Hulda, City's Lone Seeing Eye Dog, Dies

By Ronald Brown

Hulda, an 11-year-old Seeing-Eye dog belonging to Cecil Carlisle, 402 South Seventh street, died of old age yesterday, after 10 years of faithful service as a guide to Carlisle and guardian of his family.

Hulda was a well-known figure in Klamath Falls, being the only Seeing-Eye dog in this area, and was often to be seen on the streets with Carlisle, who operates a stand in the post office building.

The dog had been ailing for two or three days before her death and died yesterday while the Carlisle family was at dinner. Veterinarians said that her death was caused by heart trouble, stemming from old age. Hulda has been in partial retirement during the past few years.

The Kiwanis club helped to send Carlisle to Morristown, New Jersey, to get the dog some 10 years ago, and Hulda has been an important member of the Carlisle household since then. Carlisle said that she had become a regular member of the family and that her death was "just like losing one of the family."

Hulda will be buried in the Lindley Heights area, near the home of Carlisle's mother-in-law, as soon as a suitable spot can be located. Carlisle hopes to obtain another Seeing-Eye dog some time in the future, but Hulda will long be remembered, both by the Carlisle family and by those who have seen her faithfully and confidently guiding her master about the city.

Demos Make Threat To Delay Close

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—Democratic Leader Rayburn (Texas) served notice today that he will block session end legislation if Republicans seek to order a house investigation of the Justice department's handling of Kansas City election complaints.

With senate democrats threatening to filibuster an investigation resolution on that side of the capitol, it appeared Republicans were confronted with this choice:

Either to give up the idea of a congressional inquiry into the alleged Kansas City vote frauds or risk prolongation of the congressional session they want to adjourn Saturday.

Rayburn announced his stand to the house. He said he would object to all unanimous consent requests "until this thing is cleared up."

Much legislation must be pushed through by so-called "unanimous consent" procedure if congress is to meet its Saturday adjournment deadline.

All Politics

Rayburn said the adjournment would be delayed two weeks or more, unless he gets assurance that there will be no republican effort to launch a house investigation.

He described the proposed investigation as "all politics," adding: "They have messed this thing up in the senate and they are not going to put it off on the house."

After Rayburn spoke, Rep. Bennett (R-Mo.) told a reporter he had talked with GOP leaders and it was their opinion that because of "the democratic filibuster against the investigation," any investigation legislation would have to be "postponed for the present."

A high republican, asking not to be quoted by name, also told reporters no effort will be made to shove an investigation resolution through the house.

"The senate will handle this itself," he said.

Bennett declared: "Obviously, the administration and its satellites in congress are afraid of the resolution and that they have plenty to hide. Otherwise they would not filibuster it to death at this session."

"The American people will recognize their tactics and will hold them accountable."

Indonesian Head Appeals To U.S.

Dutch Tank Push Takes Main Port

JOGJAKARTA, Java, July 24 (AP)—President Soekarno of the Indonesian republic broadcast an appeal tonight to President Truman and the United States public "to exert every effort to halt this war in Indonesia and bring about a peaceful settlement."

"Just as you in the United States in 1776 fought until you gained your independence, so shall we fight until we are free," he said.

"This fight to the finish can only be stopped if the Dutch cease their military action and join us, with the British, in mediation of our dispute."

New Lights Gleam On Widened Arterial Street

This night view shows the new lights on South Sixth street, first street lighting system developed in this area outside municipalities. A celebration is scheduled for Friday night when the lights are turned on permanently. (See also page 18.)

In The Day's News

By FRANK JENKINS

THERE are straws in the winds today. In themselves, they are not particularly interesting. But if we watch them thoughtfully they tell us which way the world winds are blowing.

JOHN M. HIGHTOWER, a competent reporter, tells us from Washington this morning that "a new split between the United States and Russia—this time over drafting a Japanese peace treaty—threatens today to destroy what little unity remains between the great powers."

He adds:

"Up to this week there had been considerable hope that Washington and Moscow would be able to devise some treaty which would eliminate many of the frictions that have beset peace making in Europe. Russia's rejection yesterday of American proposals along this line greatly dimmed, if it did not kill off, these hopes."

Local Chief Accuses CIO

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—Michael Beresick testified today that the CIO United Electrical Workers union has "done everything in its power" to wreck the Bridgeport, Conn., local 203, of which he is president, because it expelled 26 communist members.

Beresick and Joseph Julianelli, business agent of the local, told the house committee on un-American activities that communists have infiltrated both the international union and the local.

Albert J. Fitzgerald, president of the international, said in a statement distributed to the press that the two witnesses had been "discredited" in advance. He accused the committee of attacking the CIO-UE "because its members fear for their political future."

Fitzgerald promised that the union will "redouble efforts" to have committee members "repudiated by the voters."

Beresick said said Fitzgerald is not a communist. Julianelli said "We don't know."

The two officers told of leading a battle to throw communists out of the local and of being elected to office on an anti-red slate.

France Proposes Greek Watch Plan

LAKE SUCCESS, July 24 (AP)—France proposed today that the five big powers and all other "interested" nations be excluded from the proposed U. N. commission which would set up a semi-permanent watch along Greece's disturbed northern frontier.

