Vacancy At Fullback Is Biggest Problem

By HALE SCARBROUGH
Sports Editor, The Herald and News

The Henley Hornets will be tough on the gridiron again this fall—if someone steps into the cleats and molekims left by Fred Hess' at fullback.

Last season the Hornets cleaned up all B school opposition around here and went on to win the state school championship, and the offense used was tailored to fit Hess like a tight sweater. But this fall Big Fred will be playing football for St. Mary's, and there is a definite vacancy in the Hornet backfield.

Max Marvin, assistant to Carroll Howe, last year, will have the job of coaching the Hornets come first call September 1, and he predicts that the Henley boys will take care of the Klamath county football league in romping style and the offense used was tailored to fit Hess like a tight sweater. But this fall Big Fred will be playing football for St. Mary's, and there is a definite vacancy in the Hornet backfield.

His primary candidates for fullback are Dale Newnam, who played at tackle and occasionally filled in for Hess last season, and Clarence Adams, halfback. Since the Hornets will be using a variation of the model 'F' most of the time, with the ball coming back only to the quarterback or fullback, Marvin has to find some big fellow to take that spot. Newnam and Adams will get the first shots.

Not all plays will be run from the 'F', though. The single wing will be employed on occasion, also a short punt formation, and some of those tricky double and triple reverse Amity came up with last year will be thrown in for good measure.

Marvin says he's not getting any gray hairs over the material he has for the line, but the place he's liable to get trumped is in the backfield. In the line he lost only Herb Wallin of the regulars. Wallin played guard. Coming back for another season will be Center Harold Ballin, End Clarence Adams, Guard Ben Sheppard, Tackles Lyle Smith, Ed Frucur and Dean Wells.

In addition he has at least five other candidates for end, including Dale Weber, who is a probable starter, and half a dozen potentials at guard and tackle. Most of them are big fellows, 180 pounds or better.

Archie Rutter, first string quarter, is coming back, as is Clessan Mechem, halfback. Bob Erma, a left handed passer, may get a lot of work, and the same goes for Richard Adams, sophomore quarterback and brother of Clarence.

The Hornets lost seven men from the 1946 titular squad, but only Hess and Wallin among the regulars. When practice starts September 1 Max expects to have about 40 boys out trying for berths on the squad — that from a school which had only a little over 100 high school enrollment this spring.

First game for the Hornets will be a nocturnal engagement with the Lakeview Honkers, at Lakeview September 19. The county league schedule won't be drawn for several weeks yet.

Last year the Hornets tied with Lakeview — 0 to 0 — to start their season, the only time they were headed all year.

Front Squads Face Action Under Lights

All the leading teams of the City Softball circuit go to bat tonight under the Modoc field lights, and the result may well be a shakeup in the standings.

Games at 7:30 have the Four Star Merchants tangling with the Eagles and Rickys meeting the Elks, and the 8:30 engagements pit the Gun Store league leaders against last year's champions, the Knights of Columbus and VFW against Ashley.

Team	W.	L.	Pct.
Gun Store	6	0	1.000
Ashley	6	1	.857
VFW	5	1	.833
Rickys	4	2	.667
Merchants	3	2	.600
Elks	3	3	.500
Reclamation	2	5	.286
Knights	1	4	.200
Eagles	1	6	.143
KC	1	7	.125

That latter game may shift second and third places in the standings. Ashley has a record of six and one, while the Vets have five and one. Both are very powerful aggregations.

Although The Gun Store's green-clad outfit is unbeaten with only three games to go, at least four other squads still have a chance to pull out ahead of the pack. Tonight's games can make or break the chances of Rickys and the Merchants.

A common symbol seen in Oriental rugs is known as the "knot of destiny." Consisting of intertwined lines, it is said to date back to Solomon's time.

Huskies Have Killing Grid Season Slate

Webfoots Schedule Five Eugene Games, Pair In Portland

The Washington Huskies, traditionally the working team in the Pacific Coast Football conference, has slated a rugged card for the 1947 gridiron season—the roughest schedule of the entire conference.

