

Ill-Clothed Britons Asked To Vote On Ceremony Of Elizabeth's Wedding

LONDON, July 11 (AP)—Ill-fed, ill-housed and ill-clothed Britons were invited today by the widely circulated Daily Express to vote on whether Princess Elizabeth's wedding should be shadowed by the rationing austerity under which the king's subjects live.

"Should there be flags and parties and bands and a vote from the public funds to make Princess Elizabeth's wedding day our most colorful festive occasion since the coronation?" the Express asked. "Or should the austerity of life and the government dictate an occasion where Britain's traditional salute to happiness would seem out of place?"

The paper, which claims a circulation of 2,575,327—nearly one of every 10 Britons—asked its readers to write "yes" or "no" on a postcard in answer to the question.

"Should the princess' wedding day be selected as the first post-war occasion to restore to Britain the traditional gaiety of a gala public event?"

The Express suggested that the wedding celebration should include "processions, reviews, parties, ballroom dancing and fireworks."

"Life," it said, "is too drab to pass up this chance of having fun."

The day is certain to be a public holiday although the wedding date—expected to be some time in October—has not yet been announced.

The date will be chosen by the king and queen in consultation with Princess Elizabeth and the bridegroom—Lt. Philip Mountbatten, former Prince Philip of Greece.

Opportunity for enjoyment of the out-of-doors will be given the girls when such activities as swimming, hiking, nature study and handicrafts are offered. Other entertainment will be cooking over an open fire, games, folk dancing, archery and dramatics.

According to Girl Scout headquarters, registration for the first and third weeks has been closed but a few more girls can be accommodated in the second week.

Staff for the camp consists of Ella Hedkey, director; Mrs. Elaine Provost, head cook; Mrs. Fannie Goddard, assistant cook; Elmer Provost, handy man; Elizabeth Stoner, waterfront director; and Mrs. Hazel Mundlin, nurse.

Counselors will be Mrs. Connelly Wood, Mrs. Dale Mattoon, Mrs. T. Moore, Mrs. Doris Parker, Mrs. J. C. Stevenson Jr., Mrs. Leah Ferrell, Mrs. Hans Frei, and Mrs. Gertrude Pruitt. Assistant counselors are Charlotte Carter, Britta Lion, Ruth Merrill, and Barbara Romkamp.

Buses leave Klamath Union high school promptly at 8:30 a. m. Sunday.

Milk Price Objected To

PORTLAND, July 11 (AP)—Another complaint about the new milk price here was voiced today—this time by the Dairy Cooperative association.

The association asserted producers were losing money because of lower cream and milk prices. Milk now retails at 17 cents, instead of the previous 17 cents in stores and 18 cents delivered at homes.

Ervin L. Peterson, state agriculture director, replying to the association's request for a hearing, said dairymen should give the new price order a longer test.

Yesterday the Oregon Jersey Cattle club protested the pricing formula.

Drivers Win Safety Awards

Safety awards have been presented to several Klamath Greyhound bus drivers by the Pacific Greyhound company. The drivers have been honored for having driven buses two and three years without being involved in accidents.

Receiving the award for three years of safe operation are Claude R. Babb and Maurice H. Melchert. Babb and Melchert also received the two-year safety award along with Clyde E. McKim, Willard E. Roberts and Arnold O. Thompson.

An estimated 180 million miles of safe operation was chalked up in 1946 by Greyhound drivers, according to Glen G. Magnuson, safety director for the Pacific division.

Approximately 1200 men were honored with safety awards, the greatest number ever to win awards in a single year.

Truman To Report On Economics

WASHINGTON, July 11 (AP)—President Truman today decided to send Congress within the next ten days a special mid-year report on the economic outlook, including the possible effect of John L. Lewis' new coal wage gains on living costs.

President Truman today decided to send Congress within the next ten days a special mid-year report on the economic outlook, including the possible effect of John L. Lewis' new coal wage gains on living costs.

Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of the president's council of economic advisers, said to the cabinet a memorandum on the state of the nation's business, based on the council's continuing researches.

Ross said the cabinet felt it would "be a very useful thing to put these findings out for the benefit of Congress and the country." He added that he does not know whether there will be White House recommendations for legislation in connection with the finding.

Ross would not confirm reports that the council still expects, as it did in March, that a business downturn threatens, and that a noticeable decline in consumers' disposable income will have an adverse effect on jobs and production when present-breaking exports fall off.
