MIDLAND EMPIRE NEWS

New Pine Creek

Many local citizens are happy to know that the East Side Grange is sponsoring Betty Vincent as a candidate for the Cedarville rodeo. As a rule many Lakeview and local people attend the Cedarville show and concede generally that it is one of the best little shows in what is left of the "Wild West."

It is quite fortunate that Miss Vincent has been chosen to represent Goose Lake Valley as a queen candidate for the Surprise valley performance for in Betty, one has more than the typical western cowgirl. She is not only an expert rider, having ridden practically all her life, but is as good or better than the average cow-hand at roping and makes a striking figure astride a horse.

Anyone intending to take in the Cedarville show from Goose Lake valley should be sure to purchase tickets here for then Miss Vincent will get credit on her candidacy.

downstairs store is extremely pleased about a new arrival in its blanket family... General Electric's Automatic blanket... which provides all the warmth you want at a constant, even temperature... and, like any of Miller's other fine blankets, is purchasable on the Blanket Club plan!

The automatic electric blanket... priced at $42.00... is adjustable to any degree... and stays at that heat, operating similar to a thermostat control. Furthermore, having a unit hook-up on each side means that half the bed can be kept warmer or cooler... whatever's most comfortable. Washing is recommended rather than dry cleaning... but do heed instructions.

The Blanket Club plan... requiring only a small down payment, followed by easy weekly or monthly installments... is an ideal way to purchase bedding... in the summer, it's paid for by the time needed. Top quality blankets available on this club plan... at MILLER'S, 512 Main... include Kenwoods, Wool of the West and Pendletons... popular lines now back at pre-war prices... from $11.95 to $25.00... and four outstanding names in part-wool blankets... ranging from $6.50 to $7.95.

Coat fabrics this Fall will be handsomer than in many years. Satisfy black broadcloths, with a dressier sheen, will be seen in the sturdier ones, there are soft imported tweeds, deep-plee velours, and fleeces, velvety suede cloth and silk camel's hair.

The Klamath Massage Parlor... located at 1939 Main street... is all equipped to do something about your excess poundage worries... or to give you a muscular tone-up and reconditioning that you feel right up and coming full of zest for your Fall shopping spree!

If you're trying to streamline the bulges in your figure, the routine Mrs. Petroff prescribes includes two mineral water soaks... first hot, then cool... with a 40-minute "stren" sandwiched between. In addition, there's a prescribed work-out on the Exercycle... a device that looks like a bicycle... which exercises every part of the body.

The "slenderizing" table... part of Klamath Massage Parlor's latest in equipment... is sort of an automatic massager... that is, the electrically-operated table does the work... but, should you prefer, you can have a one-hour Swedish massage which includes a soothing 15-minute treatment with the Oster hand vibrator.

An Oscillator provides the first step in the routine... vibrating the lower limbs... then all of a body by use of belts.

Utmost sanitary precautions are taken at all times at KLAMATH MASSAGE PARLOR... affiliated with the Oregon Medical Massage association and the California Physiotherapy Institute... and it's the only one in the city equipped with these beneficial aids for losing poundage. The phone number is 2514... if you desire further information on prices, etcetera.

The choice in suits will be wide, with jackets generally longer, skirts flared instead of straight, nipped-in waists and a rounded look to the hips, but for we conservative souls, there will still be boxy jacket suits and those perennial classics that depend on good lines and tailoring for effect.

Buying cosmetics in Berlin's black market can be a dangerous business, and officials of the city drugs bureau are waging a hard fight against quacks and swindlers. Explosive perfumes and poisonous lipsticks have been found, containing a high content of methyl alcohol, likely to cause inflammation of the skin.

Hollywood has gone lei happy. Newest creations are whipped up in ribbon, wool fringe, fresh flowers and linen. A lei of tiny white linen butterflies is worn over a black linen suit, and other fetching ones are made of small scarlet bows or roman-striped ribbons. The kids like to use garden flowers, such as daisies or zinnias.

filled lately with such eye-catching suits and hats for the coming season... are so beckoning that Martha was lured inside to view some more beauties... on which all jackets and skirts are noticeably longer.

Without a doubt, those fine Juillard gabardines hold the spotlight and my voice are cast for one in the new palomino shade... and a stunning black number that has a loose, full jacket and self buttons. Of course, many other colors in gabs are equally lovely... hunter's green, wood brown, sand beige... and you'll be quite taken by the new detailing... such as the shoulder-collared treatment and cleverly designed pockets. Bright buttons add their bit.