The Huskies will start off with Minnesota in a game at Minneapolis September 27, then on successive Saturdays meet Oregon State, St. Mary's, Oregon, Stanford, Southern Cal, California, UCLA and Washington State. There's nothing that can be classed as a breather all the way.

Southern Cal will stick pretty close to home this season, having six of nine games in the 105,000-seat capacity Los Angeles Coliseum. The Trojans play Washington State, Rice, Oregon State, Stanford, UCLA and Notre Dame at home, and travel to Ohio State, California and Washington.

Another schedule full of dynamite is the one prepared for UCLA. The Utes start off with University of Iowa and follow through with Northwestern, Oregon, Stanford, Southern Methodist, Cal, Oregon State, Washington and USC.

The Beavers of Oregon State take on Utah at Salt Lake City first, then travel to Seattle to play Washington before having a game at Corvallis, first with Idaho. After that the Beavers meet Southern Cal, Portland U, Stanford, UCLA, WSC, Oregon and Nebraska.

Oregon has arranged for five games at Eugene and two at Portland. The Eugene tilts are with Montana State, Nevada (Jim Allen's old school), San Francisco, Idaho and the traditional windup with Oregon State. At Multnomah field the Ducks play Texas and Washington, and travel to engage UCLA, Washington State and Stanford.

Dancers Glide Past Valsetz

PORTLAND, Aug. 8 (AP)—McElroy's of Portland and the Valsetz Millers will meet again tonight to decide the state semi-pro baseball championship.

A 12th inning triple by Art "Curly" Leininger produced two runs and gave McElroy's a 4-3 win last night that sent the annual tourney here into another game.

After Leininger's blow, the Millers came back to load the bases with none out in their half of the 12th, but Pitcher Virgil Butler of McElroy's bore down and the best the Millers could produce was one run on Eddie Adams' long fly.

National Guard To Get Jet Planes

PORTLAND, Aug. 8 (AP)—Jet fighter planes are expected for training of the Oregon national guard here next spring.

The guard unit said it expected to get a share of the 86 P-80 fighters allocated by the army to national guard outfits.

Whither The Dodgers? World Series Talk Fading At Brooklyn

By The Associated Press
Brooklyn's weary Dodgers, their 10-game lead sliced to four by a series of disasters in Chicago and Boston, stagger back to home cooking tonight, banking on a 700 winning record at Ebbets field to halt their toboggan slide.

World series talk has evaporated and the question of the day in flat-bush is "what's the matter with the Dodgers?" The fellow who knows the answer could command a princely salary from President Branch Rickey.

While the Dodgers have been losing six of their last seven since sweeping three at St. Louis, the world champs have racked up seven straight wins, to cut six full games of the Dodger lead.

Red Barrett, a choice target for Leo Durocher's barbs in other years, tripped the Dodgers all by himself yesterday, throwing a three-hitter and doubling to start the Braves' winning rally, 3-1.

The Giants took another fall out of the injury-riddled Phillies for a third straight 5-2 win. For the second day in a row there were no Giant homers, in fact only four hits off Oscar Judd and Al Jurisich but a pair of wild pitches and an error by Jim Tabor made his unnecessary.

Enos Slaughter led the blazing Cardinals with a pair of singles and a triple, driving in three runs in the 9-2 romp over Cincinnati's Kent Peterson.

The Reds lost more than the ball game because their ace rookie outfielder, Frank Baumholtz suffered a slight concussion in a collision with Shortstop Eddie Miller while chasing a Texas League. Miller received a deep cut on his chin.

Kirby Elgie lived up to his high price tag by hurling a seven-hit 3-0 shutout for Pittsburgh against Chicago. It was the first shutout of the year and a ninth victory for "Old Hig." Ralph Kiner's 27th homer in the second inning started Hank Borowy on the way to his ninth loss.

The Boston Red Sox, who open a last stand tonight against the New York Yankees whom they trail by 13½ games, warmed up with a 12-2 slaughter of Washington. The Sox lambasted Early Wynn, Marino Pieretti and Scott Cary for 15 hits including Teddy Williams' 25th homer. Sam Mele, Johnny Pesky and Sam Dent each contributed three hits to the attack.

