Spud Price Plan Needs Signatures

Eligibility for 1947 potato support program requires signature of certificate of eligibility and payment of one cent per cwt. fee before August 14, according to information given potato growers by Harvey Miller, chairman of the state PMA committee, at an evening meeting in Merrill, Friday.

Signature of the certificate of eligibility and payment of fees assures the following prices for marketable potatoes: September, $2.40; October, $2.50; November, $2.70; December, $2.90; January and later, $3.10. These rates are for No. 1's FOB car. Two's and B's sacked FOB go 50 per cen. lower. Service charges are 65 cents per cwt. Farmers gate prices, if used, will be 65 cents below FOB car plus allowance for services actually performed. Plantings must not have been over acreage allotment.

The one cent per cwt. fee for support application is based on estimated yield. Estimates must meet county committee approval. Support covers total crop even though that exceeds growers' estimate.

The certificate of eligibility indicates that commodity credit is privileged to call for delivery of potatoes but the only penalty for failure to deliver on demand is loss of further support.

Loans, though available at 75 per cent of the September bulk rate at the farm are not necessary to establish eligibility for support. Loan fees are an additional cent per cwt. Interest rate is three per cent. Loan is strictly a finance operation.

Most growers believe market prices will average considerably over support rates. Support rates in June, however, are 80 cents over last year. Most growers are undecided regarding application for support and are waiting for the August 1 crop estimate which is expected to be considerably lower than the July 1 report. The July estimate places the Oregon, Washington, Idaho crop 23,000, 360-sack cars lower than last year. The August report will probably be released about August 11.

Over 100 growers present at the Merrill meeting heard Bill Broadhead of the fruit and vegetable branch discuss the status of marketing agreements in potato production areas. According to Broadhead, all major areas are either set up or in the process of setting up agreements. Idaho's agreement, like the agreement in this area, is inoperative at present.

Agreements are made operative on order of the secretary of agriculture on recommendations of area committees of growers and handlers nominated by growers and handlers in the area. A committee still on record for this area includes G. J. Hilyard, J. R. Ratliff, Harry Jackman, Paul Dalton and George Berger for Klamath county and C. J. Main, S. J. Terry, George Yost, I. D. Wolfe and D. M. Crawford for Tulelake. Nomination meetings will be held before June 15, 1948, to activate the committee for that year.

Growers present at Merrill indicated a desire to keep marketing agreement machinery available but were decidedly opposed to making agreements operative this season.

Corn Hits New High

CHICAGO, Aug. 2 (AP) — Corn rolled ahead into new high territory again today on the board of trade, sustained by persistent commission house buying which met a general scarcity of offerings. The yellow grain strength helped oats, but wheat lagged on hedge selling.

All corn contracts established new seasonal highs before profit-taking reduced best gains late in the day. September and December deliveries sold at the highest point for these two contracts in the board's history, while May was only a few cents under the $1.99½ peak in 1920 for that month.

Local rains in Northern Illinois and parts of Indiana caused corn to open lower, but the moisture received was not great.

Wheat closed unchanged to 1¼ lower, September $2.31¼-½. Corn was 1⅝-2½ higher. September $2.14¼-½, and oats were ¾-1⅝ higher, September 95⅞-⅞.

Wheat Pours Into Market

PORTLAND, Aug. 2 (AP) — Wheat poured faster into the markets this week, with 391 cars received at Columbia river terminals and 738 cars at Puget sound, the U. S. department of agriculture reported today.

The weekly grain market review said some of the earlier Northwest districts are already completing the harvest, with yields better than anticipated.

Prices here fluctuated sharply during the week. The market opened active, then slacked off with an 8 cent drop, and resumed action late in the week with three-fourths of the price loss recovered.
