

Double Ring Vows Read In November

Marian Marin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Marin of this city, became the bride of Lewis E. Hamblin in double ring vows exchanged at the First Presbyterian church Tuesday, November 23, at 2 o'clock. Mr. Hamblin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Hamblin, also of Klamath Falls.

Rev. David F. Barnett read the rites before friends and relatives of the couple. Lighted tapers in tall and asters, chrysanthemums and palms formed the floral background.

Mrs. George Willis sang "O, Perfect Love" preceding the vows, accompanied by Mrs. George McIntyre, who later played the traditional wedding marches.

Miss Marin was given in marriage by her father. Her gown was fashioned with a white satin bodice and a lace ruffle around the nylon yoke. The skirt was of sheer nylon over satin with a long train. Three-strand pearls were her only jewelry.

A beaded tiara held her fingertip veil in place, and for flowers she carried a white orchid atop a matching Bible.

Clois Bradley, gowned in a long frock of blue, was maid of honor and the bride's only attendant. Her arm bouquet was of gardenias and carnations.

Mrs. Marin chose a suit of wine gabardine with black accessories and wore a white carnation corsage for her daughter's wedding.

The brother of the bridegroom, Menis Hamblin, was best man, and Richard Barlow and Don Krider were ushers.

Pink and white were the color motif at the reception held later in the church parlors. Centering the bride's table was a lovely white cake encrusted with pink rosebuds and flanked by pink asters. Fall blooms were placed about the room. Mrs. Clara Simmers served after the newlyweds cut the traditional first slice of their wedding cake.

Mrs. Bob Stevens and Mrs. W. Little poured, while Eleanor Simmers presided at the guest book.

Soon after, Mr. and Mrs. Hamblin left for a trip along the California coast. For traveling the new Mrs. Hamblin selected a suit of aqua with pink blouse and hat and brown accessories. Her orchid was pinned at the shoulder. They are at home at 2012 Main.

Coming from out of town for the wedding were Gates Cockran of Salem and Bert Morris of Mill City, long-time friends of the bride, and the bridegroom's grandfather, G. L. Hamblin of Seligman, Mo.

PLANNING TO MAKE their home in Klamath Falls after a wedding trip in California are Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lowell Veitch. Before her marriage Sunday, November 30, Mrs. Veitch was Alice Jean Vincent. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Vincent of this city. —Guderian

Nuptials Are Read Thanksgiving Day

Carol Lee Reeves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Reeves of Merrill, became the bride of Carroll Boals, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Boals of Tennessee, in a ceremony read Thanksgiving Day, November 27. The wedding was the first to take place at the new Peace Memorial Presbyterian church. Rev. Hugh T. Mitchelmore read the rites.

Palms and standards of white chrysanthemums formed the floral setting with tapers in candelabra lighting the church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white lace, fashioned with long fitted sleeves and a matching lace pelum which fell into a long court train.

Her brief shoulder length veil was held by a wreath of white flowers, gardenias and carnations with white satin streamers topped her white Bible.

Maid of honor was a close friend, Ruthie Patterson, who came here from Willamette university at Salem for the occasion, and Virginia Reeves, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Marjorie Lynn Berttram was flower girl. All wore identical dotted red and white organdy gowns with puffed sleeves and bouffant flounced skirts. Their bouquets were of red carnations tied with white ribbon bows.

Mrs. Reeves, mother of the bride, was attired in a dress of gold with brown accessories. Her corsage was of Talisman roses.

Best man was Bruce Crawford, and usher was Harold Peyton, who came for the wedding from the University of Oregon at Eugene.

Morris Weakly sang, "O, Promise Me" before the vows, accompanied by Mrs. Hugh T. Mitchelmore, who later played the wedding marches.

The reception followed at the church. Mrs. H. E. Reeves of Portland, grandmother of the bride, served, and Mrs. J. G. Patterson poured.

After a wedding trip to Crescent City and other coastal points, the new Mr. and Mrs. Boals returned to make their home in Merrill. For going away, Mrs. Boals wore an afternoon dress of beige with brown accessories.

From out-of-town were the aunt and uncle of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Morgan, and her cousins, Joanne and Charles, all of Mehama, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Reeves of Portland.

Bananas were not known outside the tropics, except by reputation, before the 19th century.

WED AT THE First Covenant church Sunday, November 30, were Inga Johnson, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gunner Johnson, and Ted Nancarrow. Rites were solemnized at 5 o'clock in the afternoon. —Kennell-Elis

Extension Unit News

Training in "Party Planning" was given 36 Klamath county home extension women at an all-day conference in the Methodist church Thursday. The meeting was conducted by Mrs. Irene Roberts, Oregon state home demonstration agent at-large, now stationed at Madras.

Mrs. Roberts gave suggestions that were primarily for Christmas holiday parties. A Christmas wreathe relay, unwrapping the package, and other games were demonstrated and participated in. Novel favors and Christmas gifts were displayed. Mimeographed recipes for the preparation of Christmas salads, cookies, and punch were distributed to the extension leaders. These women will return to their units and conduct the project of "Party Planning" during the month of December.

SOC Services Open To Public
The townspeople of Ashland, Medford, Grants Pass, Klamath Falls and all other Southern Oregon communities are invited to attend special vesper services at Southern Oregon college on Sunday, December 14. A program of selected numbers will be presented by the Southern Oregon College chorus under the direction of Dorothy Palmer, and the SOC faculty wives' group will hold a reception for visitors afterward. Tea will be served, and the members of the faculty and their wives are looking forward to meeting the citizens of the area. The entire program is, of course, free, and was planned for the primary purpose of bringing the college and the communities it serves closer together.
