Holiday Doings In Full Swing Today

Never have we seen so many fishing poles, swimming suits, bottles of auburn lotion, sleeping bags and odds and ends of camping gear being loaded into the family auto as this 4th of July. Seems as if nearly everyone is taking to the woods and streams for a brief respite from the heat and bustle of town.

Summer cabins have on their best faces and beckoned invitingly to their owners the day before the 4th. Box upon box of frying pans, cooking equipment and food were lugged from grocery stores as campers envisioned crispy bacon with tempting sunny-side-ups sizzling over an open camp fire.

The J. P. Mathews left Thursday for a holiday jaunt to Chewaukan for a few days of fishing. They'll return Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. A. O. Roenicke and their three children are spending the July holidays at Diamond lake.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. DeCew left for Pendleton where they will be joined by sons Martin and Harry Snyder. The group will travel to Great Falls, Mont., to visit relatives, taking in Glacier national park en route.

The Rev. and Mrs. C. C. Brown of 827 Eldorado are spending the day at Diamond lake.

Wedding Notes—There was a lot of sentiment in Nadine Palmerton's wedding last Sunday afternoon and the bride followed to the letter the traditional "something old" sequence, even to wearing the penny in her satin slipper. The "old" was loaned by Mrs. Charles Scharfenstein of Long Beach, Calif., formerly of this city, who sent her mother's long kid gloves for Nadine to wear. They were worn by Mrs. Scharfenstein's mother at her wedding. The "something new" was Nadine's beautiful bride's dress which was perfect for her, and the "something borrowed" was the white Bible loaned by Mrs. Harry Russell of San Jose, the former Marjorie Schultz of this city. The "blue" was a lace-edged blue satin garter.

The young couple used an antique bride and groom crystal glass for their toast at the reception, one used by several generations of just-weds. Mrs. J. Percy Wells, who cut the bride's cake, an elaborate confection depicting a church from the little Gothic windows, the doors and the steeple, was Nadine's first teacher. The marquerite theme was used at the wedding and also at the reception where rows of the little yellow and white daisies wreathed the base of punchbowls which stood at either end of the bride's table. The cloth looked like a bride's dress, a deep flounce of organdie around the edge, and made by Mrs. Palmerton.

The two little flower girls entertained for a brief few minutes as they stood by the tall candelabra and one forgot to blow out her candle. The other properly blew out the flame and whispered in off-stage voice for the other little yellow-clad candle-lighter to do the same. There was a bit of ladylike arguing but finally both candles were extinguished and the wedding party entered the church to find a delighted congregation.

A not-so-happy note. While the groom's mother Mrs. Marie Hanks of Decatur, Ill., was en route to take her train to San Francisco to join her son, the car in which she was traveling was wrecked and Mrs. Hanks is now in a Decatur hospital with critical injuries. Nadine and Virgil called her by telephone immediately after the ceremony and she was sent a generous piece of the wedding cake and the orchid she would have worn. Late reports are encouraging and Mrs. Hanks is improved.

Recent visitors to Klamath Falls were Mrs. Virginia Wiener and Roslyn Healy of St. Paul, Minnesota. They spent four days with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Corrigan of 1120 Monclair. Later Mrs. Wiener, Miss Healy and Mrs. Corrigan went to San Francisco to visit Mary Corrigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Corrigan.

Among those going to Lake of the Woods this week-end are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schultz of 1511 Pacific Terrace, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bennett and family also are lake-bound this holiday. The Schultzes were recent overnight guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clark Rawlings in Brookings.

Mr. and Mrs. James Rogers are parents of a son, their first child, born at Klamath Valley hospital last Saturday, June 28. The fine, healthy young man has been named Donald Ehle. Proud grandparents are Mrs. Leslie Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. John Reber of Malin.

Spending the week-end at their cabin on Union creek are Mr. and Mrs. Myrtle C. Adams of 430 N. 3rd. The J. L. Deans of Klamath Falls are week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Adams.

Gay Party

George Myers, young son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Myers of 711 Pacific Terrace, celebrated his seventh birthday in fine style this year when he invited a number of young friends to his home for an outdoor birthday party Tuesday afternoon, July 1.

