

Herald and News

FRANK JENKINS Editor
MALCOLM EPLEY Managing Editor

Entered as second class matter at the postoffice of Klamath Falls, Ore., on August 20, 1906, under act of congress, March 3, 1879.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:
By carrier — month $1.00 By mail — 6 months $4.50
By mail — month $1.00 By mail — year $8.00

MEMBER OF THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to the use for republication of all the local news printed in this newspaper, as well as all AP news.

Today's Roundup

ENCOURAGING reports on the progress of the Oregon Vocational school at Klamath Falls come from the school director, Winston Purvine. Although the school has been in operation only six months, it has gained steadily in enrollment and prestige, and only a shortage of housing space on the campus and in town has prevented it from showing an even higher attendance.

EPLEY

The schedule for enrollment at the new institution called for 400 the first year. It now has about 340, and new students are arriving daily, along with batches of mailed inquiries from throughout the state. All family space on the campus is filled, and there is a waiting list of 37 for 41 apartments now being completed. The families on the waiting list are living in one-room quarters.

Acceptance of OVS by Oregonians seeking vocational training helps emphasize the need for more rental housing in Klamath Falls. Mr. Purvine said yesterday that he foresees a need for 100 apartments in the city for accommodating the overflow from the campus.

Klamath people, of course, view the progress at OVS with a great deal of satisfaction. Bringing about constructive peace-time use of the former Marine Barracks plant was a major civic enterprise of 1947. It is good that the school there is justifying the hopes of this community and the favorable action of the legislature in behalf of the project at the 1947 session.

Our Good Highway
A LOCAL woman who listens to the radio in the morning reports that a network newscaster announced over the air yesterday that the Pacific highway—Oregon's only major north-south highway—was closed by the floods. I didn't hear the broadcast, but will take her word for it that the erroneous news report libeled The Dalles-California highway. This particular newscaster originates in Hollywood, and people down there aren't always well informed, although the last I heard, an ex-Oregonian acquaintance of mine was preparing the text for this same news program. Maybe it was his day off.

The incident goes to show that there is still a lot of spade work to be done to bring public attention to the highway routes through here and their availability for time-saving and distance-saving travel between California points and the Northwest. It was significant that in the period of heavy storms and resultant floods in the Willamette valley, Umpqua valley and Rogue valley last week-end, The Dalles-California highway continued to function as usual as a carrier of passenger traffic. It was the accepted route for all traffic between California points and Portland, by way of Maupin and the Wapinitia cut-off.

Washouts and flooding are unlikely on The Dalles-California. In fact, if our thinking is correct, there isn't a single major bridge on The Dalles-California from Williamson river to Maupin with the single exception of Crooked creek north of Bend. A flood that would wash that one out would raise a terrific

Briefs From The Pocket File

WITH flood waters rising in the back yards of a lot of houses, the army engineers this week announced an overall Willamette valley project (including flood control) to cost $406,598,000. . . . That, ladies and gentlemen, is what is known as timing. . . . San Franciscans may fear bombs, but not the Klamath chamber of commerce directors. . . . They went on record yesterday inviting the government to set up here a marine depot which had been opposed in San Francisco because it might draw war-time bombs. . . . Which reminds us that there was a time this community got indignant because there were public inferences that it wasn't important enough to bomb. . . . Sheriff Lloyd Low and a number of other people here received questionnaires on the recent alleged earthquake, to be filled out and returned to Dr. E. L. Packard at Oregon State college. . . . The sheriff reported that the tremor lengthened a crack in his living room plaster. . . . Those who shuddered at more first page murder news from Klamath Falls in the metropolitan sheets last week-end must have gotten a little satisfaction out of the hammer murder at Eugene, well known center of culture. . . . There's still a large boulder in the middle of the sidewalk at Fifth and Lincoln streets, Klamath Falls, Ore. . . . In a moment of exuberance over the general weather situation existing here—while other spots were plagued with floods, etc.—our old friend Dewey Powell remarked that "there ought to be an extra tax on people just for the privilege of living here." . . . That, we would say, is going the limit on home-town enthusiasm.

