Klamath Folk Visit Interesting Spots

Now that the Late Unpleasantness is over and travel is again possible, cards and messages are drifting in telling of actual visits or interesting plans taking Klamath folks to foreign lands.

In this week's mail we had a card from Mrs. A. J. Voye, the message being mailed from Interlaken, Switzerland. Mrs. Voye, who has made her home in Southern California for the past year, has been in London, Stockholm, Sweden, Copenhagen, Denmark; The Hague and Delph in Holland, Brussels, Paris, Geneva, Zurich, Lucerne and last, Interlaken. From there, Mrs. Voye plans to continue on to Milan, Venice, Florence, Rome and Capri. The entire trip has been made by plane except to Interlaken.

Already packing up for Oslo, Norway, is Dr. William R. Sweetman of New York, whose wife and young son, Eric, will follow as soon as housing is found. Mrs. Sweetman is the former Maxine Peterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Peterson, pioneer residents of this city. The Sweetmans visited here in April and May last spring. Dr. Sweetman, a graduate of the Yale school of medicine, will take one year of advanced surgery at the university in Oslo. He sails January 5 from New York, with Maxine and Eric following. His ship is the Gripsholm, well remembered during the war when it brought back hundreds of prisoners of war.

Christmas plans for a trip across the country are on the calendar for Mr. and Mrs. Franklin L. Weaver. They will leave later this month in time to spend Christmas with relatives of Mrs. Weaver in Willmar and Minneapolis, Minnesota. They will be gone about a month.

Mrs. Earl Hill of Oakland, California, is the guest of her sister-in-law, Mrs. Robert E. Wattenburg, 219 Pine street. Mrs. Hill was for many years on the teaching staff of Klamath Falls city schools. She will visit brothers and sisters in Portland and Fossil before returning to her home.

Enjoying a brief visit with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. George H. Merryman, Jr. last Sunday was Dr. George Merryman Jr. of Santa Ana, California. He stopped in Klamath Falls on a business flight to Portland, continuing north later that same day.

Tiny tots have been in the spotlight these past few days with many a cigar being passed out by proud new papas. Among those receiving congratulations from friends are the Arthur Rickbells. Their little girl, Cyrille Ann, was born November 26. Another new daughter is small Molly, a December 1 baby, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack O'Connor. Her daddy is with the music faculty at Klamath Union high school. The Howard Holts (he's also a school teacher—journalism at KUHS) are parents of a little girl, Sandra Marie, born November 30. Billie Lindley Cleve was born November 30 and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Cleve. A first child for Mr. and Mrs. Lawson Kantra of Merrill is small Nancy Dee, born November 22.

THE APPLE OF GRANDFATHER'S eye is little Susan Merryman who is busily telling him a story — and what proud grandfather wouldn't listen intently! In this case, grandfather is Dr. George H. Merryman, Sr. Susan is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John D. Merryman of 1200 Pacific Terrace.

GRANDFATHERS AND grandchildren are in the spotlight this week, and a more devoted pair than these two couldn't be found. A fairy tale is the work of the moment for Franklin L. Weaver and Constance Ann. Connie spent several days visiting her grandparents here from her home in Stockton, Calif. where mother and daddy, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Weaver, live. Waiting for Connie when she arrived home was a new little brother, Clark Alan Jr. born a month ago.

Klamath Man Takes Bride Sunday Eve

Inga Johnson, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gunner Johnson, became the bride of Fred Nancarrow, son of Mrs. Jane Nancarrow, Sunday, November 30, in a ceremony read by the Rev. Selmer Jacobson at the First Covenant church.

Vows were taken at 5 o'clock in the afternoon before an altar banked with white chrysanthemums and palms. Completing the background were lighted tapers in candelabra.

Eriling Melby sang "Because," accompanied by Mrs. Elbert Veatch, preceding the ceremony. Following the nuptials he sang "The Lord's Prayer." Mrs. Veatch played the wedding march.

