

Red Feather Fund Passes Goal Today

Klamath's Community Chest fund passed the $67,000 mark today after a box social at Wocus returned approximately $256 for the drive which passed its $66,000 goal yesterday. Money which continues to drift in will go to a reserve as a start for next year's campaign.

The campaign was definitely over today, and headquarters offices will close in a few days after the odds and ends details have been handled by Mrs. Ruth Nelson, who served as secretary and auditor.

The Wocus social was a final effort in the county community drive which proved an outstandingly successful phase of the campaign. Wocus had been given no quota in the campaign, but the affair there netted a substantial sum.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hurd made the plans for the Wocus event, which was held at the H and H market. Col. Fred Howard auctioned the boxes. U. S. Balentine acted as master of ceremonies.

A feature was a "belles of the 'nineties" contest (see accompanying picture). Mrs. Jim Helms of Wocus won the contest. Dorris and Macdoel, while out of Klamath county, contributed substantially to the success of the box social, sending a candidate for the queen contest. Winning boxes were entered by Mrs. Helen Hoffman, Mrs. Fred Howard and Mrs. Don Magee. Highest price paid for a box was by Woody Wilson of Dorris, who paid $22.50 for the entry of Mrs. Flora Lee Mericle, the Dorris queen candidate.

Here is the detail of the Chest campaign in other county communities, as of Friday:

Alaska Fliers "Marooned"

WASHINGTON, Dec. 13 (AP)—The Alaskan air command is teaching its fliers how to survive if forced down in the Arctic by "marooning" them on ice floes for four days.

The pupils at the open-air classrooms are attentive because what they learn may some day mean the difference between life and death, the air force said today.

The airman go through preliminary instructions and lectures at their bases, then are taken out for representing aircraft crews.

They are equipped only with what they probably would have at hand their stay on the icecaps in groups. For purposes of safety, periodic after a crash landing on the ice, check visits are made.

Car Thieves Nabbed After Wild Chase Through Town

A midnight chase by city police patrol wagons after a stolen car Thursday night resulted in the jailing of two Nevada state prison parolees here on charges of larceny of an automobile. One of the men is on parole from a life sentence for murder.

Floyd Wagner, 33, and Nelson Woodrow Hurd, 27, were arrested when they failed to make a curve at top speed and piled up their stolen car at the intersection of Oregon and Nevada streets.

The car, a 1938 Ford coupe, belonged to G. C. Beddow, 1605 Martin, and was reported stolen from a parking place on Pine street about 8:30 p. m.

A radio message was passed out to the police patrol cars giving a description of the car and the license numbers, and about 11:30 Officers Hap Brandness and Wesley Ray, in police car No. 2, spotted the coupe at Martin and Eberlein. They caught a glimpse of the front license plate, turned the police car around and gave chase.

The back license plate of the stolen coupe had been turned so it couldn't be read.

Car Thieves Nabbed After Wild Chase Through Town

The stolen coupe, occupied by two men, sped up Martin to the intersection with Main, with police car No. 2 right behind. At Main car No. 1, with Officers Tony Nelms and Tom Gordon, joined the chase, meanwhile describing the events of the race over the police radio, so that every police vehicle in operation was coming up for reinforcement.

The chase led through the business district and up 11th street to Oregon avenue, out Oregon to Nevada, where the fleeing vehicle couldn't negotiate the turn, went up a bank and rolled over. The occupants, Hurd and Wagner, came out with only minor scratches. No shots were fired during the run, but officers were about ready to open up when the end came.

Hurd and Wagner were taken to the police station where they were booked for car theft, then turned over to the county this morning.

Wagner, a two-time loser in Nevada, was paroled from prison in Carson City, November 17, a police bulletin revealed. He was sentenced to life imprisonment for second degree murder. He had just drifted into town to team up with Hurd, also a parolee for a 1-to-15 year burglary sentence in Nevada.

Hurd has been in Klamath Falls for several months and is on parole from the local circuit court for burglary. He was convicted last year for burglarizing Ole's tavern. At that time Hurd was given an insanity hearing and declared sane. Only a week ago Hurd was in the city jail for disorderly conduct, involving a fight at Schuss' tavern.