SIDE GLANCES

"Sandwiches and pie? Well, if it won't take more than five minutes—I don't want to be late for supper!"

STATIC

By MALCOLM EPLEY

A blind spot in radio news coverage for a long time has been Sunday morning, and Charley McFarlan of KFLW is undertaking to do something about it. Beginning next Sunday, Charley will have a news program at 8:30 a. m., and he intends to emphasize an authentic report on road conditions on this program.

To do this, he has been working up some elaborate arrangements with various individuals and agencies, so he can give out the latest. Highway officials, forest service officials, truck lines, the state police and Grater Lake national park officers, will cooperate in providing information about what it's like on the roads local Sunday drivers may want to travel. It's a good idea.

It always seems, on a day of extremely bad weather, that everybody in Klamath Falls and environs wants to go somewhere. Telephones jangle in newspaper and radio offices and at state police headquarters as would-be motorists seek road information. One would think that people who never traveled before got up in the morning, saw the weather was unpleasant, and developed a yen for far places. What happens, of course, is that folks who ordinarily start out without asking anybody, on bad days seek some information. It shows how much routine travel there is on our highways. Charley McFarlan's scheme is to give Sunday motorists the straight info on road conditions, saving those calls to state police, etc.

The other night a feminine voice on The Herald and News telephone asked for the "situations wanted department." There being no such department here, she was asked just what she wanted. She said she wanted a baby sitter, and thought we might have a sitter handy, or know about one from the want ads. I was busy at the moment preparing a radio program, and suggested the want ads were there for anybody to read. This made her peeved, and she said she wouldn't want to express her feelings on the telephone in the strong language that was in order. She hung up, but soon called again, asking the same questions in a pleasant voice. My radio call was just coming up, and in desperation I asked for her number, promising to call as soon as I could get off the air. She gave it to me. When I called the number 15 minutes later, a man answered and I could hear sounds of revelry in the background. I said a woman had called me from there. Yes, he said, he had seen a woman at the phone, but she had gone. I asked just what phone it was, and he replied it was a public telephone at a local tavern. That finished that. I suppose the gal went home to the kids.

SERVICE HINT

An automobile's starter should always be used sparingly, as about 30 minutes of normal driving is required to replace electrical energy used from battery for each minute of starting operation.

J. L. DEAN

Public Accountant and Auditor
New Office Location
306 North 7th St.
Phone 9346

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Thad's Feet Hurt

After a long, hard day's work on the farm, Thad's idea of how to spend an evening is to take off his shoes, and relax with a mellow glass of beer.

Marshall Plan Plea Made

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8 (AP)—Secretary of State Marshall told congressmen today that Russia and the communist party will "oppose and sabotage" the European recovery program at every turn, but that he has "no doubt" the United States can undertake it successfully.

Marshall went before the senate foreign relations committee to plead for an adequate, prompt and effectively administered program.

The speaker said in substance: "The communist party doesn't care anyone from membership because he is religious. However, it is best that you shouldn't labor under any misapprehension. You may be sure that once you have joined the party we shall do everything in our power to take your religion from you as being detrimental to progress."

So the bolshevik battle against religion continues, although thus far there has been little evidence that it is meeting with great success. Indeed, some months ago the Right Rev. Monsignor Fulton J. Sheen, professor of philosophy at Catholic university, Washington, stated that there were signs of revival of religious feeling in Russia and Russian-occupied territory, despite official attempts to suppress religion over many years. Others, including your correspondent, also have noted this revival.

Atheist Children

Still, one has the uncomfortable feeling that bolshevism may be making progress with one vastly important but non-vocal section of the population under red totalitarian rule. I refer to the children. If they are deprived of religious training, and atheism is driven into their young minds, they may come to regard religion as "the dope of the masses." One safeguard against this is that parents who already have religion will, in some way, hand it on to the youngsters.

Obsidians Hold Ski Meeting

CASCADE SUMMIT Jan. 8.—Thirty-four Eugene Obsidians held their annual meeting at Odell Summit lodge, including skiing, dancing and a smorgasbord in their activities. After spending the day at the ski tow, where they met many friends from Klamath Falls, the Obsidians adjourned to the lodge and continued festivities with a banquet.

