Today's Roundup

THE other night, on the radio program which I conduct, I commented at some length on the frequently heard remark that "you can get away with murder in Klamath county."

I offered no answer to the questions I asked, but made it clear that this reputation of Klamath county, among our own people as well as elsewhere, has evidently been built up over a long period of time and over generations of judges, prosecutors and juries.

Repercussions SINCE the radio program was given, I have heard unexpected repercussions. Some effort has been made to connect my comments with particular cases, whereas I had none in mind.