The bride's father gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white satin, fashioned with a long train. Its yoke was of lace with a matching lace peplum. A fingertip Illustan net veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls. Her arm bouquet was of red roses.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Don Daoust, wore an aqua chiffon gown with an arrangement of pink ribbon and small white chrysanthemums in her hair. Her colonial bouquet was of carnations, violets and rosebuds.

Mrs. Ed Briscoe and Mrs. Leonard Monegan were the bride's other attendants. Their identical gowns were of pink taffeta. They carried colonial bouquets of small flowers and wore chrysanthemums and aqua ribbons in their hair.

Janice Kenneth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Kenneth, was the little flower girl. Her frock was of gold chiffon. She wore white flowers in her hair and carried a basket of red rose petals.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Johnson chose a dress of plum shade with black accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of roses and carnations. Mrs. Nancarrow, mother of the bridegroom, wore a forest green dress, with a similar corsage.

Best man was Don Daoust, and ushers were Ed Briscoe and Ed Hard.

The reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. Clarence Greenstreet presided at the coffee urn while Mrs. Swan Erickson served.

The wedding cake, cut by the bride and groom, was a three-tiered confection encircled by pink rosebuds. Assisting were Mrs. Axel Jacobson, Peggy Dahlman and June Westrom. Mrs. Velma Gordou was in charge of the guest book.

For traveling the new Mrs. Nancarrow wore a suit of gray checked with black accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of red roses. After a visit in Los Angeles they will be at home in Klamath Falls.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Don Daoust of Portland, Mrs. O. Daoust of St. Helens and Mrs. John Sevrin of Redding.

Members of Eulalona chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, met at the home Mrs. B. C. Thomas, 828 Pacific Terrace, Monday evening and enjoyed her humorous sidelights on the sessions of the Continental Congress, held in Washington, D. C., in May of this year. Mrs. Thomas attended these meetings as a delegate from Eulalona chapter.

Eva Burkhalter, chapter chairman of good citizenship pilgrimage committee, reported that high school girls of the county are being chosen to enter this contest, an annual affair. Klamath Union high school will be represented by Mary Lou Case; Barbara Deaton, Bly high school; Carol George, Henley; Carol Janet Holt, Malin, and Eleanor Ann Hunt, Merrill. Representatives of Gilchrist, Bonanza and Chiloquin will be announced later.

Refreshments were served at the close of chapter. Mrs. Charles J. Martin was co-hostess.

Initiation Held Thursday Noon By Soroptimists

Two new members were initiated at the Thursday noon meeting of the Soroptimist club of Klamath Falls. Coral Sabo conducted the ceremonies of initiation for Elva Kenyon and Dena Backes. Corsages of blue and gold were presented to them by Lillian Hillis.

The report of the food conservation committee was made by Mrs. Backes, who has been appointed chairman of the food conservation program for Klamath county. She told of the plan of the Northwestern states, consisting of Washington, Oregon, Idaho and Montana, to send a ship to Europe similar to the Pacific Northwest Christmas ship and is scheduled to sail from Portland on Christmas Day.

The drive has the support of the governors, and each state will contribute food products raised in their districts. The slogan, "With Your Heart Do Your Part," has been adopted.

Contributions of food and clothing will be requested from individuals, clubs and organizations. The products wanted are cases of canned milk, meat, fruits and vegetables, grain, cereals, dried beans and any non-perishable food. Money donations may be sent to Mayor Devan of Seattle.

Bridge prizes went to Mrs. Eldon Hobart, Mrs. Lin Miles and Mrs. Lloyd Young. Mrs. Young and Mrs. C. W. Fyock were special guests for the party, the regular board members who attended being, Mrs. G. C. Hooper, Mrs. Larry Svendsgaard, Mrs. Al Kusler, Mrs. Charles Gilmore, Mrs. Robert Craney, Mrs. Howard Kirchan, Mrs. Hobart, Mrs. Houston, Mrs. Compton and Mrs. Miles.

