

Indications Mount That Some Nations In Soviet Area To Attend Paris Meet

PARIS, July 8 (AP)—Indications mounted today that at least some of the nations within the Soviet orbit would attend the Paris conference on the Marshall aid-to-Europe program, and a dispatch from Prague quoted Czechoslovak sources as suggesting Russia herself might try to back into the talks.

A Sofia dispatch quoted an authoritative source as saying "probably Bulgaria will participate" in the conference, which opens in Paris Saturday.

The dispatch said the Bulgarian council of ministers was meeting to reach a decision in the matter.

Despite a Moscow radio report that Yugoslavia had rejected the British-French invitation to participate, observers in Belgrade said the Yugoslavs still had not replied, and probably would not do so before Thursday—the deadline for an answer.

Czechoslovakia formally announced her acceptance of the invitation today.

Soviets May Come

A dispatch from Prague quoted a source close to the government as speculating that the Soviet Union herself might send a representative to the conference. This source said it was significant that the Czechoslovakian government, in which the communists hold major strength, had accepted. Few observers, the dispatch said, believed the Czechoslovakian decision would have been taken had there been an outright request from Russia to stay away from Paris.

In Rome, communist leaders in statements over the week-end declared that Italian communism was not unalterably opposed to participation in the Marshall plan. The Austrian cabinet also accepted the invitation today.

In London, British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said the Marshall proposal might yet make the greatest contribution to international amity. He indicated in an address that the door still was open to Russia to join in implementing the program. Bevin said Marshall's proposals were purely economic and that prejudices, "either religious or ideological" should be ruled out in the discussions.

Malin Youth Wins Award

Ted Gordon, Malin high school student, received word Monday that he is Oregon state winner in the senior division of the Fisher Body Craftsman's guild contest held in Oakland, Calif. Ted will soon receive a cash award for his work.

Along with the other entrants, Ted submitted a scaled drawing and model of an originally designed automobile. Judging was on originality of design and artistic merit, proportion and balance of design and parts, workmanship, painting and color application, practicability of design and scale fidelity.

Young Gordon is a senior at Malin high school and does model car designing as a hobby. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Gordon.

Tule To Hold Tourist Meet

Several carloads of Klamathites will travel to Tulelake Wednesday to meet with the Tulelake Rotary club for a discussion of tourist promotion plans for the basin area. Charles Stark said that directors and committee leaders will be able to attend the luncheon as Klamath board meetings are being held once every two weeks during the summer months.
