New roles for summer fruits and vegetables

Summer fruits and vegetables deserve an A—for appetite appeal—when seasoned and served in temptingly different ways. So get out the lemon, paprika, mint and cheese and try these.

MINTED PEAS—Green peas and cool mint blend to make a dish as refreshing as the evening breeze after a hot day. Crush 6 fresh mint leaves and add to 1/2 cup cream or top milk. Let stand. Shell 3 pounds peas and cook, covered, in small amount of boiling water until tender, about 10 minutes. Strain mint from cream; heat and pour over peas just before serving. Season with salt, pepper and butter. Serves 6.

FRUIT KABOB—Iced drinks are doubly delightful with these cute "dunkers." On a cellophane or other sturdy straw, string a fat red strawberry, a melon ball or cube, and a chunk of banana or pineapple.

ROASTING EARS AU GRATIN—Golden yellow corn wears a jacket of cheese. Be sure to make a nonstop trip from oven to table. Cook husked, cleaned roasting ears in boiling, salted water to cover in a covered kettle until tender, 5 to 10 minutes. Remove from water; brush with melted butter and roll in grated American cheese. Place in flat baking pan in moderately hot oven (400° F.) 5 minutes or until cheese melts.
