

United States Proposes 11-Nation Conference To Work On Jap Peace Treaty

WASHINGTON, July 17 (AP)—The United States announced Wednesday it has proposed an 11-nation conference August 19 to begin work on a Japanese peace treaty. The proposal represents a break with the peace-making methods followed in Europe where Russia and each of the other Big Four powers has an absolute veto.

The conference, under the American proposal, would be held either in Washington or San Francisco. Some of the invited nations might suggest alternative places or dates. No replies have been received to the proposal which was made, the state department announced last Friday.

Conclude Here

American officials said that because of the availability of diplomatic representatives in Washington it probably would be simpler to arrange this initial conference here.

Strike Ties Up 5 Ships

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17 (AP)—Five ships were gripped today in the CIO longshore walking bosses strike, creeping through the Pacific coast maritime industry.

A picket line prevented stevedores from working the Wayne Victory as she arrived here from the East coast yesterday. Previously, one ship here and three in the Los Angeles area had been tied up. The walking bosses are seeking recognition of the International Longshoremen's union as their bargaining agent. Employees maintain the bosses are supervisory employees and do not come under collective bargaining regulations.

The union, which struck two companies in the first five days of the strike, said other employers would be struck progressively if and when they refused to bargain.

Honolulu Fighter Victor In Bout

OAKGOW, July 17 (AP)—Dado Ma, 3, Honolulu flyweight, defeated Jimmy Monaghan of Belfast, Irish flyweight champion, in a non-title fight at Hampden park football stadium Wednesday when the Irishman was disqualified in the ninth round.

The bout was put on as a substitute after Jackie Patterson of Scotland, the world flyweight champion, collapsed early today and withdrew from his scheduled title fight against Marino. The champion had exhausted himself trying to get down to the 112 pound weight limit.

Approximately 75 per cent of those replying had flown before; 25 per cent were making their first trips.

Approximately 75 per cent were traveling on business or a combination of business and pleasure, while 23 per cent were traveling solely for pleasure and 2 per cent for emergency reasons.

Fashion Designer Sounds Death Knell To Hopes Of Making Old Clothes Last

NEW YORK, July 17 (AP)—It's a portent of things to come that, after seeing Adele Simpson's fall collection, visiting fashion editors looked critically at their own summer costumes and began to chatter excitedly about the "cloche silhouette," the "Casanova tunic" and the "Peg o' My Heart" jacket.

Mrs. Simpson, with her customary ease, dishes up a group of new fall styles guaranteed to put an end to any lurking thoughts that maybe that last year's suit will do, after all. The nipped-in waist, the rounded hipline, the longer skirt, the modified shoulder—they're all present and accounted for, and moreover they look definitely right.

In both suit skirts and dresses, Mrs. Simpson makes frequent use of the inner corset belt, to minimize the waistline. Some suits have a wide elasticized band to accomplish the same purpose and add a decorative touch as well.

Notable example of the "cloche silhouette" is a suit of soft gray tweed with peg-top skirt and rounded over the hips. With it is worn a fringed scarf of matching tweed.

The Casanova silhouette is a tunic suit with wasp waist and big collar over a slim skirt. The "Peg o' My Heart" number is a little wraparound cutaway jacket with unpadded shoulders, like those worn at the time the song was popular.

Most startling note in the Nettie Rosenstein collection is a "flying buttress" silhouette employed in stiff taffeta evening gowns with an 1880 flavor. In these the skirt is drawn to the back, flaring in winglike folds below a draped off-shoulder bodice.

Mrs. Rosenstein also likes ankle length theatre suits of black slipper satin with very full skirts and brief, fitted jackets. Her favorite coats have full, flaring backs and high, turned-up collars, good to keep the ears warm.

Of the 2634 officers graduated from West Point during World War II, 825 were commissioned in the air force.
