Bomber Safe After Bounce

GREAT FALLS, Mont., Dec. 23 (AP)—A B-29 army plane that bounced back into the air from a crash landing at Spokane at 2:15 Sunday morning landed safely two hours and 45 minutes later at Great Falls army air base, base officials announced today.

Describing the miraculous escape of the plane's pilot, K. C. Asherfeldt, and his six crewmen, all of the Spokane air base, Col. John S. Chennault, base commander here, told this story today.

The B-29 was returning to the Spokane field from a routine flight Sunday morning. It was approaching for a ground control landing at 2:15 under a heavy fog that had reduced visibility to zero.

"We thought we were okay until suddenly there was a terrific crash," Chennault said the pilot told him. "Immediately after the crash, the ship hit the ground and then bounced back into the air."

The pilot pulled open the throttle and managed to gain altitude. He nosed the plane out of the fog and headed for the base here, where they landed safely.

It was learned here after the plane landed that it had crashed into a power line and sheared off three poles before striking the ground.

Italy Republic's Constitution OK'd

ROME, Dec. 23 (AP)—A constitution for the Italian republic was approved Monday by a 453-62 vote in the constituent assembly, which spent 17 months drawing up the charter.

Monarchists and nationalists voted against the document. It formally ends the reign of the house of Savoy.

Enrico de Nicola, who has been provisional president, was acclaimed as the first republican president. A Christian democrat deputy, Giorgio la Pira, presented an 11th hour proposal that the preamble read:

"In the name of God, the Italian people gives itself the following constitution."

At the December meeting of the Klamath Falls home extension unit meeting, Christmas party decorations, table favors and games were learned for home entertainment. Here Helen Stine, home demonstration agent, steps into cardboard cartons for a "snow shoe" race. Next to Miss Stine is Mrs. Frank Lamb, Mrs. Ben Gibson and Mrs. Hugh Haddock in stocking feet.

Klamath Flying News

Search Organized
The Klamath Air Search and Rescue Unit has been standing by since word was received here Sunday that a Stinson monoplane with four aboard was missing. The plane which left Ellensburg, Wash., was expected to follow a route over Yakima, The Dalles, Madras, Redmond, Chemult and put down at Klamath Falls.

Nothing has been heard from the plane since it started and searches organized from that end of the flight have reported no further clues as to the distance achieved before the plane disappeared.

Dave Zumwalt, flight commander for KASRU, is briefing about six pilots to leave from the Klamath airport this morning and search the territory between here and Redmond, where the search is taken up by pilots in that region.

Closed For Christmas
Klamath flying schools with the public a very Merry Christmas and Prosperous New Year and announce their closing dates as, December 23 to 26 inclusive, Shasta-Cascade; Oregon Aircraft and Lakeland Flying service, December 25, Christmas only.

New Year's Party
All students, former students and staff of Oregon Aircraft service still interested in the proposed New Year's party should contact Al Mccabee immediately by calling 7319.

The Oregon Aircraft service is organizing a bowling team which will become active after New Year's and anyone interested in joining the team should see Mccabee.

Gives Up

A longing to see his wife and son at Christmas time, led Walter H. Ware (above), 26-year-old Napa, Calif., bookkeeper to surrender to New Orleans police and confess embezzlement, police said, of between $12,000 and $13,000 of his firm's money.

Army Speeds Up 1300 Discharges

CAMP KILMER, N. J., Dec. 23 (AP)—Army authorities were speeding the processing today of some 1300 soldiers, the last U. S. occupation troops from Italy, in an effort to permit them to get to their homes by Christmas.

The troops arrived here last night after a nine-day crossing from Leghorn aboard the army transport Admiral Sims. Army crews worked through the night to speed as many men to their homes for the holidays as possible.

Townsend — The last meeting of the year for the Townsend club and auxiliary will be held Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. in KC hall. There will be a gift exchange with women bringing presents suitable for men and vice-versa.

Fog-foam firefighting systems are being installed on navy aircraft carriers to reduce danger from gasoline fires. This mechanical foam is made from soybeans, fish scales and iron salts.

Balin Estate Set At $9657

The estate of Charles Balin, who died May 15 in Ashland, has been filed for probate with the county clerk here and is estimated at $9657 in real estate and personal property in Klamath county.

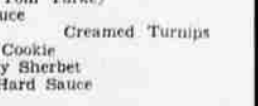

Mr. Balin left a will dated June 19, 1935, listing his wife, Mrs. Stacy M. Balin, and a daughter, Frances, as heirs.

George Brothnek is named as executor of the will and the probate petition was filed by Mrs. Balin, through J. H. Carnahan, attorney.

United Gets Receivers

Two hundred new semi-directional radio range receivers have been purchased by United Air Lines to be installed in the entire fleet of 144 planes. They are to enable pilots to use omni-directional ranges which broadcast multiple courses corresponding to the spokes of a wheel, giving them a choice of courses in approaching a station. Present radio ranges only provide two courses.

Parcel Post Line Drops

A few late gift mailers drifted into the Klamath Falls post office, but the line at the parcel post window was not long and there was hardly any waiting this morning.

Starting with the Santa Claus special, Christmas package train inauguration last week-end, incoming mail has become heavier as the holiday draws near. The mail arriving on the special this afternoon will determine whether Monday or Tuesday will be the peak for packages. Burt E. Hawkins, postmaster said.

Incoming mail was so heavy Saturday afternoon and midnight that package deliveries were made Sunday. All day Monday the deliveries went out and even last night after dark, doorbells rang as gifts were distributed.

Canby

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eudicott and son, Willard, are spending the Christmas holidays in Illinois visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. Linda Bellingly treated the children in Canby to a bag of fruit, nuts and candy on December 19.

Chances Good For Snow Here By Christmas

PORTLAND, Dec. 23 (AP)—The chances of a white Christmas in Oregon?

The outlook is promising to southeastern Oregon and the area from Klamath Falls to Baker, but not so good for the rest of the state.

The weather bureau in Portland warned Monday that it was too early to tell accurately, but said snow was possible in Klamath Falls tonight and again Wednesday or Thursday.

For Baker, where an inch of snow was on the ground this morning, the bureau forecast occasional snow the next two or three days.

Pendleton's chances were "not too good," with rain probable there. Rain also was in prospect for the Willamette valley, Roseburg and Grants Pass.