George and his guests played games and enjoyed party refreshments in the arbor of the Myers garden.

Guests were Eleanor Prock, Jeanette Attebury, Estelle Kiger, Karen Kiger, Mary Dee Stark, Sandra Langslett, Corinne Ackerman, Judith Ellis, Sally Soukup, Sue Thompson, Christie Rose, Carolyn Hunt, Virginia Hunt, Kathie Staunton of Tulelake, Tommy Shaw.

George Filcraft, Lowell Newton, Fred Shelly, Michael Dixon, Johnny Altherton, Johnny Houston, Pauley Adams, Bryan Jacobs, Thomas Ankney, Juddy Brown and Alex Brumbaugh.

LEAVING SACRED HEART CHURCH following their wedding on Sunday, June 29, are Mr. and Mrs. William Keller Miller, who will make their home in Washington, D. C. Mrs. Miller, before her marriage, was Mary Margaret Lavin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Lavin of this city. The ceremony was read at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

CUTTING THE TRADITIONAL FIRST SLICE of their wedding cake are Mr. and Mrs. Hanks at the reception which followed their late June wedding. Scene of the reception was the Winema hotel. Soon, the young couple will be at home in San Francisco.

Klamath Girl Weds In Salem Nuptials

St. Mark's Lutheran church in Salem was the scene of a simple ceremony on Saturday, June 21, when Jean Ostendorf, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Ostendorf of 519 Pacific Terrace, became the bride of Allen C. Aldrich of Klamath Falls, son of Mrs. C. I. King, of Filley, Nebraska.

Rev. Mark A. Geisendanner read the nuptial service at 8 o'clock before an altar banked with standards of white gladioli and blue larkspur, with tall lighted tapers and palms completing the pretty setting. Mrs. Charles Rosholt of Corvallis played incidental music as guests assembled, later singing "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. Ted Rosholt, also of Corvallis. Mrs. Charles Rosholt also played traditional wedding music.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a dressmaker suit of brown stripe for her wedding. A corsage of Vanda orchids was pinned at the shoulder. Her accessories were of white, and she wore a matching flower-trimmed, off-the-face hat.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Merrill Gallagher, who was attired in a suit of blue with white accessories. Her corsage was of Talisman roses. Mrs. Ostendorf, mother of the bride, wore a blue cable knit afternoon dress with a corsage of red roses.

Best man was Merrill Gallagher, cousin of the bride. The reception which followed was held at the Salem home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. F. O. Johnson. Bouquets of tiger lilies and ocean spray were placed about the rooms, and decorating the bride's table was a bouquet of white sweet peas. The new Mr. and Mrs. Aldrich cut the first piece of their decorated wedding cake, after which the confection was served by Mrs. Pearl Swanson, aunt of the bride.

From a wedding trip down the Oregon coast to Crescent City they came to Klamath Falls where they are now at home. Mr. Aldrich is associated with Standard Stations, Inc. here. Mrs. Aldrich, a graduate of Klamath Union high school, attended Oregon State college, and is a member of the staff of the Klamath County Public Health association.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Martin Rost and family, and Fred Heath of Faribault, Minn., and Milton Gallagher of Portland.

A garden tour has been scheduled by the Klamath Falls Garden club for Tuesday of next week. Members will meet at the home of Mrs. Earl Redman, 803 Front street, at 10:30 in the morning, and are reminded to bring a sack lunch. Those desiring transportation may call Mrs. George Grizzle, telephone 3242.

Rites Solemnized At Sacred Heart Church

A bride of last Sunday, June 29, was Mary Margaret Lavin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Lavin of this city, who became Mrs. William Keller Miller in a ceremony read at 1 o'clock at Sacred Heart Catholic church. Mr. Miller, of Washington, D. C., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Miller, of Chicago, Ill.

The Rev. Father John Phelan read the double ring rites. White gladioli, other spring flowers and palms were church decorations. Traditional wedding music was played by Elaine Abbott, who also played "Ave Maria" preceding the nuptials.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a French marquisette gown of white, fashioned with long, full sleeves, fitted at the wrist, a full skirt and a long train.

