Railroad Heads Eye Fatal Wreck

SHELBY, O., June 26 (AP)—New York Central railroad officials today sought to learn if their St. Louis Special was violating caution orders when its twin locomotives jumped the track and caused the death of six, possibly seven, persons last night.

A railroad official, who declined to be quoted by name, said papers ordering "caution" through the area were found on the body of an engineer.

He said "caution" meant less than 30 miles an hour.

Witnesses both on and off the train estimated the Special's speed at the time of the derailment at 50 miles an hour.

Hit Bank
The derailed locomotives, pulling the six-car passenger train from Cleveland to St. Louis, plunged into an embankment at nearby Shiloh.

The engineers and firemen of both locomotives and two members of a railroad work camp were killed.

The state highway patrol said a third railroad camp worker was believed buried in the wreckage.

The dead:
C. P. Higgins and Elmer R. Wanke, 50, both of Cleveland, the engineers.
L. J. McCord and J. D. Kennedy Jr., 29, also of Cleveland, firemen.
Edward Cunderson, 37, of Ontonagon, Mich., and James L. Brockwell of route 1, Johnson City, Tenn., work crewmen.

Warm Weather Brings Hordes Of Mosquitoes

Current warm days following the recent wet spell in Klamath basin has brought out a new crop of lively mosquitoes. Swarms of insects have been riding into town on the wind and residents are complaining of being attacked by dozens at a time while working in the garden or even just going out to hang up the wash or dump the garbage on the wash.

DD-T dust is almost 100 per cent effective in killing adult mosquitoes.

C. A. Henderson, county agent, advises and a five per cent mixture sprinkled about the door steps, in weeds and foliage around the house will destroy the insects.

Dusting lettuce, berries and other eatable garden vegetables should be avoided as DD-T is a toxic preparation which might have injurious effects on persons. Chlordane dust is very effective on the larvae of insects as has been definitely proved in the recent campaign against grasshoppers in the Port Klamath area, Henderson stated. A 100 per cent kill was effected on larvae on this project by dusting on ponds, sloughs and depressions where water had become stagnant.

Open receptacles around the house and yard could be dusted with this preparation obtainable at farm supply houses, with favorable results, the county agent advised.

Several tons of chlordane, the new dust material introduced this year, has been purchased by farmers and cattlemen in a strenuous campaign against grasshopper infestation.

Midgee, silver fish, cockroaches, earwigs, bedbugs and flies succumb wholeheartedly to DD-T dust and this may be applied about homes and on a small scale with a hand sprayer such as may be purchased in any hardware store.

Theft Of Boots Told

Hugh McNeerney, stockman, is virtually on his uppers today after having lost several pairs of cowboy boots and other shoes that he was moving from the Earley hotel to a residence on Patterson street yesterday.

He believes a sack containing the boots was stolen from his pickup truck while he was loading up at the hotel.

The sack contained one pair of black cowboy boots, a pair of tan boots, a small pair of child's boots, a pair of ladies' boots, two pair of house shoes and two pair of dress shoes.

Woman Reports Theft Of Purse

Mrs. Ernest C. Vance of Seattle, who spent last night in Klamath Falls on a trip to Hillsboro, Calif., reported to city police that she lost a purse containing $28, Washington driver's license, oil company credit card and other papers this morning.

Mrs. Vance said that while loading suitcases into her car at the Hall hotel she laid her purse on the top of the car, then forgot it until she drove away. She didn't miss the purse until she was four miles out on the highway.

The purse was described as a pinkish fold type. The finder may contact Mrs. Vance at 701 El Cerrito, Hillsboro, Calif.

Taft Holds Housing Hope

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) told a "fight for housing" rally here Wednesday that he believes long-range housing legislation can be put through the senate before congress adjourns next month.

He said that when house and senate leaders meet next week to lay out a program for the remainder of the session he is "hopeful" of an agreement that will mean enactment of "some sort of a housing program."

He implied, however, that the program he is backing, embodied in the so-called Wagner-Ellender-Taft bill, might have to be modified considerably to win house acceptance. A similar bill passed the senate in the 79th congress but was bottled up in the house.

Veterinary's Car Prowled

Dr. Harry A. Leonard, veterinarian of 1847 Earle, reported to city police this morning that his car was rifled last night while parked at his house, and a pair of glasses and case and three bottles of medicine taken.

Palace News by "Butch"

YESTERDAY The Palace Market was, by due process of law, and with much ceremony amid gasps and ahs, declared a "complete self-service SUPERETTE."

You show me one other food market in these parts that is a complete self-service superette and I'll buy the beverage—non-alcoholic, of course.

The Palace isn't officially open yet and is sort of hidden behind a morass of saw horses, stacks of groceries, cement mixers, painters' coils, mudsills, and a row of gimlets that are the modern self-service dispensaries of Johnson Packing Co.'s famous meats—now pre-packaged in cellophane. The folks kinda liked our meats before. But if anything, they'll like it better than ever now, with that delicious flavor sealed in.

AS I said before, the place isn't officially open yet, but we are doing business just the same. And we are personally amazed at the loyalty and patience of our good customers who insist that the quality of our wares is well worth the inconvenience our remodeling has caused in their shopping during the last few days.

YOU can already see what the place is going to look like. Sort of a mixture between a World's Modern and a Northwestern Woodshed. Architecturally it's the sort of thing that causes University of Oregon astronomers to break out with the giggles.

BUT BROTHER, the merchandise. That's something else again. The beans, bananas, buns, and better beef are better. The ice cream is even colder. Come see for yourself!

Angell Raps HST Attitude

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—Rep. Angell (R-Ore.) said today President Truman has not lived up to his promise made after last fall's election to "cooperate in every proper manner with members of congress."

"When this announcement was made," Angell said in a statement, "it fell upon sympathetic ears in congress and it was hoped by all here that as a result of the president's attitude there would be an effective cooperation between the president and congress on legislation so essential to tide over from war to peace and assure full employment and honest prices for the necessities of life."

"However, the promise seems to have forgotten the president as soon as it was made. Little or no cooperation by the chief executive with congress is in evidence."

Angell criticized the president's veto of the tax reduction bill and the labor bill.
