Two New Year Babies Arrive

Two Klamath county babies were ushered in with the New Year and from now on they'll have no difficulty in finding celebrants on their natal day. Nor will the New Year's Eve baby born late yesterday afternoon—the last baby of 1947.

The New Year's Day babies arrived for Mr. and Mrs. Maurice McCrea of 4139 Simmers avenue. It was a boy and arrived at 12:30 a. m., weighing 7 pounds 2 1/2 ounces. McCrea is an employee of Big Lakes Box company.

Mr. and Mrs. George Fernlund of Bonanza are parents of a girl, born at 7:16 a. m. today, January 1, 1948. It was a girl for the James Casebeer family of Bly, left at 5:10 p. m., December 31. The child weighed 7 pounds 4 ounces.

DETERMINED

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 1 (P)—A blind man who was unable to kill himself as he planned two weeks ago—because he ran out of bullets after murdering his housekeeper—hanged himself in a jail cell today, police reported.

William Neithamer, 37, groped his way into a police station December 16 and announced he had just shot Mrs. Anna Austin, 67, who had cared for him since his wife died two months earlier. Neithamer said he feared she might become a burden to him as his invalid wife had.

CHANCE

LONDON, Jan. 1 (P)—The Tribune, leftist political weekly, said today the presidential candidacy of Henry A. Wallace gives Senator Taft, whom it described as "the most reactionary of the republican candidates," a chance to reach the White House.

BALDNESS CAUSES

Dandruff is the most common cause of baldness, but tight handkerchiefs, which impede blood circulation, and impurities in industrial surroundings are other causes.

MOST AMENDMENTS

More amendments to the U. S. constitution were adopted during the administration of George Washington than under any other president.

Up In Price Of Tea Starts Strike

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Jan. 1 (P)—A one-cent increase in the price of a mug of tea provoked a short, unofficial strike today of 1700 dock workers, delaying for an hour the sailing of the S. S. Mauretania for New York.

The dock canteen had increased the price from three halfpennies (three cents) to two pence (four cents).

The men called off their walkout soon after it started and will protest to the Port Employers' association.

Infantrymen Aid Searchers

CANON CITY, Colo., Jan. 1 (P)—Heavily armed infantrymen of the Colorado national guard, supplemented by Canon City police and penitentiary guards stuck to the task of combing the mountain wilds of Fremont county, Colo., today in search of a 28-year-old convicted murderer—the only one of 12 Colorado's "worst" convicts still at large after a Tuesday night prison break.

Object of the manhunt is James B. Sherbondy, described by Warden Roy Best as "mountain wise."

The baby-faced fugitive eluded searching peace officers the same as he did 10 years ago when sheriff's officers combed the wooded areas of Tennessee pass for the then 17-year-old youth. Then he was wanted for questioning in connection with the slaying of Eagle county Sheriff O. W. Meyer.

Meanwhile two of Sherbondy's companions in the jail break—John Klingler, 43, and Orville Turley, 54, awaited burial in the bleak prison cemetery. They were killed during the roundup of escapees.

Guests Flee Hotel Blaze

SEATTLE, Jan. 1 (P)—Firemen led 10 persons to safety before dawn today and dozens of others fled from the smoke-filled Ambassador hotel in nightclothes when flames whipped through the top floor of the six-story building.

Battalion Chief Gerald Crowley said flames were flickering from the hotel windows when he reached the scene, but he estimated damage at only $3000. He said the fire started in a room occupied by Sgt. R. L. Craydon, 25, who awakened to find the room in flames, wrapped himself in a bedspread and escaped through a corridor.

All the building's 101 rooms were rented, the hotel manager said.

New School Plans Made

EDMONDS, Wash., Jan. 1 (P)—A new type classroom, developed by William Arild Johnson, Everett architect, after four investigating trips around the United States, is being added to three Edmonds grade schools.

One unique feature being used for the first time in class rooms is construction of monitor windows placed in the ceiling of the one-story addition. Extending the length of the room, the monitor window will distribute light evenly throughout the room.

"The inside wall will be almost as light as that near the outside window," Johnson said.

Interior partitions are movable to permit future alteration without disturbance to the building. Glued-up laminated beams have replaced conventional joint construction in the ceiling to cut cost and eliminate much nailing and bracing.

Window shades are eliminated by the use of glass brick in the upper part of the windows. "This also will reduce heat loss," Johnson explained.