During the short business meeting, attention was called to the fact that the Christmas party for the entire Sojourner club and guests has been postponed from December 10 to December 17. At this time installation of new officers will be held and a gift exchange will take place. Members may bring guests to the party, and newcomers to the city are cordially invited.

Santa Visits

Santa Claus, in the person of young Jimmy Compton, son of Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Compton of 1879 Del Moro, visited the Christmas party for the outgoing Sojourner officers and committee members which was held at Mrs. Compton's home on Wednesday.

Mrs. Charles Houston assisted Mrs. Compton in the preparation of the luncheon and card party for the final board meeting. Traditional Christmas greenery, candles and pine cones decorated the house, and jingle bells announced the arrival of red-coated Santa, who distributed gifts to all the guests.

Pine Room

Mrs. Norman Guyer and Mrs. Vernon Chitwood entertained members of Kappa chapter of Beta Sigma Phi in the pine room of the Elks lodge Tuesday, December 2.

After the business meeting, Mrs. Walter Brown spoke to the group on "Prose and the Short Story." Refreshments were served to Mrs. Lawrence Slater, Mrs. Raymond Kitzel, Mrs. Charley Bonney, Mrs. Lloyd Drew, Mrs. William Milne, Mrs. James Stilwell, Mrs. Layton Sleight, Mrs. James Ivory, Mrs. Max Hoyal, Mrs. Eugene Williams, Mrs. John Martin, Mrs. M. E. Ferebee, Mrs. C. J. Merrill, Mrs. Carl Michelson, Patricia Walker, Mrs. Thurman Turner, Mrs. Conrad Borsting, Mrs. Guyer and Mrs. Chitwood.

Entertained

Mrs. Marion Hanks, assisted by her daughters, Mrs. Fern Shoop and Mrs. D. N. Clemens, entertained at the Needlework club Wednesday afternoon at the Hanks home, 133 Pine street.

Special guests of the hostess were Mrs. Earl Hill, Oakland, Calif.; Mrs. Flora Heid and Mrs. C. W. Hornbrook. Fifteen members were present. At 4 o'clock refreshments were served, the dining table being gay with a centerpiece of Christmas colored balls, flanked by crystal candelabra.

The next meeting of the club will be on Wednesday, January 7, when Mrs. R. H. Anderson will be hostess at her home on the Merrill road.

Dinner Party

Daughters of the Nile will entertain their husbands at the annual club Christmas dinner party to be held Wednesday evening, December 10, at the Willard hotel. Dinner will be served at 7 o'clock. The Community Players will present a skit, and a quartet from the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America, Inc., will also entertain.

New members of the American Association of University Women will be entertained next week at a traditional Christmas party being planned by the Klamath Falls branch of the group. Dinner will be served at the Pelican party room Thursday evening, December 11 at 6:45. Dinner party chairman is Mrs. Harry R. Todd.

ENJOYING A LONG STAY with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Tillotson of 1832 Earle, is Suzanne Therese Tillotson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Tillotson of Maracaibo, Venezuela. Her mother is the former Virginia Houston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Houston, pioneer residents of this city. Suzanne has been in Klamath Falls since August and will remain here for school until next summer, when her parents hope to come for a visit.

GAY TIMES are guaranteed by the bright eyes of Billy, left, and Johnnie, young sons of Mr. and Mrs. Haarby Bechen of 1204 California. With them is their grandfather, Oscar Shrive.

Holiday Program And Tea Slated By Library Club

The traditional holiday tea and Christmas musical program has been arranged for the Klamath Falls Woman's Library club for Monday, December 8, in the city library auditorium.

Highlight of the afternoon will be the presentation of musical selections by the Klamath Union high school department in an all-Christmas program. Mrs. Patricia Hunt will direct the boys' octet and mixed quartet.

Fifty voices of the KUHS a cappella choir will be presented by the director, Andrew Loney Jr., supervisor of music education in the city schools. The entire choir will not be present because of the limited space.

