

Phone Rate Issue Heard At Merrill

MERRILL, July 24—Higher cost of material, labor, and equipment necessitates an increase in phone rates in the Merrill area, according to reasons presented by the Columbia Utilities company. Officials of the utilities company, along with other interested groups, appeared before a representative of the public utilities commissioner at a hearing held in Merrill Wednesday afternoon.

While some 20 residents of that area attended the hearing, only a few advanced complaints concerning the proposed increase. W. S. Jinnette of Merrill wanted to know if an upping of telephone rates would bring better service. He stated that his line had not been properly maintained. He was assured by the commissioner that such conditions would be remedied as soon as possible.

A representative of the U. S. bureau of reclamation protested that bureau lines were busy. Answer to this by the company was that their contract with the bureau of reclamation did not pay enough to maintain their lines properly.

Whether or not phone rates should be higher will be decided by the PUC. Higher rates would affect Columbia utility users in Merrill, Malin, Lorella and Bonanza.

Low Peach Price Worries Growers

PORTLAND, July 24 (AP)—Peach growers today debated picking early varieties after prices dropped to $1.50 a box wholesale.

Wholesale markets were glutted and only choice offerings found buyers. Morton Tompkins, Dayton grower and state grand master, said he would leave his early crop of 2000 boxes in the orchard unless demand improved. Wholesale attributed the drop in prices to heavy deliveries from California, The Dalles and the Willamette valley.

Outstanding Klamath Youth At Crater Lake

A warm day at Crater Lake national park induced Ed Parkhurst and Joy Jones to don bathing suits. Parkhurst is contesting for the title of Mr. Pacific Coast and Miss Jones was named Miss Klamath Falls in a recent competition. The couple drove to the lake in Parkhurst's newly purchased Packard convertible, also pictured here, accompanied by Pat Herrington and Emil Carroz of the Odell Motor company.

Rogue National Forest Slates Sale Of 50,000 Christmas Trees In 4-Year Period

Plans for the sale of Shasta red fir Christmas trees, known by the trade name of "Silvertips," from the Rogue River national forest have been announced by Karl L. Janouch, forest supervisor. Although cutting of trees does not ordinarily take place until October, early plans must be made to allow operators to arrange for cutting and marketing details well in advance, it was explained.

Approximately 40,000 Shasta fir Christmas trees along with over 15,000 trees of other species have been cut on the Rogue River forest since 1931, totaling in value nearly $12,000 according to forest service records. "Due to an increasing scarcity of readily available trees in the California forests," Janouch further explained, "Rogue River Shasta firs, equally prized by the California markets, are becoming more in demand, and it can reasonably be expected that sales from this forest during the next four-year period.

Club Moves Scout House

A building from the Jap camp has been brought up by the 20-30 club in conjunction with the American Legion for a Boy Scout house, and is located on the American Legion tract at Alameda and Shasta way. On Saturday, a 20-30 work party will be held there to lower the house on its foundations. Eats and refreshments will be served. Arrangements are being made for siding and painting for the building. Another work party will be held Sunday, August 3, when 20-30 members will repaint the 20-30 sign on the hill above town.

Plans are being made to hold a softball game under lights at Modoc field with the Jaycee team which challenged the 20-30's to a game. A big time was held in Yreka, Calif., Tuesday night when the Klamath Falls, Medford and Mt. Shasta 20-30 clubs held a joint meeting with the Yreka club as host.

Real Estate Booms High At Summit

CASCADE SUMMIT, July 24—Sky rocketing prices in real estate have hit Cascade Summit as well as other places. No more lots are available from the government for summer home cabins on Odell lake. Only about 60 houses are on the lake, and with many Californians wishing to own a summer cottage on the lake, unheard of prices are being offered for cabins. There are at present three houses for sale on the end of the lake near Cascade Summit. The A. C. Nagels wish to sell their house. Nagel built the house of logs and they have lived in it the year around for the past 13 years.

The Dr. Coffey summer home is also for sale. Dr. and Mrs. Walter B. Coffey having died, the property now belongs to their daughter, wife of San Francisco physician. The Coffey summer home has been a show place. A high retaining wall to keep the earth from sliding down on it is built in the back of it, as well as a wishing well, or an imitation well with an oaken bucket in it. The house formerly belonging to Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Rummel is also for sale. The properties will probably all be sold this summer because of the great demand for summer homes on the lake.

New Business At Tule Shapes Up

TULELAKE, July 24—J. C. Wahl and Marion W. Mack left for San Francisco Wednesday to purchase equipment for their new dry cleaning plant which is slated to open within the next 10 days. Their establishment will be located in a new building of pumice tile on Main street, and will be one of the most modern cleaning plants in Northern California. Four additional people will be employed, and the store will also feature a delivery service. In the other section of the building Elmer C. Jones will open offices of the Tule Refrigerator company. Opening date has been set for August 1.

Many young men are now getting valuable experience and training for their future in the United States navy.
