

Rites Solemnized In Salem Church

Friends in Klamath Falls have received word of the wedding of Gladys Killian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Killian, formerly of this city and now of Salem, and Edwin Peters of Dallas, Ore.

The two exchanged vows at the Calvary Baptist church in Salem, November 30. Rev. Charles Darden read the solemnizing rites before a background of white tapers and white and yellow chrysanthemums.

Mrs. Saul Ellinger of Dallas sang, and the traditional wedding matches were played. Wilma Peters and Lenora Balzer, both of Dallas and cousins of the bride, lighted the candles preceding the rites.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a princess gown fashioned with a sweetheart neckline, long fitted sleeves and a short train. A tulle of seed pearls held her fingertip veil in place. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace. Her bouquet was of pink roses and white carnations.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Harold O'Connors of Dallas. Her frock was of gold taffeta. She carried a heart-shaped bouquet of white and gold chrysanthemums.

Bridesmaids were Barbara Kent and Mrs. Paul Gilmer, both of Salem. They wore like gowns of aqua taffeta, and carried bouquets similar to that of the matron of honor.

Best man was Arnold Peters of Eugene, brother of the bridegroom. Ushers were Elden Balzer and Homer Olfred, both of Dallas.

A reception was held in the church parlors. Mrs. George Brown of Yamhill and Mrs. William Best of Newberg, aunts of the bride, poured. Mrs. O'Connors served and Mrs. D. R. Peterson and Eunice Jackson, both of Salem, assisted.

The couple left immediately for Portland for a brief visit. For traveling, the bride wore a suit of turquoise shade with black accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Peters are now living in Grants Pass.

Martha and Shops

collection of early spring prints were a welcome sight to Martha this week, banishing some of the post-holiday lethargy... but, particularly, I want you to know about the outstanding David Roth originals... fashioned of exquisite fabrics... and their styling is quite unusual... extreme, yes, but tastefully so.

A black background print shows a marked contrast between waist and skirt... the former hewing to the simple shirtwaist style with glitter buttons down the front... while the extreme fullness of the almost circular skirt is concealed by a subtle draping. A buckle belt of black velvet adds another dresy touch.

From the same designer comes a pink and black slash print that's very appealing... too... like so many frocks these days, you have to actually put it on to fully appreciate it. A glossy patent belt and jet buttons, outlining a diagonal opening down the back, provide the only trim.

An assortment of moderately priced print numbers have navy, brown or black grounds overlaid by bright florals... fashioned with a variety of peplum effects or side draping... but there's a black and gold combination with a full, many-gored skirt... a white and black silk jersey set off by a wide corset belt of patent leather... and some two-pieces of quaintly patterned prints have a wide belt for a fitted torso effect.

New millinery creations provide another spirit-lifting note, at WHYTAL'S... in the Medical-Dental building, Main at Ninth. These first arrivals are mainly flower-bedecked halos... their vivid colorings muted by moiré veiling... perfect for dressing up that new spring suit.

where all of Helena Rubinstein's famous beauty preparations are an exclusive... is introducing the "estrogenic hormone cream" for night and day skin care... at a special value which saves you the regular price of one complete item.

Women who have tried estrogenic hormones know that they give the skin a fresher, softer texture... so 24-hour use of these modern-miracle substances should be even more effective in helping the skin to hold that younger-looking bloom.

Madame Rubinstein recommends that Estrogenic Hormone Cream be smoothed over the face at night, after cleansing... and the Estrogenic Hormone Oil on the throat. Then, every day spread a thin film of the oil over the skin before applying make-up... to counteract aging effects of wind and weather.

The Estrogenic Hormone Cream regularly sells for $3.50, and the Hormone Oil for $2.50... at CURRIN'S... in the friendly drug store at Ninth and Main... but now you can have both, a $6.00 value, for only $3.50 plus tax... which makes it the ideal time for getting started on this beauty treatment.

lingerie department is displaying an innovation in undies... the Blue Swan "Suspants"... designed for junior type figures to replace girdles or garter belts... and they look to Martha like a wonderful garment for the warm weather season... or for under slacks wear.

Suspants are fashioned of run-proof rayon... in a choice of white, pink, blue or black... and attached to the leg of each pantie, fore and aft, are loops for inserting garters, obtainable for each pair without extra charge. The waistline is fitted to prevent slipping, despite the pull between garters and hose.