The World Today

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Religious people of Russia celebrated Christmas yesterday—that being December 25 according to the calendar of the orthodox eastern church—and throughout the vast union ruled by atheistic communism the churches were crowded with worshippers.

Now that's both interesting and vastly important, because it provides further striking evidence that belief in God cannot be stifled.

Go where you will and even among the natives of the African jungles you will find an almost universal belief in some sort of God. Indeed, the world almanac gives the total global population as 2,150,959,919 and records the number of believers in religion at exactly the same figure.

Ever since the bolshevism came to power in Russia it has sought to wipe out religion on the ground that it is the dope of the masses. During the first score years after the revolution of 1917 there was heavy anti-religious propaganda sponsored by the government. Many thousands of churches were destroyed and other thousands were converted to different uses.

Sunday was secularized, systematic religious instruction of the young was prohibited and theological schools were closed. Great numbers of priests were charged with anti-Soviet conspiracy and were sent to prison or executed.

Russian Orthodox

However, in 1943 it was announced that Premier Stalin had approved plans for the reestablishment of all the early rights and privileges of the Russian orthodox church. It isn't clear just what developments have followed, but new dispatches from Moscow do tell us that this Christmas was widely observed in religious services.

This doesn't mean by a long shot that communism's efforts to kill religion have slackened, but merely that another line is being pursued. Perhaps the reds are following a policy which was indicated by one of America's leading communists in an address to the students of a theological seminary about the time of the Moscow announcement. The speaker said in substance:

"The communist party doesn't care anyone from membership because he is religious. However, it is best that you shouldn't labor under any misapprehension. You may be sure that once you have joined the party we shall do everything in our power to take your religion from you as being detrimental to progress."

Obsidians Hold Ski Meeting

CASCADE SUMMIT Jan. 8.—Thirty-four Eugene Obsidians held their annual meeting at Odell Summit lodge, including skiing, dancing and a smorgasbord in their activities. After spending the day at the ski tow, where they met many friends from Klamath Falls, the Obsidians adjourned to the lodge and continued festivities with a banquet.

Turn Those No-Longer-Used Articles Into Cash Now!

Herald and News Want Ads are inexpensive and bring quick results.

Winning Bids On USBR Land

Winning bidders on U. S. bureau of reclamation controlled agricultural lands which were recently advertised have been announced by Ray R. Best, district manager of the Klamath district.

O. S. Keyser, Chiloquith, was high bidder on the 1050-acre unit located on the east side of Upper Klamath lake, popularly known as "Hauks marsh." Keyser's bid was $576.

Item Location	Acreage	Winning Bidder and Address	Total Bid
1 Island near Olene	15	Frank Gabriel, Olene	$ 30.50
2 Upper Klam Lake	1199	Paul Wampler, Ft. Klamath	281.00
3, 4, 5, 6 Langell Valley	280	Lloyd Gift, Bonanza	21.00
On December 30th, the following bidders were successful in leasing the 20 tracts located in California approximately two miles south of Malin:
Lot No.	Acreage	Winning Bidder	Total Bid
1	110	J. I. Ott, Tulelake, Calif.	$1,431.10
2	89	A. G. Boyd, Tulelake, Calif.	534.00
3	89	Barney Mauch, Tulelake, Calif.	268.78
4, 5	181	Marvin Cross, Tulelake, Calif.	3,413.66
6	76	G. C. Mitchell, Merrill, Ore.	1,180.28
7, 14, 15	766	W. C. Dalton, Malin, Ore.	2,261.76
8, 13	152	N. C. Wilkinson, Tulelake, Calif.	1,319.36
9, 12	228	Felberto Lourenco, Malin, Ore.	1,531.65
10	70	F. J. McHenry, Tulelake, Calif.	160.50
11	114	H. L. Eaken, Malin, Ore.	150.48
16	490	Stanley Johnson, Malin, Ore.	1,303.40
17	153	Frank D. Buckingham, Malin, Ore.	1,023.71
18	142	E. H. Taylor, Malin, Ore.	309.70
19	110	Carol K. Patrello, Malin, Ore.	11.00
20	234	G. W. Osborne and Sons, Tulelake	925.20

The Doctor Says—

School Lunches Important

By EDWIN P. JOHNSON, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Most school children have their lunches away from home. Consequently, this meal has to be given a different kind of thought from meals served at home.

