

Candlelight Rites Event Of Friday

TULELAKE—Before a candle-lighted altar, banked with pink and white gladioli, Barbara Mary Lynch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lynch, of Tulelake, became the bride Friday evening June 20, of Conrad C. Carlson of Mabton, Washington. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Carlson of that city.

The double ring ceremony was read before a large gathering of relatives and friends in the Tulelake Community Presbyterian church by Rev. Hugh Bronson.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a bluish pink dressmaker suit with matching accessories and carried a white bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Her sister, Pat Lynch, as bridesmaid wore an aqua suit and carried yellow daisies.

Dick Turnell of Yakima, Wash., fraternal brother of the groom, was best man and the Harold Givener of Tulelake was the usher.

Preceding the ceremony Mildred Reid played incidental music, Lynn Keller, with Mrs. Keller at the piano, sang "Thine Alone" and "Because."

A reception at the Lynch home followed the ceremony with the young couple cutting the first slice of their three-tiered wedding cake, later served by Mrs. Howard Dayton and Mrs. Olney Rudd.

The young couple will honeymoon in Canada and later will live at Mabton where Mr. Carlson will enter the University of Washington next fall for his senior year.

Out of town guests here for the ceremony were the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Carlson of Mabton, Wash.; Mrs. E. A. Connell of Jackson, Calif.; grandmother of the bride, Mrs. George Keith of Buena Vista, Wash.; Mr. and Mrs. Frank Anderson and daughter Lois, Mr. and Mrs. L. C. McKeever and daughter Madge of Hoquiam, Wash.; Mrs. Walter Bower and son Kelsey Lee of Daily City, Calif.; and June Stanny of Helena, Mont.

The new Mrs. Carlson attended the University of Northern Montana, Havre, Mont.

PLASTIC CURLERS

But if you're not aquatically minded... There are play togs for every kind of play.

Jauntily tailored pedal pushers—the increasingly popular compromise between slacks and shorts—await you in a variety of colors and fabrics. You'll love them for their practicality.

In heavy cotton twill, there are white, navy, or vicivious red pedal pushers... at $2.95. Or dearly beloved faded blue denim ones for $2.50... plain or with a red and white candy stripe braid trim. Mighty cute!

Add a brightly striped T-shirt... They will automatically mix well!... And you'll have an outfit for any outing. These T-shirts, incidentally, are extra long.

Of course you'll need faded blue denim slacks, too. And a stock of regular blue jeans... for your rougher sports-ing. Forget to mention pedal pushers! The LaPointe's also has the jeans type of these.

There are shorts in faded blue denim... Cuffed to give you a swashbuckling air. These, too, are plain or have peppermint candy cane trim. Look to match!

At LAPOINTS... corner of Fifth and Main streets.

Old sheets can be salvaged and turned into a perky flounce for the vanity by dyeing them and ruffling them up to stand out stiffly, then trimmed with fancy looped edging in a contrasting shade.

Rickys...

Here are some wonderful ideas for wedding gift giving! However, Rickys can't even take credit. The ideas... That should go to Rickys' Jewellers. Because that's where I saw these things.

As a matter of fact, these are the kind of gift suggestions which—once bought—often end up not being gifts... If you know what I mean! Incidentally you'll find them downstairs at Rickys'...

Still scarce... And cherished by so many housewives I know... are cooking utensils by Ekoware. Ranging in price from $4.75 to $6.00, skillets and two sizes of saucepans are available.

Or... how about an ice-crusher? Certainly a useful item considering (optimistically stated) the hot days ahead... and the subsequent call for cool, refreshing drinks. There are two kinds of these—an Ice-O-Mat or a red and white "Daisy" ice-crusher. A boon to any household is the new "Hollywood" electric table brewer, which is now selling for $15. It has a two-heat element which actually boils on either heat. Then, too, it's portable and easy to handle. You can take it with you for week-end trips and vacations. "Quote the little pamphlet attached... No Smoke—No Muzz—No Fuss."

Something else which caught my eye at Rickys was the "grandson" electric clock. With its slow winding pendulum and old-fashioned dial, it's a replica of the one grandfather would so faithfully for so many hundreds of years!

Remember the "Dutch Auction" is continuing downstairs at Rickys. Prices on radios are still falling to the tune of $2.50 every Monday morning. Originally $38.70, the price has gone down to $24.75.

By the way... you'll be sorry if you don't inspect the "Rodeo" window display at RICKY'S... corner of Main and Seventh streets. Besides a collection of gents, gauntlets, and curio's you'll see every registered brand in the state of Oregon represented!

Refill Kit, without curlers... $1.00
Regular Kit, fiber curlers... $1.25

Miller's...

For you belles who have found a new life in the flattering peasant styles currently such favorites... Here is exciting news! Miller's received a shipment the other day of fine cotton blouses and skirts designed thusly... and to make you rejoice!

