LONG TITLE
NORMAN, Okla., June 25 (AP)—After seven years of waiting, Dr. A. C. Sheard, associate professor of chemistry at the University of Oklahoma, has had an article accepted by a magazine.

Friends theorized the title might have had something to do with the long consideration given the piece. It was:

"Microidentification of curpic and perchlorate ions of curpic pyridine perchlorate."

The British call a windshield a "windscreen."
