A group of marines was in Klamath Falls last week to gather information for an article to be printed in Leatherneck, the official marine corps magazine. Headed by Sgt. L. A. Allen, they interviewed many ex-marines who have returned to Klamath Falls after being stationed at the barracks during the war. They also visited the barracks, now the Oregon Vocational school, and will make a comparison between the war-time barracks and the present vocational school building in the story.

The Indians sometimes made poultices of poison ivy.

Experience is the Best Teacher!

Remember all the different brands you smoked during the wartime cigarette shortage? That's when so many people discovered the milder, more flavorful pleasure there is in Camel's choice, properly aged tobaccos.

It was no fun! But that wartime cigarette scarcity was a revealing experience to smokers... taught millions that cigarettes of different brands are not alike... that there are big differences in taste, coolness, mildness... in quality.

What Brand? In those days of the wartime shortage, you took whatever brand you could get... a different brand every day some- times. Naturally, people compared brands... for taste... for throat... for real smoking pleasure.

Choice of Experience Even people who had never thought of changing brands tried Camels during the shortage. That's how more and more smokers learned that Camels suited them best. That's why...

MORE PEOPLE ARE SMOKING CAMELS than ever before!

YOUR "T-ZONE" WILL TELL YOU...
T for Taste...
T for Throat...
That's your proving ground for any cigarette. See if Camels don't suit your "T-Zone" to a T.

CAMELS are the "CHOICE OF EXPERIENCE"