South-of-the-border influence is apparent in the vividly colored braid trim which highlights the blouses. These have tiny puffed sleeves and a drawing-type neckline so you may achieve a drop shoulder effect if your heart desires... Weather permitting, that is.

The skirts have a billowy, almost ballet skirt fullness. And are adorned with the same gay trim as the blouses... besides having strips of white lace running in the same direction.

Both blouses and skirts come in three delightful pastel shades... a blue, a pink, or a lively yellow.

Blouses are priced at $2.98 and skirts at $3.98. By the way... you can buy the two pieces separately or as a unit.

Tricky, too, are the short-sleeved "Jackknives", by much abbreviated Kortes of California. Multi-colored stripes run up and down this washable number and it possesses a set of silver buttons... and pockets, too.

These shirts make perfect team-mates for skirts, slacks, shorts... They're priced at $5.95.

Have you seen the outfits on the second floor of MILLER'S... at 512 Main street.

LaPointe's

Why not shelve those road maps, resolve the folders and the like until you've seen the playclothes arrayed at LaPointe's? A revised plan may be in order. One glimpse and you'll be planning your vacation around your wardrobe instead of following the usual procedure.

For sure, darling daughters, you must go near the water... either for swimming or sunning. Because among the "finds" Martha found at LaPointe's were classic swimwear by Mable and Brilliant fashions. Beautiful one and two pieces.

I feel that a fashion note is called for here... Have you noticed that the one-piece swimsuit—technically called the "one-piece" and they tell me—has "come back" with a "vengence" splash recently and is being handed big headlines by fashion dopesters. Both "Vogue" and "Life" in their latest issues have proclaimed the "one-piece" as the swimwear of the future. Helping to illustrate the articles in both magazines are suits by Mable very similar to the ones I'm going to tell you about now.

In shimmering satin latest... You can choose a one-piece Mable from a host of colors including light green, gold, bright pink, white, and black.

Or... if you're remaining in the two-piece swim suit camp this season... You'll find your favorite in rayon latest or in black or white. LaPointe's is also showing swim-suits by Brilliant fashions... in satin or cotton latest. The one-piece "mollie" style comes in a light blue or white and has a half skirt.

But... the cuts in the pool are a well-proportioned bra top, fitted shorts and the same classic over-skirt as does the one-piece style. Colors are black and white. Sizes of the suits I've described range from 32 to 38.

Another midriff dress, this one of flowered cotton pique with a black background, has a clever skirt... draped in front with the tie at the bottom! Topped with a square-necked and beuffed cap sleeve midriff blouse... It has confectionery appeal, believe me!

Whyal's

Always seems to me that there's something celebration-ish, fiesta like about the summertime. Not because I'm beginning to get the Fourth of July spirit, either. Maybe because I've just returned from the Whyal's and collection of midriff dresses and sports ensembles. Let me explain mine mood...

One contributing factor... A glazed chistic midriff tummy. Beaded with large flowers, a set of ruffled, elastic neckline, tiny puffed sleeves, and a ruffle at the bottom of the full skirt.

This same flattering style can be had in fine cotton seersucker with wavy checks in blue or brown.

Shaw's

After seeing the beautiful selection of stationery at Shaw's this week, I'm in the mood to answer all my delinquent correspondence... my thank-you notes included! The feeling will be contagious, I'm sure, when you've seen this stationery.

Advertised nationally lately, the clever new Eaton's "Sampler" box is filled with surprises. It contains eight different types of well known Eaton papers... of varying weights and colors with matching envelopes. "Patterns" included in the "Sampler" are "Calais Ribbon," "Love Letters," "Petersburg 1850," "Highland Sheer," and others.

Fine new papers are making their post-war debut daily. And as usual, Eaton's is leading the parade. And as usual, you'll find them at Shaw's.

For instance... there is Eaton's "Contempo"... a stunning stationery inspired by modern Swedish art. In white, cream, or blue, it has an oakleaf design embellishes the border of the paper and the inside of the envelope. The white and the blue paper has unique, beveled corners. The cream is colorfully printed, and you'll produce an artistic masterpiece without being aware of it!

Another newcomer to the stationery scene is Eaton's "Beau Bait"... The box contains letter and note-sized papers and matching envelopes, of course. In rose, green, or blue, little flowers trickle down the sides of the paper... And are planted, too, in the lining of the envelope.

Other distinctive boxes of stationery deserve mention, though. For instance, the gold and bronze edged paper. Strictly for special occasions, I think. Very distinguished looking, the edges of its envelopes are also metallically trimmed.

With note cards... Whiting's "Distinctive Yours" has grey paper. A striking touch is added by the Kelly green edging on the envelopes.

Whimsical, indeed, is the paper inside Whiting's box, appropriately titled, "Fantasy." In blue or white, the borders of this paper are "embroidered" with little balls, stars and ribbon streamers.

By now you should be epistle minded... anyway, you will be when you see the stationery at SHAW'S... 719 Main street.