Suspants are inexpensively priced... and each is packaged separately, in junior miss sizes from 9 to 17... at the lingerie counter in LAPOINTE'S... 507 Main.

The Candy Jar
received a variety of colorful and tasty bulk candies this week... including marshmallows which haven't been seen in bulk form for so long that Martha had forgotten they were ever obtainable that way.

Especially nice for parties are the Cream Mint Leaves... Lacom Pastes... Bridge Jellies (those miniature gum drops)... Banquet Jellies... all purchasable in any quantity... and an old favorite, Gimbals Small Blacks in cello bags or half-pound tins.

Toffee lovers will be interested in Riley's Variety Toffees... from England... available at the PELLI-CAN CANDY JAR, 722 Main... attractively packed in flat tins ranging from five ounces to a pound and a half.

downstairs store has four models available in the new and startlingly different Kaiser Dishwasher which has been attracting a lot of attention... and possibly of outstanding interest is the fact that it's jet propelled, with nothing but water supplying the energy that whirls the basket and sprays your dishes spotlessly clean.

Powered by water, the Kaiser requires no electrical connections... and operates silently, without vibration! Dishes are washed in five minutes, then spun dry... and the interior is self-cleaning and odorless. Simplicity of the motorless mechanism insures years of service without attention... and it cannot rust.

The standard and deluxe cabinet models... priced at $189.95 and $249.95 at RICKY'S JEWELERS, 700 Main... are designed for modern, streamlined kitchens... and one of the main advantages of the higher priced deluxe is a hydraulic lift that automatically raises the dish basket. The two chassis types, standard or deluxe, are built without the cabinet and can be fitted into drainboards of small kitchens... or waste space can be utilized.

Pine Street Market
is displaying more and more of the Monarch Foods, because of demand... and among new arrivals in these are four delicious jellies... Strawberry, Elderberry, Loganberry and Crabapple. I can't remember ever tasting jellied elderberry, but hear it's very flavorful.

Monarch's Double Sweet Pic-L-Joys are back again... first obtainable in a long time... and another shipment of the Old-Fashioned Sweetened Cucumber Pickles and Sweet Mixed Pickles has been received. For you who like to concoct Chinese dishes, the Market now has Bead Molasses, too... in small jars.

The supply of Maraschino Cherries... practically exhausted by holiday demand... has been replenished in several jar sizes... including the stemmed Cocktail Maraschino... and more of the Black Eye Peas are on the shelf... a southern dish which first appeared in tinned form last month, excellent with a couple dashes of onion salt and a bit of diced ham added.

Handy for quick lunches are the Ready 2 Serve Egg Noodles with Beef or with Chicken... forming a noticeable display at the front of PINE STREET MARKET... the 8 and H Green Stamp grocery at the corner of Seventh and Pine.

Belle's Beauty Salon
located in suite 214 of the Stewart-Drew building... formerly known for many years as the Pinley Beauty shop... is now equipped for giving the Helene Curtis Supersonic curl... one of the most modern methods in permanent waving and one of the first machines of this type to be used here.

Belle Johnson, new owner of the salon, told Martha that she's exceptionally pleased with the beautifully soft and natural looking waves the Supersonic produces... because there's no guesswork. For your information, the hair is wrapped the same as for cold waving, but the hooded cap is attached to a radio-like machine which carefully controls the entire processing. For further information or appointments, call 6277.

produced a collection of new spring suits for Martha's admiration that are something to rave about... especially the color combinations and fabrics. And I'm not exaggerating one whit when I state that they look much more expensive than they're priced!

Among these are Glen plaids, worsted stripes, bamboo plaids and the hard-finish menswear fabrics... mostly in light shades, animated by a bright stripe from which can be carried out attractive costume effects.

One Glen plaid of light gray and white, with a touch of deep pink, is designed with a full ballerina skirt and short, fitted jacket... while another of similar fabric has a boxy jacket topping a straight skirt.

Intriguing and different are the various pocket treatments which add a lot to their appearance... and the bamboo plaid in black and white uses black plaid for a fetching trim. Early spring numbers are arriving at LONG'S... 719 Main... practically every day... but you really should see these inspirational suits before they're gone.
