

HST Vetoes Wool Price Support Bill

WASHINGTON, June 26 (AP)—President Truman today vetoed the wool price support bill because he said it would have "an adverse effect on our international relations."

The measure would have continued government prices on wool at present levels and authorized the president to boost tariffs or restrict imports if foreign wool or wool products pushed down domestic prices.

"The enactment of a law providing for additional barriers to the importation of wool at the very moment when this government is taking the leading part in a United Nations conference at Geneva" to reduce trade barriers "would be a tragic mistake," Mr. Truman said.

Message

He added in a message to congress: "It would be a blow to our leadership in world affairs."

"It would be interpreted around the world as a first step on that same road to economic isolationism down which we and other countries traveled after the first world war with such disastrous consequences."

"I cannot approve such an action."

The veto was the third major one this congressional session.

He previously had vetoed a tax reduction bill and the Taft-Hartley labor bill.

Flashes Of Life

GULL BAIT
SALT LAKE CITY, June 26 (AP)—Ninety-nine years ago the seagulls just swarmed into the Salt Lake valley without provocation to feast on the crickets that threatened the crops of the Mormon pioneers.

However, this year, when a new $200,000 monument will be unveiled to celebrate the arrival of the same pioneers, the commission in charge is asking for bread donations to scatter near the statues and attract the gulls.

PICKLED MELON
ANDARKO, Okla., June 26 (AP)—Jack McLane took loving care of the lone melon on his one watermelon vine.

But he returned from work the other day and went out to make his customary evening inspection and the melon was gone.

Mrs. McLane had decided to pickle what she thought was a cucumber as a special treat for Jack Jr.

Timber Land Bids Opened

PORTLAND, Ore., June 26 (AP)—A major experiment in "improvement" timber cutting—the first on a large scale in the Pacific Northwest—is planned under a June 30 bid call issued today by the United States forest service.

Bids will be opened here on 7,500,000 feet of timber, having an appraised value of $16,284, located on five tracts in the Cascade head experimental forest of the Siuslaw national forest on the Central Oregon coast.

Phil A. Briggleb, chief of the experiment station's division of management research, said the cutting will be under the supervision of the station with records kept to determine operating costs of various logging methods as well as annual records to show effects of the cutting and growth response of the remaining stand.

Some areas will be cleared and in others there will be various types of thinning.

He said similar smaller experimental studies are under way in the Deschutes, Siskiyou and Columbia forests.