Only 68 cash customers braved the 96-degree heat to watch the St. Louis Browns lose another one, this time to Chicago, 8-1. Red Ruffing received credit for his 272nd big league triumph with relief help from Pete Gebrian.

A scheduled Cleveland at Detroit game was rained out and the other clubs were not scheduled on the first entire daytime big league schedule on a weekday in months.

Leo Fights Tex Hager In Main Go

Leo (The Great) Karlinko, Russian wildman who is undefeated in two previous scraps at the army, leads the maul parade for tonight. He fights the gentleman farmer from Eugene, Tex Hager, in the five round main wrestling event.

Karlinko wrestles on the theory of "get it over quick—anything goes" so the easy-going Hager appears to be in for a trying evening.

Opening the card at 8:30 will be the veteran Tony Ross, for years a tough guy on the local circuit, who will come to grips with Little Lou Savoldi, red-head from Oklahoma. Their bout is set for three rounds.

Savoldi has only fair-to-middlin' success here and last week was stretched out by Sugi Hayamaka, Japanese grappler.

Hayamaka moved up a rung and is matched with Hungarian Al Szasz, the personable youngster from St. Louis, in the five-stanza semi-final, which should be the most stylish bout of the evening.

IMPROVED ANGLING IS OUTLOOK FOR WEEK-END

PORTLAND, Aug. 8 (AP)—Generally favorable fishing conditions were in prospect today for week-end anglers in Oregon.

The state game commission's weekly report:

Portland area—Multnomah county streams fair; Hood River county streams improved, with trout biting on upper branches of Hood river. Columbia county streams too low, but sloughs good for spinny-rayed.

Willamette valley—Benton county poor for trout, except for a few catches above Fisherman's camp on Luckiamute river. McKenale river very good, yielding limit on both single eggs and dry flies. McKenale south; high Baker county. Willamette river fair to good. Triangle and Fern Ridge lakes fine for bass.

Deschutes area—Very good fishing in East, Paulina, South Twin lakes and on Upper Wickiup river for bass. Metolius, Crooked and Deschutes rivers north of Redmond poor. Crook county streams too low, but sloughs good for spinny-rayed.

Coastal area—Tidewater angling generally good. Coos county streams improved for trout, with higher waters. Upper waters of Lincoln county yielding nice catches of trout on fly.

Southern Oregon—Lake of the Woods good for yellow perch, with some rainbows. Fish lake, Davis lake good; Crescent and Odell lakes fair.

Eastern Oregon—Eagle and Pine creeks, Baker county, yielding some limits; high Baker county lakes producing some limits of large brook trout, with Lookingglass lake the best. Union county streams poor.

Lou Stafford 5 Under Par

PORTLAND, Aug. 8 (AP)—Lou Stafford, Portland, and Grace Demoss, Corvallis, led the way toward the climax of the annual city golf tournament here today.

Stafford blazed a five-under-par round to defeat John White, Portland, 4 and 3, to reach the semifinals. He will meet Tab Boyer, Corvallis, today. In the other men's match George Clirch will meet Jack Shuler. Both are Portlanders.

Miss Demoss eliminated Mrs. Floyd Cocklin, Portland, 6 and 5, to reach the finals. She will play Mrs. Walter Nagel for the title tomorrow. Today she will compete with Mrs. Cocklin and Mrs. Sylvester in an 18-hole playoff for medalist honors. The trio tied earlier.

Air Command Head Asks Alaska Bases

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Aug. 8 (AP)—Brig. Gen. Joseph H. Atkinson, commanding officer of the Alaska air command, said last night that Alaska must have facilities to serve 500 heavy bombers, 500 long-range cargo troop carrier planes and 1000 fighters.

Explaining that he was expressing his personal rather than official opinion, he added:

"These facilities should be available within three years."

General Atkinson said the troop carriers he had in mind were "ships that already exist, capable of carrying 400 troops fully equipped."

Misstep Hurles Man To His Death

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 8 (AP)—A misstep at the top of a long flight of steps in this hilly steel city sent a 35-year-old truck driver hurtling to his death in a street 40 feet below.

When police reached the body of Frank Paul last night they found nearby a smashed box of chocolate candies. Inside was a card:

"To my wife on our eleventh anniversary."