Many schools provide lunches in cafeterias or lunchrooms. In most of these, nutritious food is available. When lunch boxes are taken, the responsibility is on the mother. In either case, it is principally up to mothers, either to provide, in lunch boxes, the best foods or to teach their children how to choose the right ones in the cafeteria.

Milk, either put in a thermos bottle or purchased at school, should be included with every noon meal. Most students of nutrition believe that a growing child should drink often hard to get into a youngster in only two meals. Therefore, the noon milk is important.

The lunch should also supply some protein, which can be given easily in a lunch box in the form of a hard-boiled egg or egg, cheese or meat sandwich. Fruits and vegetables should also be included. If these are not available in the school lunch, they can be put in the lunch basket in such forms as lettuce or tomato. Carrots or fruits like apples, pears, peaches or oranges can be included in the lunch box.

There is little difficulty about starches or carbohydrates as a rule. These supply needed energy, and are readily available in the form of bread, or potato salad.

SWEETS, TOO

Many children have a sweet tooth, and if the youngster is not going to substitute a sweet for some other

Better Health!

$100 a Month for Life

The Golden Years Plan gives you:

1. Definite monthly income for life when you wish to retire.
2. Protection for family now.
3. Pays double for accidental death before retirement age.
4. Builds up large cash reserve.
5. Pays steady income if you are permanently disabled.

STANDARD INSURANCE Company
LYNN ROYCROFT
412 Main St.
JULIAN ABBOTT
Rt. 1, Box 923

Classified Ads Bring Results

Boyle's Column

Major Manufacturer Pops Up With Shopper Gadget

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK, Jan. 8 (AP)—An old manie here has figured out a way to defeat one of America's most troublesome smalltime racketeers—the woman shopper who takes out clothing on trial, wears it to a party tonight and returns it to the store tomorrow.

This man—it would be a man—is Walter W. Artzt, 43, a major manufacturer of infants' wear, whose hobby is inventing. He holds 11 patents in fields as various as dentistry and textiles.

One of his latest is a sealtag which a salesman can automatically attach to any garment taken out on trial.

Big Problem

This simple little gadget, he said, will help solve a $40,000,000 problem to the nation's department stores.

"It costs them as much to clean suits, dresses and fur coats which women now take out and wear with no intention of buying."

Telling The Editor

Letters printed here must not be more than 300 words in length, must be written legibly on ONE SIDE of the paper only and must be signed.

KLAMATH SNOW

The moon's pale glow. On the new fallen snow. Symbolizes a world at peace. When the grey squirrel sleeps. Where the wild deer leaps. Through the snow laden juniper trees. That like sentinels stand. In this mystic land. Till stirred by a western breeze. In the early morning.

Election Board Workers Asked

Election board workers for a term of two years will be appointed this month by the county court and persons desiring to serve on a board are asked to contact the county clerk's office.

Epidemic Of Colds Seen

A minor epidemic of colds is showing up in the Klamath basin, but thus far no cases of pneumonia or severe types of flu have been reported to the Klamath county health unit.

MASS SUICIDES

In Japan, a great wave of hara-kiri swept the islands when the common people were granted, for the first time, the privilege of meeting their ancestors in this fashion. In ancient times, only the upper classes were permitted such an honorable death, and the lower classes felt slighted.

RADIO PROGRAMS

THURSDAY EVE., JAN. 8

KFLW—1450 kc.

6:00 Sports Lineup*
6:15 Home Town News*
6:25 World News Summary*
6:30 Live Sweetened Show ABC
6:45
6:50
7:00 Ellery Queen ABC
7:10 The Clock ABC
8:00 Memorial Music*
8:15 Malcolm X ABC
8:30 Candid Microphone ABC
8:45
8:55
9:00 Our Children ABC
9:15
9:30 Earl Godwin ABC
9:45 Film, Coach of Year ABC
10:00 Stardust, Melodrama*
10:15
10:30 Freddy Martin Orch. ABC
11:00 News Summary*
11:05 Teletalk*
11:15
11:30
11:45

KFJI—1240 kc.