Other suit fabrics among these early arrivals at Whytal's include Pacific woollens... and outstanding covers in junior sizes with every bit as much hi-fashion as the regulars.

This Auchin millinery is making its debut right along with the suits... at WHYTAL'S, in the Medical-Dental building, Main at 5th... and, although intriguing, isn't nearly so exaggerated as some of us had expected. You'll find a shade to match any suit... even to vine green, silvery grays that are gorgeous, siren black, palomino brown, wine reds or jaunty reds... in a host of provocative shapes... bedecked in satin, feather and jewel trims... or absolutely dripping with the latest wide mesh veiling.

Two distinct silhouettes stand out in this Fall's coat lineup. One is the fitted, missing from the fashion scene for several seasons; the other a greatcoat with full, flaring back—becoming to almost any woman.

A hand-clearance is also under way at LAPOINTE'S... 697 Main... at appealingly low prices. The popular Meadowbrook bags... of pastel fabrics... formerly $6.95... are reduced to $3.98... and a group of plastics and leathers are going out at only $1.00 each.

The new coat colors are deep, rich and glowing, with garnet red velours slated for top popularity. There's a deep hunter's green that will pop up often and a coppery tobacco brown that's wonderful for combining with black.

announces the arrival of two brand new items for its exclusive Helena Rubinstein line... Heaven-Sent Deodorant and Heaven-Sent Bath Foam... both stressing personal cleanliness... scented by that soaring Rubinstein fragrance that Martha's exclaims over so often.

This sleek cream deodorant has another quality added... that of being doubly protective... for it guards against possible skin infections or surface irritations as well as against offense... and it won't harm fabrics! Price per jar is $1.00 plus tax.

The heavenly Bath Foam is to luxuriate your bath... filling the tub with a cloud of good-smelling bubbles, besides softening the water... and the pretty, pale blue container makes it look so gift-able! This sells for $1.50 and tax.

CURRIN'S... the friendly drug store at the corner of Ninth and Main... carries Rubinstein's Heaven-Sent eau de toilette and body powder... to form a matching toiletries set.

Asphalt tile flooring is conducive to working out many decorative effects due to its standardized sizes and variety of colors, both plain and marbled.

Pine Street Market certainly produces... and fast... for this week Martha noticed a big ad in the SatEyePost on a new cheese delicacy... Borden's Cheese'n Bacon Cocktail Spread... so while shopping in the Market the next day, I took a look... and there it was! Every bit as good as the ad says, too!

There's also been another shipment of Borden's Jamburger Spread... and that Lieberkranz Spread the men like.

Geberhard's Chill Con Carne (minus beans)... and Gebhard's Tamales with chili gravy... unavailable for a long time... are on the shelf again. Either are mighty tasty for outdoor suppers at this season of the year.

Por delicious hot muffins, quick... there's a new Dromedary Corn Muffin Mix... and with these you might serve fresh comb honey, arriving from California.

At the PINE STREET MARKET... corner of 9th and Pine... you can order all canning supplies... jars, caps, sealing wax... and all seasonable fruits for the jars.

Capes are going to be seen more and more this coming year—long, short or medium. For evening, they're dramatically long and hooded, like the black broadcloth number we read about, lined in garnet red satin and gold lame. Similarly striking is another formal cape of scarlet wool.

reminds you 'tis the first of August... and if your school girl is going to have a fresh, pretty permanent to start off the new study year in September, it's time to be thinking about appointments and getting the hair into condition... very important!

As for yourself, you'll soon be viewing new trends being launched in hairdos that fit the radically different hairlines. Hairdressers say this Fall you'll wear your tresses over your ears... in flat curls or coils if it's long... in flat curls if it's short... so take a tip and start getting some life and shine into sun-drenched, wind-dried hair... or it isn't going to show up well alongside new millinery.

STUDIO OF BEAUTY... on the mezzanine of Whytal's... is equipped with the latest "instant dryer" that eliminates long sittings... and with air conditioning for not year comfort. Call 7151 for appointments with Fern, Steve, Beryl or Olive... and do get your requests on the book before the Fall rush.

A new flexible checkbook is being used for a drum-shaped table that can be fitted around curved surfaces. Checkbook consists of plywood squares on a canvas backing, can be painted to match a color scheme or left in its natural wood finish.
