator and subsequently be turned over to the Legion.

Lt. Cmdr. D. L. Golding, naval recruiting officer for this district and commander of the naval reserve unit in Klamath Falls, requested the council for a letter of endorsement of the naval reserve program. Cmdr. Golding stated he was certain he could obtain authorization from the navy for an organized reserve unit in Klamath Falls with an authorized complement sufficient to allow practically all the ex-naval men in the area to become active reservists. This would call for one meeting a week for the reserves, for which the men would receive regular navy pay in their respective grades at the rate of one day's pay for a two-hour meeting. Landry authorized the city attorney to draw up a suitable letter. If sufficient endorsements are received by Cmdr. Golding and the unit is authorized, a minimum payroll of $60,000 a year is expected.

Elmer Balsiger, chairman of the rodeo committee, next asked the council for permission to hang a banner across Esplanade at the corner of Pine and Main. This the council granted. He next asked for permission from the council to hold a rodeo parade. This also was granted.

The proposed Moore park gaspette came in for another hot round at last night's meeting. A petition to be circulated among the residents of the Moore park area was presented to the council for its approval. Councilman Coudrey maintained the council should only be asked to pass on the completed petition, which should include proposed boundaries of the sanctuary. City Engineer E. A. Thomas felt that the refuge should be created, and then residents who wanted their property within its boundaries could sign up.

Discussion ended with the council approving the make-up of the

Poles Agree To Marshall Proposal

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—Poland today announced its willingness to participate in Secretary of State Marshall's proposal that European nations work out a joint economic recovery program with American aid.

Polish Ambassador Jozef Winiewicz told reporters of this development after calling on Robert Lovett, special assistant to Marshall.

Poland thus becomes the first of the Eastern European countries to express willingness to take part in the Marshall program.

Countries Notified
Winiewicz said he has notified the American government, Great Britain, France and Russia that his country is ready to enter discussions, make available any information needed and submit its own recommendations.

"This means our adherence to the plan," Winiewicz said.

He said his country needs 200,000 tons of grain between now and the end of December, adding that the state department realizes Poland's need is "urgent."

Winiewicz expressed hope that the United States will speed Poland's share of the $350,000,000 relief program recently approved by congress.

Fishermen's Head To Attend Meeting

ASTORIA, Ore., June 24 (AP)—J. R. Jurich, president of the International Fishermen and Allied Workers' union, will attend the June 25 hearing at Walla Walla on Columbia river development.

Jurich arrived here yesterday to join Astoria representatives in arguing the fisheries' case at the hearing, called by the federal inter-agency committee.

Seagulls Return To Waterfront

SEATTLE, June 24 (AP)—Seagulls which disappeared from Puget Sound waterfront areas several weeks ago have been returning the past few days. Their disappearance prompted speculation they might have gone east of the Cascades to feast on Mormon crickets invading wheat areas but ornithologists said they were only nesting.

Truman Names Ordnance Man

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—President Truman today nominated Rear Admiral Albert G. Noble to be chief of the navy's bureau of ordnance for four years.

Noble's appointment is subject to confirmation by the senate. He would succeed Vice Admiral George F. Hussey Jr., of Brookline, Mass., who is retiring this fall.

There was no recommendation for a customary temporary advancement in rank for Noble, in line with pending legislation governing armed service promotions. Under this bill chiefs of bureaus will be two-star admirals (rear admirals) rather than three-star admirals.