Gabriel Heatter MBS
6:15
6:30 Around Town*
6:45 Sports Round-up*
6:55 Dinner Dance*
7:00 Family Theatre MBS
7:10 Red Ryder MBS
7:15 Peris of Call*
7:20
7:30 Klam. Sports Album*
7:45 Kl. Community Players*
7:55 Billie Holiday MBS
8:00 Glenn Hardy News MBS
8:10 Hello from France*
8:15 Let's Dance*
8:20 News Scope MBS
8:30 Fulton Lewis Jr. MBS
8:40 C. S. Marina Corps*
8:45 Revere's*
8:50 Henry Strang's Orch. MBS
9:00
9:10 A Wallace Orch. MBS
9:15 News MBS

FRIDAY P. M., JAN. 9

KFLW—1450 kc.

12:00 News, Noon Edition*
12:15 Payless Sidewalk Show*
12:30 Paul Whiteman Club ABC
12:45
1:00 Claudia*
1:15
1:30 Merrill Time*
1:45 Treasury Band Show ABC
2:00 Sammy Kaye Serenade*
2:10 What's Doin' Ladies ABC
2:15
2:25 Buddy Twiss ABC
2:30 Brides and Groom ABC
2:45
2:50 Ladies Be Seated ABC
3:00
3:30 Salon Concert*
3:45
3:55
4:00 Headline Edition ABC
4:15 Requestful Yours*
4:30
4:45
5:00
5:15 Terry and the Pirates ABC
5:30 Jack Armstrong ABC
5:45

KFJI—1240 kc.

Name Tunes*
Headline News*
Your Dance Tunes*
Marcel & Livestock*
Afternoon Concert*
Let's Read Magazines*
Johnson Family MBS
Matinee*
New*
Hearts Desire MBS
Hearts Desire MBS
Marlin Block MBS
Red Hook 31 MBS
Rick's Request*
Let's Dance*
Organ Music*
Living With God*
Fulton Lewis Jr. MBS
Frank Hemingway MBS
Voice of Army*
Adventure Parade MBS
Hop Harrigan MBS
Super Man MBS
Captain Midnight MBS
Tom Mix MBS

FRIDAY A. M., JAN. 9

6:15 A. M. Serenade*
6:30
6:45 Farm Fare*
7:00 News, Breakfast Edition*
7:15 Rogers Roundup*
7:30 James Abbe ABC
7:45 Zeke Manners ABC
8:00 Breakfast Club ABC
8:10
8:15
8:25
8:30 Welcome Travelers ABC
8:45
9:00 Klark in Hollywood ABC
9:15
9:30 Glenn Drake ABC
9:45 Music of Manhattan*
10:00 My True Story ABC
10:15
10:30 Miniature Concert*
10:45 Stop and Shop*
11:15 The Listening Post ABC
11:30 Richard Leiber*
11:45 Film and Albert ABC
* KFLW Feature

FRIDAY EVE., JAN. 9

6:00 Sports Lineup*
6:15 Home Town News*
6:25 World News Summary*
6:30 The Sheriff ABC
6:45
6:55 Champion Roll Call ABC
7:00 Gillette Fights ABC
7:15
7:30
8:00 The Fat Man ABC
8:30 KITH vs. Grants Pass*
8:45
8:55
9:00
9:15 Famous Jury Trials ABC
9:45
10:00 Stardust Melodrama*
10:15
10:30 Freddy Martin Orch. ABC
11:00 News Summary*
11:05 Teletalk*
11:15
11:30
11:45
* KFLW Feature

HY-LO OIL BURNING SALAMANDERS

THE Modern Heater for BUILDING CONSTRUCTION MANUFACTURING PLANTS OUTDOOR CONSTRUCTION GRAIN WAREHOUSES POTATO CELLARS JOB OFFICES FOUNDRIES • GARAGES • SHOPS

IMMEDIATE DELIVERY

Loggers & Contractors MACHINERY CO.

732 South Sixth Phone 6222