For the bridal shower add a ring holder to the kitchen window ledge over the kitchen sink. Remind the bride to pop her diamond in that before washing dishes.

Pine Street Market

Note to members of the picnic lovers' league... which is, of course, holding its principal organizational meets of the year this coming week: The Pine Street Market has a large stock of the supplies, provisions, etc., you'll need. So buy the ingredients for your picnic now!

Martha saw scores of paper plates, cups—plain or sail-boat decorated... wooden or paper spoons, and paper napkins while she was meandering around the store the other day.

Everything you'll need for manufacturing sandwiches, too... Dagwood variety and all. Many kinds of bread including French, raisin, cracked wheat. And cheeses and cheese spreads galore! Peanut butter... olive or pickle sandwich spread. Plus cold meats, of course.

If you like hot dishes added to the picnic bill of fare... There are cans of pork 'n' beans, deli-cious chili con carne... And pickles of various shapes and sizes... Olives and, naturally, crunchy potato chips.

(Guess I'll put that latter item in neon lights—potato chips being my favorite picnic food.)

What more can I say?... Besides this is making me too hungry. Enough to say that you can walk out of the PINE STREET MARKET, corner of Pine at Seventh street, with your picnic under your arm!

Welfare Group Asks Flat Rate

PORTLAND, June 26 (AP)—The state public welfare commission will try to obtain flat rates from Oregon hospitals for the care of welfare patients.

The commission approved yesterday the payment of a flat $4.50 per day for ward care of a patient in Multnomah County hospital, and $1.50 for drugs and other special costs. Similar agreements will be sought with up-state institutions.

Klamath Massage Parlor

Martha took a conducted tour through the Klamath Massage Parlor this week... and I found it so interesting I thought I'd pass on the details.

By the way, the Klamath Massage Parlor belongs to the Oregon Medical Massage association and the California Physiotherapy Institute... which is a good thing to know.

Mrs. Petroff wanted me to emphasize that she and the other therapists do not pretend to be doctors. They do not diagnose illness nor prescribe for it. However, they do accept patients who are regularly under a doctor's care and give them the type of physiotherapy their physician has recommended.

Excess poundage worriers will be glad to know that the Klamath Massage Parlor guarantees all its treatments. I think I must have lost pounds just observing the routine! (Whether or not the scales confirm my statement.)

First step in the routine calls for a ride on the Exercise... a device resembling a bicycle. This machine exercises every part of the body and can be adjusted to any form of exercise you so desire—horseback riding, swimming, rowing, or all combined. Your first ride on the Exercise will last from 10 to 15 minutes.

Next you relax in a large, deep bathtub filled with hot mineral water for 15 to 20 minutes.

Then, reclining on a hospital clean table, covered with white wool blankets, you must undergo a "40-minute" massage.

From here you proceed to another big, deep bathtub. Only this time it's a 15 to 20 minute cooling bath.

The next step is up to you. You may choose a one-hour Swedish massage... or a man or a woman... (this includes a 15-minute treatment with the Oster hand operator)... Or you may choose a trip to the electrically-operated electrically-operated Oscillator belts which vibrate your whole body.

Each corner to the Klamath Massage Parlor is given a fresh pair of slippers to wear. These are destroyed after each treatment. You are ensured... to repeat... hospital clean sheets and linen. In fact... utmost sanitary precautions are taken at all times.

THE KLAMATH MASSAGE PARLOR is located at 1599 Main street.

Studio of Beauty

Three of the "dolls" presented below apparently took hair grooming lessons under the personal tutelage of "Gravel Gertie." You have my permission to chuckle when you view 'em. However, before your laughter overcomes you. Have you, perchance, any symptoms of the same tired-out hair ailments these lassies suffer so grievously from?

For any such ills, the Studio of Beauty is as prepared as a Boy Scout with first aid in the form of complete reconditioning.

Cutie No. 1... Diagnosis: Hair is brittle, dry, and over-processed. Permanent... or home permanents... for that matter. A sad case, isn't it?

This gal indulged in over bleaching. Her hair is so dry it cracks. She looks like a porcupine as she looks.

On the other hand this gorgeous creature neglected to protect her hair over a long period of time. She's been crowned with glory from too much sun and abuse.

These portraits are heart-wringing. But my story has a moral, remember! With careful hair grooming and the advice of experienced hair-dressers, you will never be haunted by like visions.

What I really mean is... See First Street or any member of her staff at the STUDIO OF BEAUTY... on the mezzanine floor of Whytal's, Ninth and Main streets.

Don't forget that the Studio of Beauty will be closed on Friday, July 4th and Saturday, July 5th. Don't wait to make that pre-holiday appointment!

To make a hairdo swim-proof—push the hair up all around the head with a styling comb. Use a cold nylon stocking around the hairline and pin it tight to prevent water seepage. Pull a snug-fitting rubber cap down over the protective headband.
