LAKE SUCCESS, July 19 (AP)—The United Nations Balkan subsidiary commission moved into northwestern Greece today for an on-the-spot investigation of Greek charges that an "international brigade" had invaded from Albania.

Money Agreed For Interior

WASHINGTON, July 19 (AP)—House-Senate conferees today agreed on compromise legislation providing $194,500,000 for operation of the interior department during the fiscal year ending next June 30.

This compares with $215,000,000 voted by the senate and $161,000,000 approved by the house.

Most of these funds are spent upon reclamation, irrigation and power projects in the Western states. The big annual appropriation measure has been the center of a bitter dispute between senate and house conferees.

The conference report now goes to the house for ratification, then to the senate.

Senator Wherry (R-Neb.), head of the senate conferees, told reporters that for the Bonneville Power Administration at Portland, Ore., the conference agreed to set up $8,596,400 cash and $4,935,500 in contractual authority.

The senate had voted $16,222,400 in cash, plus $6,000,000 in contractual authority. The house total was $6,907,800 in cash with no contractual authority.

Firefighters Save Community

WRANGELL, Alaska, July 19 (AP)—Volunteer firefighters at the northern British Columbia town of Telegraph, B. C., saved the community from destruction by fire in a 10-hour fight yesterday but only after several buildings were burned, messages reaching here today said.

The Stikine hotel, the buildings of the British Columbia mounted police detachment and the home of Charles Raines were burned, messages said. Walter Simpson, hotel owner, received minor burns. The fire started in the hotel in the early morning.

The government agency building and other structures were saved. Telegraph Creek, 125 miles northeast of here on the Stikine river, is one of the area's important towns.

Bevin Warns Of World Mistake

MORPETH, England, July 19 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin warned today that a wrong decision in the relations among nations might condemn the children of the next generation to war.

"There is no danger of another war in this generation as far as I can see," the foreign secretary said in an extemporaneous address to a coal miners' picnic here. He added, however:

"I feel conscious that a wrong decision, a wrong judgment, or a petulant word now might condemn the children of 30 or 40 years' time."

Georgia Grand Jury Would Welcome Chain Gang Return

BRUNSWICK, Ga., July 19 (AP)—A county grand jury has blamed abolition of Georgia's ill-famed chain gangs for the mass escape attempt last week in which eight negro convicts were slain by officers' pistol and shotgun fire.

In a special 900-word presentation yesterday the jury contended the violence would have been avoided if the prisoners had been wearing chains and stripes.

The report absolved Warden H. G. Curley council recessed hearings on the Balkan problem until next Tuesday, when the U. S. will attempt to force a showdown with Russia on establishing a watch over Greece's northern borders.

Portland Firm Gets Road Contract

PORTLAND, July 19 (AP)—A contract for constructing 6.6 miles of the Happy Camp timber access road south of Grants Pass has been awarded to Kern & Kibbe, Portland, on a bid of $292,776, the public roads administration reported today.

The work is financed by the forest service and will release about $,000,000 board feet of timber annually, the report said.

Kenai Fire Creeps Near Alaska City

SEWARD, Alaska, July 19 (AP)—Still raging unchecked, the gigantic Kenai peninsula forest fire had moved today within 25 miles of Seward, and forestry men were reported concerned it might leap a four-mile stretch of the upper Kenai river and sweep through heavy timber toward this port city.

Fred Rinaldi, injured fire fighter brought here by plane yesterday, said that if the fire spans the river it would be "almost impossible to check its spread southward."

Dayton Gilliland, who flew Rinaldi from the fire lines, estimated the western front of the blaze is 50 miles long and is moving steadily toward the Kaslof river.

Rinaldi, who suffered a fractured pelvis when a boulder rolled down upon him, said men fighting the scorching flames spray one another with water to help withstand the terrific heat.

The army reported in Anchorage today that the battle to save the village of Kenai on the north shore of the peninsula apparently has been successful. No appreciable gains by the fire have been made in the last 48 hours due to constantly shifting winds, giving 85 army engineers time to carve a 12 1/2 mile long fire break around the settlement.

No backfires will be started near Kenai unless the threat to the town is renewed.

Park Plans Pushed

Plans for the proposed Ward memorial park, Ward and Hope, are nearing completion according to Harry L. Ward as donations continue to pour into the park fund along with promises of cooperation from the community. Approximately $2314 has been collected in donations.

Heavy equipment for the removal of earth for the swimming pool has been promised and other residents of the suburban area and city have agreed to donate rock for the memorial staff to mark the entrance on Ward and Hope streets. Burkhard and Schorgens have donated 25 benches for the park. Labor for landscaping is being donated by the Green Gardens along with trees, shrubbery and flowers for the park. Various women's clubs are furnishing playground equipment. Equipment from farmers in the community will be used to level the ground some time within the next few weeks.

The idea of the park was originated by the Shasta View grange to commemorate Klamath county pioneers. The name, Ward Memorial park, was selected by residents of the suburban area. A board of five members will be set up to handle finances. It has been suggested that the suburban fire department use the corner of the park for a fire station for their equipment. There will be running water during the winter at the park. The land for the park, just off S. 6th on Ward and Hope, has been purchased from the county for $3500.

Recent donors include Harwin Jewellers, $50; Klamath Lake Moulding company, $100; Burkhard and Schorgens, $50; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Burkhard, $50; Ray Chase, $100, and Rogers Jewellers, $25.