French delegate Alexandre Parodi offered his suggestion informally in the United Nations security council which is considering an American plan for a commission of 11 nations, including the big five.

Parodi suggested that the commission should be composed of a smaller "neutral" group—possibly the six non-permanent members of the security council, with Sweden as the seventh member. The non-permanent members of the council are Australia, Brazil, Colombia, Syria, Poland and Belgium.

Payroll Tax Freeze OK'd

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—A house-senate conference committee agreed today to freeze the social security payroll tax at one per cent for another two years.

The action broke a deadlock that threatened to bring about a $2,000,000,000 tax increase January 1 through automatic increase in the levy from one per cent to 2.5 per cent against employees' pay and employers' payrolls.

Quick senate and house passage is expected for the compromise which provides that the levy—imposed to pay old age and survivors insurance—will increase in 1950 to 1.5 per cent and in 1952, to two per cent.

The present one per cent tax yields approximately $1,500,000,000 a year.

Service Head Plan Approved

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—The senate today approved by unanimous consent compromise legislation to place the armed services under a single cabinet officer.

The measure now goes back to the house for action on an agreement worked out last night by a senate-house conference committee. This incorporated "safeguards" designed to preserve the identity of the marine corps and naval aviation.

The bill creates a national defense setup urged by President Truman for two years. It establishes the air force as a separate branch of the service and places it, with the army and navy, under a secretary of defense.

Mr. Truman told a news conference today he is not ready to say who will be named to head the new setup.

Hap David typifies the spirit of South Sixth street for the nine o'clock photo this morning by getting out his broom and sweeping the pavement in readiness for the street dance Friday night celebrating the broad way's new lighting.

Eugene Holds KF Car Thief

EUGENE, July 24 (AP)—Arthur Cordean Robson, 20, of Klamath Falls, is in the Lane county jail today after giving local police a merry chase in a 1942 Buick sedan he allegedly had stolen from his hometown Tuesday night.

Officer Dwight Nichols started the chase about dawn this morning and Robson made the mistake of driving into a dead-end street, where he stopped the car and started to run.

One shot from the officer's pistol stopped Robson, who surrendered without a struggle and uninjured.

The car he was driving was stolen from a used car lot at 7th and Walnut in Klamath Falls. It is owned by William Kandra of Tulelake. Robson has been in trouble several times in Klamath Falls, once for theft, another time for being in Canada when he was supposed to report for a draft call and a third time for car theft in Washington while he was AWOL from the army.

Krug Says Kaiser Applied Heat For Plane Contract

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—Secretary of Interior Krug told senate war investigating committee members today that Henry Kaiser "put the heat of hell on everybody in Washington" to obtain wartime contracts to build a huge plywood airplane.

Krug told reporters he had informed Senators Brewster (R-Me.) and Ferguson (R-Mich.) at an informal conference that a contract made by the war production board with Kaiser and Howard Hughes, movie producer, for the plane's construction was let "before my time on the war production board."

The war investigating committee, headed by Brewster, is inquiring into the letting of the contracts and any possible connection of Elliott Roosevelt, son of the late President Roosevelt, with the transaction.

Ferguson, who heads a subcommittee opening hearings on the matter Monday, told a reporter that the army and navy had opposed letting the contracts but that orders had come from the White House to go through with them.

Krug said he told the two senators that the contracts were let before he became chairman of the war production board in August, 1944.

"All I could tell them was what was hearsay with me," Krug said. "What was it, then, that you told them?" a reporter asked.

"I said that Kaiser put the heat of hell on everybody in Washington," the cabinet member replied. "Initially they told him that he couldn't have an airplane contract because he had no aircraft man."

"He lined up Hughes and came back and said that now he had an aircraft man. Then he got the contract."

Street Attack Hurts Barkeep

Henry Monagan, bartender at Jean's Coffee shop, was taken to Klamath Valley hospital early this morning for treatment of painful injuries and Thomas E. Walker, 23, of 2590 Crest, was lodged in the city jail on an open charge following what police said was a fight on 7th street shortly after midnight.

Monagan is said to have refused to serve drinks to Walker and two companions, Joe B. Caspar of 9046 Wantland, and Roy Galloway, 2580 Kane, at the coffee shop lounge, and they left after Walker made a threat to the barkeep.

A short time later Monagan was going down 7th street toward the hotel where he roomed and was "jumped" by Walker, police said. In the fight Monagan received a broken jaw, an injury to his left eye and cuts on his back.

Monagan was helped to his room by L. C. Hines, 904 N. 9th, then was taken to the hospital. Walker was arrested a short time later on S. 6th. The charge against him was kept open pending further examination of Monagan's hurts.

Guards Off Skylight Man

A burglary charge against Brady Mayfield, 25, who fell through a skylight into a Klamath avenue barber shop several days ago, was dropped yesterday on request of R. N. Adkins, arresting officer, and the guards who have been watching Mayfield at a local hospital for the past eight days were taken off the job.