Her illusion net fingertip veil was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a white prayer book topped with a single orchid from which fell a cascade of stephanotis and matching ribbon streamers.

Mrs. James Caras Jr., of Missoula, Montana, was her sister's matron of honor. For the ceremony she wore a gown of chartreuse crepe. Her colonial bouquet was of carnations and stephanotis.

Best man was the brother of the bridegroom, Daniel Miller, of Chicago. Ushers were David Miller, brother of the bridegroom, and James P. Lavin, brother of the bride.

Open House

Some 150 friends gathered at the Winema hotel Tuesday evening when Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Matthews entertained at open house on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. Center of attraction was the long buffet table with its lovely floral centerpiece.

Hosts for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Schulze, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Holcomb, Mr. and Mrs. John Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bertram and Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Buffington.

Vacations

In Klamath Falls this week-end are Jean, Bonnie and June Hauger, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Hauger of 1540 Pacific Terrace. June arrived home Thursday evening from Oregon State college in Corvallis where she is attending summer school. Bonnie will be home for the summer after attending the University of Seattle. Jean is spending a two weeks' vacation in Klamath Falls before returning to San Francisco where she is working.

Family Picnic

A lovely family picnic is being enjoyed today at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Scott Warren at Algonka. Guests for the day are Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Blocklinger and Sally, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jendrzewsky, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Underwood, Mrs. Leslie Rogers, James Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Raviza and children of Chiloquin.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard F. Muskoff of Chico, Calif., were visitors in Klamath Falls recently. They were returning to their home after a six weeks' trip. The Muskoffs were residents of Pelican City for 19 years.

ONE OF THE PRETTIEST WEDDINGS OF THE SEASON was an event of last Sunday, June 29, when Nadine Palmerton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren LeGrant Palmerton, became Mrs. Virgil McKnight Hanks. The double ring vows were exchanged at the First Presbyterian church.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Albert M. Scott of Tulelake announce the engagement of their daughter, Jean, to Ella D. Peterson of Sebastopol, Calif. The wedding will be an event of late August.

Miss Scott is a graduate of Tulelake high school and has completed her junior year at the University of Nevada where she is studying home economics.

Mr. Peterson, after graduation from Santa Rosa Junior college, attended the University of Nevada until joining the navy where he held the rank of lieutenant. Upon his discharge he returned to studies at the university and was graduated this year as an electrical engineer.

Wedding Told

Friends here have received announcements of the wedding of Leah Bernice Griffin, formerly of this city, to H. Henry Albertsen of Petaluma, Calif.

The ceremony was an event of Saturday, June 14, in Ukiah, Calif. The couple will reside in Petaluma. Mr. Albertsen is a former teacher in the Klamath county system, instructing at Altamont Junior high school here, and is also a past president of the Business and Professional Women's club of this city.

Eight Years Old

Rickey Anne Pepworth, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard B. Pepworth of 2510 Turnage, celebrated her eighth birthday on Saturday, June 28, when she invited a number of young friends to a movie with refreshments afterward at her home.

Rickey Anne's guests were Karen Totten, Joan Morris, Carol Poll, Virginia, Ruth and Frederick Roenicke, Paul and Gordon Franks, Judy Johnson, Danny and Cathie Oaks and Rickey Anne's little sister, Janet Kay Pepworth.

The Eastern Star social club will hold an outdoor meeting on the lawn at the home of Mrs. L. K. Phelps on Friday, July 11. Mrs. George Casper will assist Mrs. Phelps. A brief business meeting will be held and plans for a picnic to be held at the Fred Cofer home August 1, will be discussed. A cordial invitation to all Star members is extended, and several visitors from other chapters are expected.

Best man was Harold Mack Jr., of San Francisco, and ushers were Richard Newman and Jack Hopkins.

Calvary Baptist Scene Of Rites

Wed on Monday morning, June 16, at 8 o'clock in the Calvary Baptist church, were Betty Jean Joiner, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Perley Webster, of this city, and James Peyton McGown Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. McGown of Beaumont, Tex.

