MARATHA Shops and Shops

Whytal's is feeling extremely pleased about a new line of versatile casual frocks... the Marian Carol dresses... to be carried in stock from now on... with new arrivals regularly.

These Marian Carols are patterned after the ever-popular shirtwaisters... so simply styled they never go out of fashion... but nicest of all are the fabrics and detailing. Skirts are slightly gored, giving just the right fullness... and all the dresses received so far have the glove sleeve. However, they're also available with long sleeves.

The other choice in stock... at present... is a smart striped gabardine with hazy brown, gray or green grounds... practically wrinkle-proof... a wonderful cool-weather dress for the office. These are touched up by leather belts and novel character buttons of wood... sizes 12 to 42.

These classics are also made in plain color gowns of autumn red, leaf green, coffee brown or teal... or in tissue flannels of lovely pastel tones... which you can obtain by special order... at WHYTAL'S... in the Medical-Dental building, Main at Ninth.

Two long-sleeve fabrics are being revived among fabrics - cambric and mull, but the latter is gone modern as it's pebbled for crease-resistance, and a resin finish not only discourages musing but gives it "body." The old mull, you may remember, had a droopy look that discouraged getting crisp lines into a frock.

Pine Street Market is all stocked up - a fresh on picnic supplies... decorated plates, wooden spoons and forks, napkins, drinking straws, cups... and new among these are the waxed food cups for carrying individual salads or puddings in your lunches.

Shopping around the shelves, Martha found a couple of new eats for the picnic, too... Old Fashioned Style Potato Salad, put up in pound glass jars... and a Vegetable Relish-Salad, ideal for barbecue plates or to garnish cold lunches.

That delicious chicken... a King is obtainable again... in 15-ounce tin ready to serve... in Town's Log Cabin syrup is back in new containers... put up in pint jars instead of the familiar log cabin tins.

Another favorite breakfast syrup whose return Martha welcomed... at PINE STREET MARKET... corner of Seventh and Pine... is Crimson Rambler Pure Marshmallow Syrup that gives a delightful smooth flavor to the hot cakes.

New nylon pantie girdles cater to the teen-age figure which needs only gentle coaxing to smooth out bulges. They weigh as little as four ounces yet give a firm support without restricting action freedom.

Curri's informed Martha this week that there's been quite a price reduction on all Dana perfumes and colognes... and if you don't recognize the Dana name, at least you're familiar with "Tabu," a highly popular fragrance in this line.

The four-ounce containers of Tabu cologne have been cut from $4.25 to $3.50... the eight-ounce from $7.50 to $6.90... and the 16-ounce from $12.50 to $10.00. The dram sizes of Tabu perfume are now priced at $2.50... reduced from $3.25... and the larger bottles are marked down accordingly.

Similar reductions have been made in two of Dana's other outstanding colognes... "Platine" and "20 Carats"... the price on an eight-ounce bottle of the latter changed from $8.25 to $6.50. The four-ounce sizes of "Emir" have been marked down from $4.50 to $4.00... so if any of these four are among your favorites, you'll be interested in replenishing your supply at the new lower prices... at CURRI'S... the friendly drug store... corner of Ninth and Main.

Designers with a flair for handling fabrics are showing their respect for fine-combed yarns by giving ready-made dresses that hand-made precious look of earlier days when cottons owed their distinction to fine needlework.

Cascade Home APPLIANCE COMPANY has been eagerly looking forward to this week's arrival of that most efficient "silent laundress"... the remarkable new Frigidaire Automatic Washer... and after watching a demonstration... in which it certainly fulfilled all expectations... Martha was completely sold, mainly because...

The automatic routine is so flexible that you can change it to handle different types of washings... lengthening, shortening, repeating or skipping an operation... The live-water action... an entirely new principle... produced by the rapid up-and-down motion of the pulsator... penetrates clothes through and through... A rapidity spin... at 1130 revolutions... removes far more water than ordinary methods... leaving the clothes barely damp... And it's almost entirely free from vibration... thanks to the feature of an exclusive Frigidaire feature...

Extremely important is the fact that Frigidaire Washers have been home-tested for five years before going on the market... and have already proved themselves by a quarter million washings. Time and testing have resulted in a trouble-free and dependable operation. Simply put clothes and soap in the convenient top opening... then set one dial once. The washer's electrical brain center does the rest!

Of course, this Frigidaire has lots of other improvements... an under-water soap distributor, a wash water switch, clog-proof pump, a lifetime porcelain cabinet, to mention a few... but you'll be anxious to see it for yourself, anyway... and Vern Owens of CASCADE HOME APPLIANCE CO., 124 No. 4th Street... will show you how smoothly the entire washer performs!

To balance the lengthy skirts, we hear that hats will be heavier... that is, they'll carry the weight higher. Fashion deems that old-time hat styles are coming back which will raise some more to-do. The toque and pillbox will be modified from those of 1914 vintage, and the 1912 chapeau will have some modern offsprings in the way of puffy crowns and brims that settle to the eyebrows.

Rickys Jewelers had the good fortune to secure a nice but inexpensive selection of styling silver pieces... ideal for all-occasion gifts... and, inasmuch as the surprisingly low prices are being passed on to their customers, Martha thinks it a splendid opportunity to purchase several pieces at a saving... to give away later.

The choice includes compotes, cream and sugar sets, bud vases, bonbon dishes and candle holders... all as silver finished as more expensive silver items.

Another suggestion for a gift you'd be proud to hang your name on are the individual salts and peppers of fine weight sterling... three pairs to a set... beautifully boxed... and the $3.95 price is actually less than in 1939.

Don't forget to look at the corner and have a look at the silver exhibit... showing the various stages in making holloware and flatware... in the Seventh Street windows of RICKY'S JEWELERS... 700 Main.

Designers have reached back into the past—even way back before World War I—for 1947's autumn fashions and some of the illustrations appearing look as though they came from Godey's Ladies' Book. We're still looking at them with a decidedly critical eye but the right eyebrow and saying, we'll never be caught wearing them!

Your Store introduced a brand new linen line this week... Brush Print designs on lunch cloths and napkins of excellent quality linen. The patterns are distinctly different from any you've seen... and colorings are eloquent.

"Flying Feathers" is probably the most striking, with vivid roosters chasing around the cloth... but the "Acapulco," depicting fish life in water, shows gorgeous blending of colors. "Fiesta," a floral, and "Pinto Country," a horsey design, are the other two. Price per set is only $9.95... and you can have them gift packaged.

YOUR STORE... at 721 Main... is exceedingly proud of its linens... from Ireland, Belgium, Czechoslovakia, Madeira, or China... and you'll find them all up on the second floor... including the Pure Irish Linen double damask cloths and napkins... hand-hemmed or hemstitched... from dinette up to banquet sizes... priced from a moderate $21.50 up to $59.00.

Giftably beautiful, too... and new... among the linens are Madeira bridge sets of petal-soft rayons in pastels... at Your Store.

Cost and suit collars which lining fall are patterned after the up-jutting collars of the 19th century dandies, their exaggeration adding a new style flair.