Substituting for the burglary count, a disorderly conduct complaint was drawn up. Mayfield pleaded guilty and received a 30-day suspended sentence.

He broke his ankle and injured both feet in his fall through the skylight, and has been in the hospital since his arrest. Three guards, on duty eight hours each a day, have been costing the county $24 a day to watch Mayfield.

Sheriff Lloyd Low said that the man probably would be moved to the county infirmary for the remainder of his stay in bed. He's expected to be off his feet for another month.

GP Voters Say No On Budget

GRANTS PASS, July 24 (AP)—Voters yesterday refused for the second time to approve a proposed city budget which called for exceeding the 6 per cent limitation by $58,025.75.

The vote was 453 yes and 563 no. In an election held last month a total of 288 votes were cast. Because of the small vote cast the budget committee chose to re-submit the same proposal.

The city's registered vote is 3820.

Area May Get Shower Tonight

Hope of reducing fire hazards in the Klamath Falls area was received today with the state weather bureau's forecast of showers for tonight, breaking the long dry spell felt here.

Lookouts in the Klamath Forest Protective district this morning reported a 50 to 90 per cent overcast with humidity slightly higher.

U. S. forest service lookouts are standing by with a report of a "weak, dry" lightning storm expected to hit in the south end of the Deschutes area, although few strikes were anticipated there or in this vicinity. A wind of between 5 and 10 miles per hour velocity, was said to be preceding the northern storm.

Clouds Delay Peak Scalers

LONGMIRE, Mount Rainier National Park, July 24 (AP)—Heavy clouds and overcast on Mount Rainier's lower slopes today prevented a party of eight skilled mountain climbers from leaving a high base camp to search for possible wreckage of a marine corps transport plane until 9 a. m. H. L. Bill, assistant park ranger, said.

The group was to split into three parties on the hazardous climb to the 9500-foot level on the crevasse-riven South Tahoma glacier, on which Assistant Chief Planner Bill Butler saw what he identified as plane wreckage last Monday. The San Diego-Seatec plane disappeared last December 10 with 32 aboard.

The weather was showery, with broken clouds on the mountain's upper slopes, and the party may not be able to reach the wreckage today, Bill said.

Gun Toter Incident At Capitol Prompts Talk Of Tighter Congressional Security

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP)—The arrest of another gun toter at the capitol—just after President Truman's surprise senate visit—prompted fresh talk today of tightening congressional security.

But the second incident of its kind in 10 days found lawmakers still wondering what can be done.

The latest episode occurred yesterday when capitol police seized an armed former serviceman in a men's wash room in the senate wing of the capitol.

Scarcely five minutes before Mr. Truman had left the building after making an unannounced visit and a brief speech to the senate, where he once was a member.

The other incident occurred July 12 when a former capitol policeman fired two shots harmlessly at Senator Bricker (R-Ohio) as the lawmaker was about to board a subway car which runs between the senate office building and the capitol. The ex-officer was sent to a hospital here for observation.

Senate Sergeant-at-Arms Edward F. McGinnis said it was "quite apparent" that the presence of Mr. Truman and yesterday's gun toter in the building at about the same time was "purely coincidental."

Nevertheless, senators expressed concern and said something ought to be done about it.

Bricker told reporters he "would like to see a well-trained capitol police force under civil service regulations," rather than the present patronage appointees who make up the unit.

The Ohioan said he may suggest this at the next session of congress in January.

Senator Buck (R-Del.) said several of his colleagues had mentioned to him that something should be done to provide greater protection, but that none had any concrete suggestions. Buck said the matter may be discussed later this week at a meeting of publicans.

KF Auto In Fatal Crash

An unidentified woman was killed and two men, including Henry N. Moe, retired Klamath Falls businessman, were injured today in a head-on automobile collision by the Devils Lake golf course at Oceanlake, Ore., this morning.

The second man injured was tentatively identified as John Frederick Kayala of San Francisco.

H. N. Moe's car, driven by W. H. Groves of Merrill, collided head-on with a vehicle containing the man identified as Kayala and the woman. The car, a 1947 model, burst into flames after the crash. Moe, riding in the vehicle, suffered a broken jaw.

The dead woman appeared to be between 50 and 60 years old. The man, who carried papers giving the name of Kayala, was taken to a McMinnville hospital in a critical condition.

Moe and Groves had been on a vacation trip along the coast and to Canada for the past two weeks, friends here said. Groves is a Great Northern railway employe at Merrill.

Hirshberg Defense Head Gets Threat

By FRED KRIEG

NEW YORK, July 24 (AP)—Lt. Cmdr. John J. O'Neil, defense counsel at the court martial trial of Harold E. Hirshberg, said today the defendant had received an anonymous letter threatening to blow up him, his family and defense counsel.

Hirshberg is charged with maltreating fellow prisoners of war in the Philippines. O'Neil told reporters of the letter in an interview outside the court room.

He said it contained "anti-Semitic and anti-Irish obscenity" and added that he had turned it over to the FBI. The letter, dated yesterday, was penciled, four pages long, and was mailed from Jamaica in the borough of Queens, O'Neil said.