Gale Force Wind Whips Columbia

ASTORIA, Ore., Jan. 1 (P)—Gale-force winds halted shipping at the Columbia river mouth today and ferry service between Astoria and Megler, Wash., was suspended.

One of the life boats on the ferry Tourist No. 3 was torn from its cradle by the wind, reported at North Head weather station to be reaching 58 miles an hour.

River bar pilots said one or two ships were outside waiting abatement of the storm before crossing in.

Superior Judge Hodge Dies

TACOMA, Jan. 1 (P)—Superior Judge Edward D. Hodge, 61, who had been on the bench here more than 20 years, died this morning at his home. He was born in Genoa, Neb., and studied law at the University of Nebraska, graduating in 1904. He came west to Wenatchee, then went to Nome, but returned to Tacoma in 1906 and practiced law until 1926, when he was appointed to the superior court by former Governor Roland H. Hartley.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Beatrice Elizabeth Porter of Seattle.

INEFFICIENT THOUGH NOISY

Tests have revealed that steam whistles are as inefficient as they are noisy. A 12-inch whistle used 400 horsepower in tooting just once.

Reds Laud Romania Coup

BUCHAREST, Jan. 1 (P)—Premier Petru Groza declared today that the resignation of King Mihai and the proclamation of a Romanian republic had made this country "an active factor in the anti-Imperialist and democratic camp in the battle for lasting peace and popular democracy."

"Democracy is the word which the nations in the Soviet zone of influence commonly use to describe the communist form of government."

Groza made his statement in a New Year's broadcast to the nation less than 36 hours after Mihai's resignation. He acclaimed the "heroic working peoples" of France, Italy, Indonesia and Spain, and the communist guerrillas of Greece, beside whose forces of "progress, democracy and peace," he said, Romania was proud to take her place.

Mihai's immediate departure for Switzerland meanwhile was delayed until after New Year's Day by unexpected developments.

Informed sources said that the young ex-king had intended to leave yesterday, but that the trip was postponed by the necessity of discussing financial questions with members of the government. Also wished to demonstrate the king's freedom of movement by showing that it was not necessary for him to hasten out of the country on New Year's.

Target Shooting Accident Fatal

OREGON CITY, Jan. 1 (P)—A target shooting accident was fatal yesterday to 14-year-old George B. Pratt, son of Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Pratt, Portland.

Coroner Ray Rillance said the shot was fired from a rifle held by a companion, Robert Caddy, 15.

The Pratt and Caddy families are neighbors at Carver, south of here.

Condition Unchanged

Klamath Valley hospital attendants today reported the condition of 7-year-old Ja-lee Lowry as "unchanged." The child, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Lowry of Pelican City, was struck and run over by a loaded lumber truck when he rode his wagon into the path of the vehicle on the old Pelican City road late Tuesday morning. Yesterday the little boy's condition was reported as "holding his own" and the report was unchanged this morning. Jackie has multiple injuries including broken legs, broken pelvis and internal hurts.

LOTS OF MOTORISTS

In 1941 it is estimated that 54,000,000 persons in the United States took trips in 16,000,000 automobiles, which impede blood circulation, lodging and other traveling incidents.

Air Force Asks Probe

WASHINGTON, Jan. 1 (P)—A controversy between the air force and a magazine involving the right to publish information considered secret by the military landed in the justice department today.

The air force referred to the government's legal branch for study the question of whether military security was concerned when the magazine Aviation Week printed a story last month reporting that the experimental rocket plane X-51 had flown faster than sound at the Murco, Calif., air base.

The air force had declined to discuss the story in any form.

Earlier, Secretary of Defense Forrestal had invoked security regulations directed specifically at keeping secret data on the air force's high speed flight work.

Robert Hotz, news editor of the magazine, told a reporter a copy of the article was shown to an FBI agent before it was published. Asserting that the present case is a

British Sell Gold Reserves

LONDON, Jan. 1 (P)—The treasury announced tonight that Britain sold $100,000,000 worth of sterling area gold reserves during December.

The December gold sales brought the total drain on British reserves to $512,000,000 since September.

Great Britain began selling gold shortly after suspending convertibility of the pound sterling to obtain dollars for imports.

Sterling area gold reserves were estimated unofficially at $2,400,000,000 before the sales began. Since then, treasury officials have said some gold has been received from South Africa, but the present reserve status has not been disclosed.
