PALACE NEWS

by "Butch"

SATURDAY a well dressed stranger stood in the front end of Klamath Falls' Palace practically the whole afternoon.

He identified himself as an executive for one of the Wall Street backed food chains and was intensely interested in the reaction of the housewife to our NEW method of retailing meat.

IN THE beginning this big-shot executive could best be described as a reactionary die-hard, to borrow a politician's phrase. But within a very few minutes he became as pleasantly excited and thrilled as the rest of us who witnessed the delighted expressions on the ladies' faces as they eagerly selected the exact cut of our grain fed steer beef they wanted at the price they wanted to pay.

THE HOUSEWIVES' most respected complimentary comment to us and to each other was in respect to sanitation. They simply marveled at the sanitation self-service method afforded.

OUR MEAT is prepackaged in cellophane at the Packing House under refrigerated electronic rays. It is rushed to The Palace self-service meat cases hourly and doesn't lay around in a hot truck for a long period as it did under the old-fashioned method of distribution. In this manner it retains its fresh bloom right up to your table.

AND FOR those who want special cuts for special occasions we have highly trained meat cutters at The Palace who will gladly get anything you want. We always have choice cuts on hand which we hold here under refrigerated electronic rays for that very purpose.

But if for any reason it would be inconvenient for you to attend our continuous food festival, just phone your order for meat cutters at The Palace who will gladly deliver them to your door at no extra cost.

OUR WARES are unconditionally guaranteed. If for any reason you are not satisfied with anything we sell you we will gladly return your money without the return of the goods. That's why they say—it pays to SHOP PALACE, 224 Main.

P. S. We almost forgot the Wall Street food store executive. Yes, he finally went away mumbling in his head something about he would never have believed it if he hadn't seen it with his own eyes.

Ex-Rotary Chief Up A Pole

When Sam Ritchey, Copco district manager, went out of office as president of the Klamath Falls Rotary club, the boys gave him a chance to demonstrate that he could handle any Copco assignment as well as he had run the Rotary club. So a power pole was rigged up on the stage of the Willard dining room, and this picture shows Ritchey up the pole, splicing a couple of hot wires. A bunch of sputtering firecrackers helped to provide a realistic touch as Ritchey tinkered with the wires.

Rodeo Ramblin's

By JOY BIGGS

The versatile "Toy-ya" — that's the way you pronounce Cy Tallon's last name—has arrived from Great Falls, Mont., is staying at the Winema and priming up that expensive voice of his to emcee the Klamath Basin rodeo. A three-day job July 4, 5 and 6.

Tallon travels thousands of miles per year by plane and car to tell people who buy rodeo tickets what turtle is trying to stay on what slippery cayuse, the time on contest, whose baby is lost in the crowd and telling that so-and-so to move the car that's blocking the traffic. He gets paid for it, too, in top money.

If he didn't get paid for that he could play a drum or piano in a band, or enter the boxing ring, or try for the bronze-riding purse himself—or just be a daily broadcast radio announcer—he's done all that for money, too.

Tallon and his family, wife and two sons, are pleased tamecha. More about them later.

The big numbers are ready at rodeo headquarters, to be tacked on the backs of the cowboys in the arena. They are huge squares of white cloth with black numbers which will identify the contestants with the names on the programs.

Paraders will assemble over by the Big Basin Lumber company, Main and Spring, Friday morning, July 4th. At 10 a. m. the parade will start down Main with the Klamath Sheriff's posse assisting. Pat Ivory, parade chairman, in keeping the sections in order.

The parade will proceed down Main to the Willard hotel and come back by Klamath avenue to disband at Spring. Prize winning floats and individuals will go on out to the fairgrounds for the first performance of the rodeo which will start at 2 p. m.

The Klamath Sheriff's posse will entertain visiting posers at the club room at the fairgrounds.

Stalls for horses of Rodeo Queen Ginger Thomas and her six princesses are provided in barn 1, at the fairgrounds.

Police Capture Speeding Auto

Ernest George Gienger, 40, of Klamath Falls, was pursued out past the city limits and arrested for speeding early this morning by city police who said they clocked him at 85 miles an hour before he stopped near the fairgrounds on S. 6th.

Gienger posted $30 bail for violation of the basic rule and a few minutes after his release officers said he was clocked doing 55 out S. 6th again and stopped. That time he was let off with a warning.

Youths Await Federal Action

Four Klamath Union high school boys are awaiting action by a federal court for larceny on a complaint signed by Thomas C. Parker of the Crater Lake national park service.

The youths are charged with larceny in the theft of a pair of fender skirts from a parked car at Crater Lake lodge early Sunday morning. They were arrested by Ranger Duane Fitzgerald at Annie Springs Sunday.

Yesterday the quartet was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Bert C. Thomas and released to await court action.

LARCENY CHARGE—John William Samuels was found guilty of larceny by a circuit court jury late yesterday afternoon after a one-day trial. Samuels, with his brother Charles, had been indicted for the theft of a motor.

Circuit Judge David R. Vandenberg postponed passing sentence until tomorrow. The trial of Charles Samuels is docketed for July 11.

Correction—The Herald and News erred in an obituary which appeared in Monday's edition. The name incorrectly given was Peter Steinseifer, but should have been Peter Petersteiner.

Recovering—Robert Hurbut of route 3 box 352 is recovering from minor surgery performed Monday, at Klamath Valley hospital.

Vacation—Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Siroky of 514 N. 10th will leave for Boise, Ida., for a two weeks' vacation.

Mayor Gets Rate Answer

A reply to the city council's protest concerning the proposed increase in telephone rates has been received by Mayor Ed Ostendorf from the public utilities commissioner in Salem. The letter states that the hearing for the request has been set for July 7 in Salem and that the first two days will be spent in reviewing the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph company's plea for increased rates. After this, the protests from the various Oregon cities will go before the commissioner before a final decision is made.

The city council voted June 19 to oppose the increase in telephone rates which has been asked by the company. The increase would amount to $2,249,000. Not all telephone costs would be revised as long distance calls over 175 miles would probably be reduced from 5 to 45 cents. Charges on calls under 133 miles would be upped. Service charges would also be increased. Day rates would decrease while night rates would be higher.

If the proposed increase is granted the individual flat rate in Klamath county would jump from $3.25 to $3.75. The two-party rate would climb from $2.75 to $3 but there would be no increase in the cost of four-party lines. The business rate would also rise with the individual business flat rate advancing from $4.75 to $6.50.

YOUTHS ESCAPE

Two lads, aged 13 and 11 years, made an escape from the county juvenile detention cottage home late yesterday afternoon and are sought by police today. Both were being held for burglaries.

The boys were out berry picking and slipped off from the rest of the workers, juvenile officer Ronald Hewitt said.