Given in marriage by her uncle, the bride wore a gown of white Duchess satin with a sweetheart neckline, full-length train and fingertip veil. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a Colonial bouquet of carnations and roses with pastel ribbons.

The bride was attended by her cousin, Mrs. Robert Stapp, matron of honor, who wore a gown of pink nylon and carried a bouquet of mixed flowers.

The bridesmaid was Patsy Hambrick. She wore an aqua taffeta gown over tulle. She carried a bouquet of mixed flowers.

The groom had as his best man, Robert Stapp. Harry Moratto was attendant. Ushers were Harry Stoier and Verne Griffith.

H. G. Shirey sang, "Because" and "I Love You Truly," accompanied

Nadine Palmerton Is Summer Bride

As pretty a summer bride as could be found was Nadine Palmerton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Loren LeGrant Palmerton of this city when she took the name of Mrs. Virgil McKnight Hanks in a 4 o'clock service read at the First Presbyterian church last Sunday afternoon, June 29, by the Rev. David F. Barnett Jr. The double ring ceremony was used.

Vows were exchanged before a bank of woodwardia fern and tapers in the presence of 150 guests. Just before the ceremony a George McIntyre played incidental organ music and Mrs. Marvin Nera sang Grieg's lovely, "I Love Thee." Candles were lighted by 11 Sharon Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Ernest Taylor of Klamath Falls and Carolyn Schoenberg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Schoenberg of Bly. They wore butterfly yellow frocks over green tulle designed in Empire style with their little skirts sweeping the floor.

Nadine, given in marriage by her father, walked to the altar down an aisle marked by long satin ribbons caught by clusters of yellow and white marguerites—the flower theme of the wedding. Her gown was starched. Chantilly horizontally striped lace with a sheer yoke and tulip push-up sleeves. The snug bodice was bound by lace and the tiered skirt fell in a long, very full train. Her Venetian lace cap studded with seed pearls caught an illusion net veil bound by a band of carnation hearts. Nadine carried a white Bible topped by a single white orchid from which fell a cascade of white satin ribbons. She wore long white kid gloves and a single strand of pearls, her only jewelry, was a gift of the groom.

Margie, Nadine's sister, was her maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Barbara Schultz of San Jose and Bettie Hopkins of Klamath Falls. Their gowns were of buttercup yellow marquisette over tender green tulle, fashioned with sheer high necklines and fuchsia edged in marquisette ruffles. The three carried marquerite hoops outlined in tulle and wore wreaths of the flowers in their hair. Dainty mits completed their costumes. Margie's costume stressed pale green satin ribbons and the bridesmaid's ribbons were yellow.

Best man was Harold Mack Jr., of San Francisco, and ushers were Richard Newman and Jack Hopkins. The bride was graduated this June from the University of California where she was active in campus affairs. She is a former student of Lewis and Clark college. Virgil is the son of Mrs. Marie Hanks Decatur, Illinois, and met his bride on his return from the South I. C. where he served as a company correspondent with the United States marine corps with the rank of staff sergeant. He attended Eureka college at Eureka, Ill., prior to entering the marine corps. Following his discharge from the Marine Barracks here, he has been with the Harold Mack Jr., studios in San Francisco.

Out-of-town wedding guests included, Mrs. Seymour O'Dell Hamburg, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Morgester, Eden, N. Y., Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson, Arcade, N. Y., and Mrs. Lloyd Palmerton and Ronald of San Francisco, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. George Woodworth of Philville, Mrs. George Pickard of Portland, and Mrs. Nancy Weyer and Vyvyan, classmates of the bride at Lewis and Clark college and all of Portland. George Bischof of Bismarck, N. D., Mrs. Harold Olsen of Eugene, Ore., Mrs. Bert Schultz and daughters, Barbara and Mrs. William Edmondson San Jose, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Don Wiedler and son John of Chicago, who arrived Sunday morning and are spending the summer in occupying their apartment on H. street.