Officers of the Library club will serve tea. The affair will begin promptly at 2 o'clock. Members are reminded to bring toys to be given to the Doernbecher hospital in Portland.

Bridal Shower

Alice Eastman was feted at a miscellaneous bridal shower given at the Carl Lindbergh home Wednesday evening, December 3.

Mrs. Eastman will become the bride of D. S. Rhodus December 28 at the Covenant church. Honoring the bride-elect were Mrs. Bill Burgess, Mrs. Paul Layman, Mrs. Bert McDaniels, Mrs. Charles Canfield, Mrs. James Gunn, Mrs. Virgil Nelson, Mrs. Peter Eastman, Mrs. Roy Rukhala, Mrs. Bob Speelman, Mrs. Carl Lindbergh, Trudy Bennett, Carol Eastman, June Selstrom, Goldie Anderson, Dorothy Daniels, Vienna Walker, Willie Speelman and the hostess, Nell Lindbergh.

Luncheon Plans

A luncheon and business meeting of the Oregon Mothers of Klamath has been announced for Tuesday, December 9 at 1 o'clock in the Pelican party room. Election of officers will head the important business. Mrs. Carl Mason is outgoing president. Any woman in this area interested in attending should telephone Mrs. Malcolm Epley, 3232, before Monday night.

Nuptials Read At First Christian

The chapel of the First Christian church was the setting for the wedding of Alice Jean Vincent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Vincent of Klamath Falls, and Gordon Lowell Vetch. The Rev. Howard F. Hutchins read the double ring nuptials on Sunday, November 30.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil E. Vetch, also of this city. Vows were exchanged in the presence of relatives and close friends of the young couple.

For her wedding the bride chose an afternoon frock of blue metal cloth with black accessories. She carried a white Bible marked with white carnations and roses. Miss Vincent was given in marriage by her father.

Sunday Concert

Of special interest at this season is the concert and operetta given annually by students of Sacred Heart academy. The holiday program this year will replace the usual spring concert given by the academy glee club. The Pelican theatre will be the place, the time, 11 o'clock Sunday morning, December 7.

Patricia Clark will portray Mary, the mother of Christ, in the operetta to precede the concert, "The Immortal Ave Maria." The operetta cast is an interesting one, some of its principal characters being newly-discovered student singers and dancers. Miss Clark is a fine example of increasing interest in vocal study.

In the play, Mary is assailed by three temptations. These are characterized by Georgia Rose, Normandie Howell and Harriet Lavenik. Darlene Smith, in a sarisier part, lends marked contrast to the little angelic choir which consoles Mary. Title number for the Girls' Glee club presentation is Schubert's Ave Maria. Featured will be numerous sacred selections, including a group of spirituals.

Holiday Party

Expected to be one of the nicest parties of the holiday season is the formal dinner dance tonight, Saturday, at Reames Golf and Country club.

Making it a doubly important affair will be the presentation of club championship awards. The cocktail hour is at 7 o'clock, with dancing from 9 to 1 o'clock to music by Gordon's orchestra.

Members and guests have been invited. Arranging the party are Mr. and Mrs. Greer Drew, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hooker, Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Oldenburg and Dr. and Mrs. Marvin Nersett.

Betrothal

Mr. and Mrs. Judson Brown this week announced the betrothal of their daughter, Delores, to Paul Larkey. Mr. Larkey is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Ohlemeyer, also of this city.

No date has been announced for the wedding. Both young people attended Klamath Falls schools, and Mr. Larkey saw extensive service with the army in the war.

Church Choirs Plan Sunday Eve Concert

An event for music lovers in the city is planned for Sunday evening, December 6 at 8 o'clock when the First Methodist church will present its junior and senior choirs in "Sacred Songs of Many Lands," at the church. The concert will replace the Christmas choral program which has been given in past years. Mrs. Robert P. Grais is director of the two groups. Mrs. Patricia Hunt, church organist, will accompany the senior choir, and Catherine Bianas will be accompanist for the junior group.
